Mrs. Ed White, accompanied by her friend, Mrs. Whitney, visited Medford friends last week.

W. P. Wetherell and wife of Rogue River were visitors in the city the first of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Keene spent Friday evening in Medford, being dinner guests of Gus Rowden of Portland.

S. C. Corbett and wife have rented their home on Seventh street and have moved to Central Point for a time.

Mrs. Bessie Anderson and son, Ed Boling, of Rogue River arrived last Tuesday for a several days' visit with friends.

Miss Thelma Throne has closed her school in the Murphy district. Her Ashland friends are glad to have her back in town.

All of the cases taken from the Ashland police court to the circuit court were dismissed. Not a single conviction was secured.

Drs. Jarvis and Boslough will furnish a hospital, completely equipped, also a nurse, during the three days of the Celebration and Roundup.

A recently recorded real estate deal was that in which R. J. Smith sold lots in the Railroad addition to Ashland to M. C. Bressler for $500.

Mrs. Lafferty and children, who reside on the corner of Eighth and B streets, expect soon to move to Weed, where Mr. Lafferty is employed.

Father Hugolinus of San Francisco, head of the Franciscan order throughout the Pacific coast territory, was visiting Father Dolphin of the local Catholic church on Wednesday.

Ross Gulley, who was formerly an Ashland resident, graduated from the high school at Sunnyside, Wash., this year. His old friends here wish for him all kinds of success as the years come and go.

Ralph Harris and John Finneran returned last Friday from Hilt, Cal., where they spent a few days investigating the labor conditions. They expect to go to work at Weed in the near future.

John Anderson, Jack Jones and Leslie Cunningham returned Friday from a week's fishing trip near Deadwood in Dead Indian, and report a glorious time despite the fact that it snowed all the last three days of their stay.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hoy from Woodstock, Ill., and Mrs. D. W. Stone of Central Point were guests at the home of Mrs. Bagley last Thursday and again Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Hoy were old friends of Mrs. Bagley's in the east.

Blue serges are going fast. I still have a good supply of the fast colors and at the old prices, but you better hurry. Orres.

Miss Alice McConnell visited Medford friends over the week-end.

Johnson the jeweler for fine watch work. 103-tf

H. T. Elmore's wife and family arrived last week from Augusta, Me.

Charles Haight visited his sons over in Little Shasta valley last week.

Manager J. W. Dobbins of the Hotel Oregon was a visitor to Medford Saturday.

G. W. Scott arrived Saturday from Portland to look after business interests in the city.

George E. Lunsberg of Grants Pass was among the business visitors to the city Friday.

Mrs. Ralph Scott returned to Portland Tuesday after a visit at the home of Mrs. C. W. Klum.

Dr. Moore and wife returned to Portland Friday after a several days' visit with relatives in Ashland.

F. J. Berger, ex-mayor of Eugene, has been a business visitor in the city of late, looking after property interests.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bailey and daughter Elna returned Saturday from a ten days' outing near the Cove ranch.

Miss Minnie Reeves of Happy Camp arrived in Ashland last Tuesday to spend several days visiting friends.

Hobb Deuel, Ben Plymale and Leon Speck were among the Medford young men who were up for the band dance Friday evening.

J. K. McWilliams returned Friday from Klamath county, where he has been employed on the government reclamation work.

The blight which was prevalent in the upper valley two years ago and to a great extent last year is well under control this year.

Mrs. Walter Herndon and son Bobbie have returned to Springfield after a visit with relatives here in the Beaver and Yockey families.

Harold Frohbach left last week for Los Angeles, from whence he will proceed to Wisconsin, where he will attend school next winter.

C. E. Bassett of the government Bureau of Markets is addressing a goodly sized gathering of fruitmen in the Commercial Club rooms this afternoon.

We will have a complete new stock of midsummer hats and trimmings to be on display on and after Saturday, June 3. Come and see the latest styles. Mrs. Simons' Millinery. 2-2t

Mrs. J. W. Reynolds, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. M. Wagner, on Oak street, returned Saturday to her home at Fort Jones, in Siskiyou county, California.

Fish Warden Sam Sandry, who recently completed a new fishway at Ament dam, says the fish are coming up the river thicker than for years and predicts a big year for fly fishing.

The Siskiyou grade was a favorite drive for motorists of the city and valley Sunday. Several auto loads drove over to Hornbrook for the ball game between Medford and Hornbrook.

A. J. Bledsal and wife of Portland arrived in Ashland Thursday and have rented a house for the summer. Mr. Bledsal says a number of Portlanders will spend their summer vacation in Ashland.

The colony of Japanese who were imported into the valley to do the hand labor in the sugar beet fields are kept busy in the fields of the lower valley. The beets are said to be in fine shape and promise a heavy crop.

