Young Folks Stepping Party. This coming Saturday evening the younger set will make merry at another of the jolly Memorial hall dances which have become so popular with the high school set.

Pupils' Recital. Mrs. J. R. Robertson will give a pupils' recital Saturday evening at 7:30 in the Sunday school room of the Presbyterian church. All friends of the pupils are invited and anyone especially interested.

Joint Musical Recital. The music pupils of Miss Mary Young will give a novel musical next Monday evening in the parlors of the Methodist church. Two of the pupils of Mrs. Strickland will also take part. The public is cordially invited to be present.

One Year. Postmaster Kaiser thought it befitting that the anniversary of his acceptance of the postmaster position in the Ashland office should not go by unnoticed and banqueted the post-office force upon elder and doughnuts last Friday. Miss Lydia McCull, one of the force who is at present visiting in Klamath Falls, was remembered with a doughnut sent through the medium of parcels post.

Cards. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Stevenson entertained at a 500 party Wednesday evening at the Stevenson residence. Following a pleasant evening at cards, a dainty lunch was served. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clark Bush, Misses Lucile and Nellie Snyder, Vivian Greer, and Messrs. John Enders, Wilfred Carr and Harvey Ling.

In Honor of Prof. Gilmore. Prof. Henry T. Gilmore was the guest of honor at an informal gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dill last Thursday evening. The event was in commemoration of Mr. Gilmore's 77th birthday anniversary. The merry crowd parted at a late hour, being very appreciative of the courtesy and good time afforded them by their genial host and hostess, who are so readily making staunch friends of many Ashlanders.

Revivalists Coming. Rev. Frank Mathis, evangelist now engaged in a series of meetings with great success at Klamath Falls, and who recently conducted a five-week's meeting at Medford with satisfaction to all the churches, will begin meetings here in the Chautauqua building on Good Friday evening, April 21. The churches of Ashland are making elaborate preparations for the meeting and are now engaged in holding Cottage Prayer meetings throughout the city.

Mrs. Simons will sell millinery at cost Thursday and Friday of this week. Come and get bargains.

Auxiliary May Ball. The Auxiliary Club's May ball, which will be held at the Natatorium on the evening of May 5, promises to be quite an auspicious affair. Mrs. Henry Provost is at the head of the committee in charge. Loveland's orchestra will provide music. Committees are headed as follows: Mrs. Sam McNair, sewing; Mrs. Tracy, refreshments; Mrs. Sylvan Provost, decorating; Mrs. Boslough, hall and music; Mrs. Greive, floor; Mrs. A. H. Pracht and Miss Lillian Patterson, finance and advertising.

Wednesday Afternoon Club. A very enjoyable time was had yesterday afternoon by the Wednesday Afternoon Club at the home of Mrs. Bert R. Greer. This meeting being the beginning of a new year for the club, the president appointed new committees for the different departments of work. Business being dispensed with, Miss Priscilla Carnahan, accompanied by her sister, Miss Gladys, sang two lovely solos in her most delightful manner. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Andrews, Mrs. Loomis, Mrs. Gorham and the Misses Greer. Visitors were Mrs. Gard, Mrs. Herrick, Mrs. Merrill, Mrs. T. J. Greer, Mrs. Connor, Mrs. Cusick, Mrs. Mary Dunn, Mrs. Judge Dunn, Mrs. H. H. Gillette, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. J. P. Dodge, Mrs. Louis Dodge and Miss Doris Bagley.

Medford Moose Visit. A jolly herd of Medford Moose, under the leadership of Dictator Geo. Herbert, visited the Ashland lodge Monday evening on the occasion of installation of officers of the latter. After the business of the session, the large attendance of members of the two lodges of the Loyal Order of Moose enjoyed a big time, beginning with a banquet, one of those sumptuous affairs for which Ashland is noted and concluded with a dance of more than usual interest and gaiety. Among those who trailed up from Medford to the city of Lithia and good cheer were Dictator Geo. Herbert, George Averill and wife, Coll Johnson and wife, Frank McLoughlin and wife, A. B. Hammond and wife, Florence Lonsberry, Millie Slinger, Sadie Whitman, Shorty Conrad, Jack Stevens and Charlie Bowson.

Auxiliary Club. Mrs. L. J. Orres and Mrs. J. M. Miller were hostesses at a most delightful affair at the Auxiliary Club's new home in Chautauqua hall last Tuesday evening. An Easter egg hunt provided much amusement and the Easter idea of bunnies and cotton chickens was carried out in the table decorations. Salad, hot rolls and coffee were served. Medaunes Grisez, Orres, Greive and A. H. Pracht were appointed to represent the club at the meeting of the Southern Oregon Federation which will be held in the Auxiliary hall on April 26, 27 and 28. Miss Lillian Patterson will have charge of the decoration of the hall for the Federation meet. Big delegations are coming from all the southern Oregon cities, and any citizens willing to entertain guests should communicate with the club president.

Bringing Up Father. "Father" was brought up at the Vining Theatre Monday night in one of the snappiest and most generally enjoyable of musical comedies which has visited Ashland. The comedy was new, clean and good, the music new and snappy, the girls good looking and the costumes worth seeing. The house which greeted the show was rather small, but those who were there made up in appreciation that which they lacked in numbers. Father was an exact portrayal of the cartoon-character, mother was a little too portly, the butler was a scream and the rest of the cast all fitted in well. The comedy had more of a plot than most musical comedies.

CONCERT
By Eight-Piece Orchestra

Forecasts of the Vining Screen

Thursday. Tonight at the Vining comes Katherine Kaelred with House Peters in a New York society picture in which is mingled all of the oriental mysticism of a east Russian seeress. The Vining Theatre orchestra plays a concert preceding the picture and plays special orchestration written for the picture and which was sent with the film, during the entire first show. A Keystone thriller comedy with Fred Mace in the stellar role winds up the program. "Crooked to the End" is some sensation even for a Keystone.

Friday. Friday evening's picture is one which we will not attempt to describe but will content ourselves with the plain statement of a Portland manager, "It is the best release of the year." This picture is proclaimed by all who have seen it (several Ashlanders have seen it in Portland) to be simply wonderful. Several of Manager Bergner's Portland friends have written him to be sure to get the picture and telling him that he could not overpraise it. Fanny Ward in "The Cheat" is one of the great successes of the screen. It is a drama of society, and a money-mad young woman who, like the fly, followed pleasure until she found she was in the spider's net. In dramatic suspense and intensity the play is unsurpassed. Miss Ward is supported in this Paramount picture by an exceptionally strong cast.

Saturday. Saturday's program rounds out the biggest week of attractions which have been offered on the Vining screen. Two Triangle productions, a Mexican drama, "The Penitents," and a Keystone comedy, "The Hunt," make up Saturday's bill. "The Penitents," in which Orrin Johnson stars with Seena Owen in support, is a thrilling story of intrigue and love laid in New Mexico two centuries ago when a fanatical religious society known as the Penitentes flourished. "The Hunt" is a comedy of social life, above and below stairs, and is a real Keystone comedy of inimitable jollity.

Sunday. The regular Sunday evening orchestra concerts precedes a feature production which should pack the Vining Theatre, Robert Warwick in a film adaptation of the great stage success, "The Man of the Hour." The plot of the story is built around the political machinery and machinations of a New York political "gang" and their attempts to corrupt the mayor. Robert Warwick. Robert Warwick's reputation assures the Vining patrons of a play of exceptional strength.
