Extracts From State Papers

that it is in a canyon just south of the town, where nature has done its utmost, and its work has been supplemented by the expenditure of almost $200,000, voted by the enterprising citizens of Ashland. There are gushing springs of effervescent lithia water, sulphur water and pure artesian water. There are grottos and waterfalls, towering trees, green-swards, beautiful flowers, and at night when the banquet was given under the spreading branches of the monarchs of the forest and myriads of electric lights flashed, it was truly a scene of enchantment.

In common with all of the visitors my heart is filled with gratitude for the abounding hospitality of the people of Medford and Ashland, and, in fact, of all Jackson county. Those people have the spirit which builds up communities, and any person who visits there is bound when he leaves to chant the praises of southern Oregon.

Not the least pleasing incident of our trip to Ashland was meeting with Miss Ethel Heath of Hoquiam, who is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Graham, of Ashland. Miss Heath looks well and seems to be enjoying life to the utmost.

Sheridan Sun.
There also seems to be an unanimity of action and a graciously mutual feeling between all growers for general betterment, and the same seems to be true of all the citizens of both Medford and Ashland, for nothing was more marked than the absence of hostility between the competing citizens and the competing towns—in fact, when you are in Medford no citizen has anything but words of praise for Ashland, and when you are in Ashland her citizens will tell you there is no better town on earth than Medford—and these two towns are only thirteen miles apart, Ashland having a population of 6,000 and Medford 10,000. How different the condition in some of the lower Willamette valley towns! Kickers there are, of course; no town would be a paradise without them, and life would lose its roseate hue if all the kickers were plucked in infancy and brained for their lack of intelligence. They come high, but all towns must have them.

Returning from this trip, the citizenry of Ashland, not yet fully recovered from their "wild west" exhibition, threw out the lasso of hospitality and without the least resistance roped every one of that rollicking band of editorial beasts and made them captives within the famous corral of the Lithia park, and what is more to their everlasting credit, completely tied them with attention and kept them closely confined until the ladies had served all with a magnificent box lunch of choice Ashland fruits and the products of the appetizing culinary arts that have won for these ladies the most comforting spot in the heart of every editor and his wife.

Lithia park is one of the grandest scenic attractions that could fall to the lot of any city, and with the work of nature, assisted by the hands of man and oiled with the outlay of some $200,000, has produced an effect that all the parks of the most noted eastern cities can not rival. This entertainment was rounded out by a program of music furnished by the Oakland, Cal., boys' band. It is the health-giving lithia water from the springs within this park that first attracted attention to its possibilities, and those not slow to grasp its import may now be gratified by the praises showered upon it by the many tourists and others who visit it in large numbers, and who are made welcome by the open arms of honest greeting, and are provided with free camping privileges.

Hughes Due in Oregon This Week

Portland, Ore., Aug. 12.—The republican state central committee is making elaborate preparations to handle an immense throng on the occasion of the forthcoming visit of Charles E. Hughes, republican candidate for president, who will speak in this city on August 16 at 8 p. m. Mr. Hughes and his party of twenty-eight, including Mrs. Hughes, will reach Portland at 7 a. m. on the 16th.

The big meeting will be held either at the armory or the ice hippodrome, at Twentieth and Marshall streets. The armory will accommodate 5,000 people and the hippodrome 10,000, and if the latter building can be put in condition soon enough it probably will be used by the committee.

Mr. Hughes' schedule calls for stops in Oregon only at Portland, Medford, Ashland and Roseburg, but National Committeeman Williams and the state committee will make an effort to have the schedule changed so as to give Salem, Albany and Eugene at least a few minutes each.

Tuxedo Fans by Walt Mason

Tuxedo fans are always loyal to that one brand, superb and royal. They say, "What is the use of trying the other kinds, and sample buying? We know Tuxedo can't be beaten; it's good as bread, when bread is wheat; it keeps us all in cheerful humor, and makes of each an ardent boomer; it with a blissful peace annoys us; Tuxedo never disappoints us. It is the worker's one consolator, when Business, with its big steam roller, has run him down and left him jaded, with all his dreams and prospects faded. 'Tis then Tuxedo smooths the wrinkles, and to his sad eyes brings the twinkles, and braces him for future battles, down where the loom of commerce rattles." These fans are found in every station, in every trade and occupation; the able jurist and the baker, the boss of many a rolling acre, the butcher, as he sells his rasher, the banker and the haberdasher, the cattleman in far Laredo, all pin their faith to good Tuxedo.

At the Portland meeting, State Chairman C. L. McNary will present Governor Withycombe, who will introduce Mr. Hughes. Only the Hughes party and members of the state and county committees will have seats on the stage. The opening rally of the campaign was held Friday night at the Baker Theatre, the principal speaker being James E. Watson, former congressman from Indiana and candidate for the United States senate.

High-class dinner at the Bungalow every evening from 5 to 8 o'clock.

The Tidings has received an official invitation from the newspapermen of Marshfield to attend the Jubilee to be held there August 24, 25 and 26. Accompanying the invitation was a badge similar to those which will be worn by newspapermen during the Jubilee. The festivities will be held in honor of the completion of the Willamette-Pacific railroad, which extends from Eugene to Marshfield. Elaborate preparations are being made for the celebration and it is estimated that several thousand people will be present to enjoy the festivities.

Driven from Home

OUR boys and girls are leaving the farms and Home Towns by the thousand and swarming into the congested cities. There they work and struggle against frightful odds, the majority never getting a chance. If we had always spent our money at home we could have built up industries at home to give employment to these boys and girls. How many children has our neglect of home interests driven away into the Big Cities? Just in so far as we failed to give our support to our Home community are we responsible for this condition. We are the ones who have blocked their chances. We have placed a handicap in their lives. They are not other people's children. They are ours. But it is not too late to do our duty by the next generation. They belong to us, too. Let us do everything in our power to keep these children at home. Let us spend our money at home.
