High School Notes

By JOHN ANDERSON

The evangelists, Mathes and Vessey, visited the school again Tuesday. The object of their visit was to make arrangements for the rally which was to be held at the Chautauqua building that evening. Incidentally Mr. Vessey sang to the accompaniment of a ukelele played by himself. His first selection was "Aloha." The next song was to be a Sunday school song, he said. It was a real "Sunday school song," too—he had to pause now and then to let the laughter die down enough for him to be heard. His last selection was "A Song About the Suwanee River." It kept pace with the "Sunday school song." Every one wanted some more, but he did not seem to want to sing more just then. When he finished Mr. Mathes announced that the students were to meet at the library and go to the Chautauqua in a body. Professor Moore appointed several pupils to help organize the expedition.

A student body meeting was held last Tuesday, the object of which was to hear the reports from music, athletics and finances, and also to nominate officers for the next year. Milton Fraley in the chair, Margaret Ames secretary. The music report was in regard to "Carmen." The net proceeds were $58.61. Of this amount, $35 was paid on the victrola. This payment causes the machine to belong entirely to the school now. Elbert Farlow, the assistant treasurer, was not present, so the financial report could not be given. Coach Hutchinson next gave an itemized report of athletics. He said that about $1,400 had been taken in at the games this year. This is pretty good considering that only 25 cents was charged except at the Thanksgiving game, when the admission was only 35 cents. After the reports were disposed of nominations were made of the following officers: For student body president, Leslie Cunningham and Leith Abbott; for senior vice-president, La Verne Buck; for junior vice-president, Clarence Spencer, Joseph Hanratty and Paul Winters; for sophomore vice, William McMillan; for freshman vice, Ira Pitman, William Dean, William Allen, James Porter, Hugo Dale and Emerson Esterling; for secretary, Alta Farmer and Charlotte Chappelle; for treasurer, Fred Engle; for editor of the annual, Leith Abbott. The election is to be held Monday.

The "Rogue" is a fine book this year, by far the most artistic annual that has ever been put out by the high school. It is not as large as some other years, but there is plenty in it, and anyway there are no advertisements in it to take up room. Only 200 copies were printed, and those were sold the first day of sale. This is also a record. Never before have they been sold so quickly. Wednesday afternoon, when the annuals came out, everyone visible around the school was either carrying one under his arm or had his face hid in one. The usual anti-reading-annuals-in-school act was proclaimed.

The music class has been guessing the names of records this week. They wrote descriptions of the records some time ago, and this work was to see how much they remembered of this work. Most of them seemed to have very good memories. They know most of the records by heart. A great many geniuses are being developed in the class and much artistic temperament is displayed. When asked what record they wanted played, the answer is usually "The Hawaiian record."

The rain Friday spoiled two picnics. The rooks and sophomores had both planned to eat outside Friday night. It is too bad that the elements had to step in and spoil all of the fun. However, I suppose they will have just as much fun this week as they would have had last. The sophomores, barring all accidents such as a rain, are to have their picnic Tuesday evening.

The tennis doubles that were put off last spring to be played in the fall, and in the fall again put off, were at last finished last week. The reason that they were not finished in the spring was that the weather was bad. Last fall when they were to be played no entries were made. They began on Monday, Abbott and Beeson playing Summers and Badger. The match went to the latter team with a score of 6-4 and 6-3. On Tuesday two matches were held, one at 3:15 and the other at 4 o'clock. In the first Buck and Frohbach competed with Harrell and Furry, the score going to the second team 6-5 and 6-4. The second match of the day was between Summers and Badger, and Bentley and Gregg. This one went to Bentley and Gregg, 6-2 and 8-6. The finals were played Wednesday noon between Bentley and Gregg, and Harrell and Furry, the latter team winning the tennis racquets, 7-5 and 9-7. There were only enough entries from the girls for one game, so their preliminaries and finals were all played in one match. The contestants were Ames and Vondersluis, and Hodgson and Smith. The score went to the former, 2-6, 6-2 and 7-5. Each of the winners will get a tennis racket. It might be worth mentioning that three of these racquets will go out of town. "Doc" Furry lives in Phoenix and the winners of the girls' doubles live in Talent. Anna Smith of the other girls' team also lives in Talent. The playing was good in all the matches. Much improvement is to be noted over last year's playing. In fact, there is more interest displayed in the school than ever before. Every one plays tennis. If the interest keeps up it is possible that the school board might put in some more courts. I think all the school would thank them for doing so.

Next Friday three men will probably go to Eugene to the interscholastic meet. It is not really decided yet which will get the trip, but in all probability Abbott and Slack will get two of the round-trip tickets. This meet is held at the U. of O. every year. It is between the high schools of the state and usually determines state championship in track.

The senior examinations were held Friday. A great deal of test paper must have been wasted on that fateful day, if all did as one boy. He said he wrote on his exam from 8 to 12 o'clock. The exams for the rest of the school are to be held on Friday afternoon, all day Monday, and Tuesday morning.

The art pupils are gradually taking their pictures home and the art room is beginning to look bare.

Professor Briscoe has been out visiting schools this week, looking for prospective pupils. He talked at the Soda Springs, Nell Creek and Bellevue schools.

Alice Becroft is substituting in the sixth A at the East Side school this week.

Horace Reno, a former student in the high school, visited the school Thursday afternoon and played several selections on his cello. He has become quite an accomplished cellist since he left here last fall. Miss Harris payed his accompaniment and also sang a solo to which he played a cello obbligato.

Obituary

On Sunday at 2:30 p. m. occurred the funeral of John Webster, who died Friday, May 5, 1915, at Phoenix, Oregon, at the age of 87 years. Deceased was a native of England, coming to this country from Leeds, near Yorkshire, in 1897. He had made his home with his son, Dr. J. B. Webster, who came to this valley from Baltimore, Md., seven years ago. Until within a few days of his death deceased enjoyed excellent health. His decline was very gradual and his death peaceful. Dr. Gordon McCracken, of Ashland, a classmate of Dr. Webster, attended the patient in his last illness. The funeral services were conducted by Dr. Bailey, of Phoenix, and the musical program was rendered by the Phoenix quartet. Before leaving the house two numbers, "This is a Land of Pure Delight," and Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar," were beautifully rendered by the quartet and the impressive church service was closed with the hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee". The attendance was large and the many floral offerings bore silent witness of the high regard and esteem in which the deceased was held. There is left to mourn his loss besides Dr. J. B. Webster of Phoenix, a daughter, Mrs. E. A. Randall, formerly of Nova Scotia, but at present in London, England, where she recently went to attend a course of lectures preparatory to taking up Red Cross work at the front. Dr. Randall will join the dental department while Mrs. Randall will assume the duties of a Red Cross nurse.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

HOME-COMING.

(By Mary O. Carey.)
When the shades of night are falling,
Birdies to their mates are calling;
Everything seems weary, longing for rest,
Seems daylight is no longer cheery,
Since so much of life's grown weary.
Softly, softly, through the gloaming,
Coming home, no longer roaming,
Everything that shelter seeks at night,
Seems there is no place at evening time
Like the dear familiar home clime.
Though all things are prone to wander,
Seeking food, or pastime yonder,
In some unfamiliar place,
Yet when shades of night come stealing,
Then there comes that home love feeling.
So 'twill be when life is closing,
Then we will long to be reposing
In that heav'n of peaceful rest,
When the evening of life grows late
Will our Saviour open the gate?
