Says Ashland Bound to Win

Eagle Grove, Ia., Jan. 22, 1916.

Editor Tidings: Ashland is bound to win. Given all the wonderful natural advantages that you have in and about your city, with the fine spirit of co-operation of all her loyal citizens, a continuation of the publicity department, there will come to you in the near future great and abiding rewards. While in New England last summer I met many who had learned of Ashland through the publicity department, who were anxious to gain further information. I was glad that I had many of your local views with me. Many are expecting to visit the coast and will visit Ashland. Here in the central west many are planning the western trip and will include your city. I appreciate what is being done and those that are leading out for a bigger and better Ashland. I trust your publicity department will be sustained, for it is going to bring splendid results.

I thank you for your paper and the information it gives of conditions, and send it on to others that are interested in Ashland and Southern Oregon.