A. W. Plympton, delivering engineer for the American La France Auto Fire Truck Company, was in Ashland Friday and Saturday on his annual trip of inspection of the trucks sold by the company. He gave the Ashland truck a good overhauling and was well astisfied with the shape he found it in.

E. E. Gall and wife came in from Belleview to trade with our merchants last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jud V. Miller left this morning for a short visit with friends and relatives at Klamath Falls.

Mrs. Hartley is having her Nob Hill residence repainted and other improvements added about the place.

Mrs. Bob Fitzsimmons, converted opera singer, will tell her life story, subject "The Winning Fight," at the Methodist church this evening at 8 o'clock. She is the wife of ex-Champion Bob Fitzsimmons.

LADIES OF ASHLAND! Collect your old shoes ready for shipment Friday, June 2. Keep separate from rags. Civic Club will collect them in the morning. Tie up in gunnysack and leave on front porch. 2-2t

The public library will be closed all day Tuesday, Decoration Day. Heretofore the library has always remained open on Memorial Day, but it being a legal holiday the libraries of the state will all close this year.

Dr. Lanse Briscoe, son of Superintendent of Schools G. W. Briscoe, arrived last week from Seaside, Ore., where he has been located for the past several months. He will make a visit of indefinite length in the city.

"Dutch" Emery, veteran sign painter, is putting a many-lettered sign on the window of the Hotel Oregon office room which is to be occupied by the Wells-Fargo Express Company. The sign is a most artistic piece of work.

Hornbrook Leader: Mrs. C. E. Pratt entertained at dinner May 20 Rev. H. O. Edson and wife, their daughters, Mesdames Tennant and Stout, and children, and Mrs. A. Marske and son Albert of Ashland, who are her guests.

Fred Buchtel, state public service commissioner, has directed district sealers of weights and measures to confiscate all berry boxes which do not measure up to requirements under the Oregon law. California shippers are said to be the chief offenders in this respect.

Mrs. Allie Rhodes, who lives near the normal buildings near here, lately heard from her sister, Mrs. Bishop, of Texas, that she had not heard from before for thirty years. The long-lost sister was so unfortunate as to lose her husband by Mexicans shooting about a week before writing Mrs. Rhodes.

Prof. A. C. Crews, who has been teaching in Hood River during the past year, arrived Wednesday with his mother, Mrs. G. W. Crews, to spend the summer in Ashland. Mrs. Crews and children arrived several days ago, Mr. Crews remaining at Grants Pass for a visit with Prof. H. H. Wardrip and other friends.

Mrs. Eula Edwards and daughter of Spokane, Wash., surprised Mrs. F. M. Lynch Sunday by appearing at her door. The ladies were formerly dear friends and hadn't seen each other for fourteen or fifteen years, and Mrs. Lynch didn't know they were anywhere in this country. They are now located at Medford, where they hope to make a permanent home.

The Hornbrook Leader in a recent issue says: "The S. P. Company may cancel passenger trains, but, gee whiz! it is doing an immense business in freight traffic. Long 'goods' trains pass through Hornbrook at intervals day and night. The northbound freights as a rule are pulled up the Siskiyou grade by five 130,000-ton engines—two in front and three in tandem two-thirds back. It is a sight to see one of these long freight trains pull out of this station on its way to Ashland."

Have your suit tailored to your measure. $15 and up at Orres' Tailor Shop.

Central Point Herald: Mrs. Emma Bebb, who suffered a fractured skull and broken ankle in an auto accident Monday evening of last week, was removed from the Sacred Heart hospital at Medford to her home in this city Wednesday afternoon. She is convalescing very satisfactorily and her physicians think all danger is past. Owing to her weakened nervous system the doctors request that visitors be not allowed for some time yet.

A party of Ashland boys who camped out in the vicinity of Deadwood last week tried to make it over to Lake of the Woods, but ran into three feet of snow on the mountain two mles this side of the Lake and did not make it. Coach Hutchison and Don Lowe, who left for Crater Lake a few days before, wrote from Pelican Bay advising the other party not to try to get to Lake of the Woods, saying they had had a very hard trip.

No more smudging this year. Housewives of Ashland will not have the cause to offer up thanks which their sisters down at Medford have. By the time the smudge smoke had blown up to Ashland it had lost most of its carbon. In Medford during the smudging days a coat of black covered everything, sifting into the houses even. There was no such a thing as a white dog in Medford during the smudging season, the dogs' coats taking on the same smudgy appearance as everything else.

Miss Marian Towne of Phoenix is evidently one of the most popular political candidates in the county. Her name was written in for numerous offices on all three ballots. On the democratic ballot she received votes for every office from vice-president to constable. She was named for congress, for secretary of state, for supreme court justice, for dairy commissioner, for circuit judge, for representative, for joint representative, for county commissioner, for county clerk, county treasurer, coroner and constable. For the legislature she was renominated, her name being written upon 348 ballots for the office. For joint representative she received 15 votes.
