Big Feature Films Every Evening

The next four days at the Vining theatre are big days, every one with attractions which should attract big crowds.

Tonight

This Thursday evening a Fox feature, "The Plunderer," starring William Farnum, is guaranteed to provide thrills for the most blasé. William Farnum in a single-handed fight whips twenty enraged miners in a fight which is said to out-thrill anything of the kind ever put on the screen. The story is laid in Alaska, and rivals the "Spillers" in hot-blooded action.

Friday

Friday night only a Paramount release "The Yankee Girl" stars Miss Blanche Ring in a stirring love drama of South American intrigue, laid in the tropics.

The plot revolves around the methods which the breezy Yankee girl employs in gaining valuable copper mines from the president of a Latin-American republic, and frustrating the wily plotting of rival interests. A glass of champagne too much finally settles the copper feud, and the American girl and her lover—but then to tell it all would spoil it.

Saturday and Sunday

The Triangle features which have been released to small cities only for two weeks and which more than pleased the audiences at the Vining last Saturday night, promise to make Triangle nights the biggest of the week at the Vining.

The Triangle attractions for Saturday and Sunday make a very well-balanced program combining "Old Heidelberg" a five-part drama of German student university life and royal intrigue, and a master comedy starring Eddie Foy and the seven little Foyes, in "A Favorite Fool."

The cast of "Old Heidelberg" is headed by Dorothy Gish and Wallace Reid.

"Old Heidelberg" in its plot is just a simple little story of how a certain Prince Karl, heir apparent of a German principality, fell in love with an inkeeper's pretty niece in Heidelberg, where he pursued his studies, and how, when he became the reigning prince, he was obliged to give up the young woman and marry for reasons of state a princess whom he didn't like. Romance, atmosphere and sentiment characterize the story rather than the big emotional note. But the screen version offers unlimited spectacular possibilities. Mr. Griffith and his director are said to have taken full advantage of them.

Among the striking scenes are those showing the turmoil when war is about to be declared, the assemblage of the mobs, the fight between angry citizens and troops and, in a "cutback," war itself, implacable and terrible, killing its hundreds and thousands and bringing widespread desolation.

Those who admire Griffith's wonderful battle pictures in "The Birth of a Nation" will find here, it is said, the same sort of pictorial beauty and dramatic effectiveness.

The comedy "A Favorite Fool" should prove the best ever screened. Nearly everyone has seen the Foyes, and their mere presence in the feature assures its success from a laugh standpoint. The plot of the comedy, for this is a comedy which, strange to say, has a plot, is laid in a circus and is a bit of circus life.

In order that those who will attend the basketball game Saturday may have an opportunity to see this exceptional bill, Manager Bergner wired for permission to hold it over Sunday night and it will be shown Sunday as well as Saturday.

Died

John Charles Miller died at his residence, 611 Beach street, last Thursday night, in his 79th year. He was a native of the Province of Ontario, Canada, but the major portion of his life was passed in the central west. He came to Ashland nine years ago. Although a jeweler by trade, he confined his labor here to garden and orchard pursuits. Funeral services were held at the family residence on Saturday, conducted by Rev. A. A. Blackstone, of the Baptist church. Interment was in Mountain View cemetery. Deceased leaves a wife, who is a sister of Mrs. W. H. Gowdy. He also leaves a son and daughter by a former marriage, the former living in Iowa and the latter in Indiana.

Died

Mrs. Rachael J. Baines died at her home on Oak street Tuesday morning at the age of fifty-four years, three months and sixteen days. She is survived by her husband, and a daughter. Funeral services were held from the residence Wednesday afternoon, interment in Mountain View cemetery.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all those who so kindly assisted in the sickness and burial of our husband and brother.

John H. Carlin For Prosecuting Att'y

In another column will be found the announcement of John H. Carlin for prosecuting attorney. He is senior partner in the law firm of Carlin & Taylor, at Medford, and has been a resident of the county for eight years. Mr. Carlin owns a ranch near Central Point and is a large taxpayer. He is an officer in the Taxpayers League, a prominent Elk, a Mason, and is a member of the Ashland Shrine.

Mr. Carlin served Jackson county as representative in the legislature four years ago and made a splendid record. He drafted a bill to reinstate Ashland normal and was the author of the following laws:

Requiring banks to pay 2 per cent on county funds.

The budget law, requiring preparation and publication of proposed county levies.

The law regulating commission merchants, for investigation of mineral resources of the state, and other measures in the interest of taxpayers.

He is able, well qualified and popular, and should be nominated and elected may be depended upon to administer the office in favor of law and order and in the interest of taxpayers.

"The Only Girl" which is to be seen at the Page theatre, Medford, Friday, March 10, is a musical comedy, the book and lyrics of which are by Henry Blossom, with music by Victor Herbert. It is produced under the management of Joe Weber and under the stage direction of Fred G. Latham.

Its initial presentation in New York city was given at the 39th Street theatre, where it scored an instantaneous hit, so great indeed, that it was shortly moved to the Lyric theatre, a larger house, in which it ran throughout the season, ending only when the summer months put an end to things theatrical in the big city.

It was declared by critics to form a new type of musical comedy in that it possessed a well told story and was truly a comedy with music. In presenting it on tour, Mr. Weber will offer a New York cast, which includes Edna Munsey, Cecilia Novasio, Elsie Baird, Regina Richards, Genevieve Houghton, Ann Walker, Franklyn Farnum, Russell Tenion, Frank Coombs, Thomas Burton and Alfred Fisher, and special orchestra.

National Salmon Day March 10

Especially in Oregon is the salmon industry of particular interest. Not only does this industry represent a substantial portion of the state's financial industry, but it also plays a prominent part in advertising our state, due to the unusual merit of the Oregon product. The Oregon salmon industry represents $6,500,000 annually.

Friday, March 10, 1916, has been set aside as National Salmon Day. We are in hopes all commercial organizations, newspapers, hotels, restaurants and clubs will feature this on that day in every way possible. Special menus could be provided; it would be made a part of regular circulars; correspondence could be post-scripted with short, concise quotations calling attention to this date, and in various ways could this industry be given deserved prominence.

The Farmers' Irrigation Company power site at Hood River is to be developed.

Myrtle Blakeley For Treasurer

In another column will be found the announcement of Miss Myrtle Blakeley as a candidate on the republican ticket for county treasurer. Her qualifications are set forth in her announcement. Her candidacy appeals to the Tidings. She says she will do the work herself if elected, and save the expense of a deputy county treasurer. That sounds good. It expresses willingness to earn the salary and has the true ring of economy. Miss Blakeley is efficient, experienced, capable and will prove a strong candidate. She is a good politician as well, in sending the announcement for publication she says: "Find check enclosed," the first requisite to the good graces of a newspaper. And uncommon it is as well, for most of the candidates say "enclosed find announcement, send the bill," which does not appeal to the newspaper, because the newspapers have handled so many of them where the "check" was never forthcoming, and never, never came.

Are we for Myrtle Blakeley? Well, we guess yes.

Spring Fever Gives Boys Wanderlust

The spring weather last week got into the blood of a couple of young Ashland boys and the "wanderlust" sent them out into the world, presumably to make their fortune. The lads, Willie Faulk and the little Phillips boy, both about 11 years old, had been playing "hookey" from school so persistently as to be warned by the juvenile authorities, and one fine morning when the desire to go fishing or on some other boyish expedition got the better of their desire for schooling, they decided to keep right on going. Their parents became worried and all of the police in the county were on the watch for them. They were rounded up at Medford Thursday and brought to their Ashland homes by Juvenile Officer Gay.

Jas. M. Cronemiller For Treasurer

The announcement of Jas. M. Cronemiller as a candidate for county treasurer on the republican ticket appears in this issue in the proper column. Mr. Cronemiller is well known by the electorate in Jackson county. He filled the same office acceptably before. He says he will, if elected, conduct the office in an efficient, honest and businesslike manner.

Portland Laborers Are in Demand

Portland Telegram:
Logging camps, mills and railway maintenance crews are facing a serious problem in securing men. If one-half of the industries that are counting on starting work, do start, there will be a shortage in available men. The number of unemployed men in Portland has diminished almost half during the last three weeks. Many skilled laborers are still out of employment, but they will soon have work. Three months ago laborers were almost begging employers for work. Now conditions have reversed. Most of the unemployed married men who could leave the city have secured positions.

Medford Men Form New Mining Town

Copper is to be the name of a new town in Siskiyou county, located on the Klamath river. Articles of incorporation were filed last week with County Clerk Nelson by the St. Albans Mining and Milling Company, whose principal place of business will be at the new town.

The promoters are W. L. McCraw, L. B. Cameron, T. Henry Callahan, W. A. Callahan and A. L. Hill, all of Medford.

Committee Meets With Success

The committee which has the dedication celebration in charge spent Tuesday soliciting financial backing among the business men of the town, meeting with ready co-operation from those approached. The committee will go out again at the earliest opportunity. Most of the lodges and organizations of the town voted their co-operation and backing for the committee, and prospects for a lively celebration are growing bright.

Lyric Theatre Has Good Bills

Thursday and Friday the Lyric Theatre, Ashland's popular low-price movie house, presents a big combination show of three feature pictures—"Necklace of Pearls," "The Clean-Up" and "His Wolfish Ways." The first two thrilling dramas and the third a screaming Keystone comedy. On Saturday the Lyric has billed a thrilling railroad film, "The Girl and the Game." This is a picture no rail-roader should miss. Full of thrills from start to finish, some of the most daring features ever filmed.

J. B. Coleman For Assessor

In another column J. B. Coleman of Talent announces his candidacy for the office of county assessor, subject to the republican primaries. Mr. Coleman is peculiarly fitted for the position of assessor, by reason of his familiarity with land values in Jackson county. He was born in the county forty years ago and has lived on a ranch most of the time. For six years he served as rural mail carrier, from which position he resigned to take an active half interest in the Talent Mercantile Company, where he has remained ever since. Mr. Coleman is well and favorably known and his host of friends will be glad of the opportunity to support him for assessor.
