Eighty-first Birthday Surprise.

A number of old friends of Allen Davis surprised him at his First street home Wednesday evening, the occasion being his eighty-first birthday. A pleasant evening of reminiscence was spent and baskets of good things which the visitors brought along were enjoyed. Those participating were Grant Davis and family, V. V. Hedgpeth and family, A. O. McGee and family.

Auxiliary Entertain.

On Monday evening of this week the Auxiliary Club entertained the men at a jolly informal evening of fun following the regular business meeting. Dancing, music, cards and other forms of enjoyment were indulged in and dainty refreshments were served. The affair was a happy thought on the part of the club ladies to relieve the monotony of routine club meetings, and was much enjoyed by the club members as well as the men who were guests. One of the most sensational features of the evening was the scoring of 1,250 in one hand of five hundred by Dr. Boslough, Mrs. Provost vouching for the authenticity of the record. The hostesses for the evening were Mesdames E. H. Bush, E. R. Greive, Hum Pracht, Frank Jordan, Henry Provost and Miss Lillian Patterson.

Sewing Bee.

Miss Lucile Barber entertained Misses Vivian Greer, Margaret Siemantel of Canadian, Texas, and Ruby Palmer at an old-fashioned sewing bee such as used to be the custom away back as long ago as 1914, on Wednesday evening. As is customary at such affairs, a few young men dropped in in time to partake of a bounteous "feed" along toward 10 o'clock and finished up the evening with songs and fun.

Prof. Carl Loveland will render a 'cello solo Sunday evening at Vining Theatre. Concert by orchestra. 1t

Oakland Boys' Club Band Visits Again

The Oakland Boys' Club band, which was here some time ago bound north on one of their annual tours, visited Ashland again Monday and Tuesday on the southbound trip. The boys have been as far north as Vancouver, Wash., but owing to rain in the Willamette valley were unable to make enough money to carry out their plans of returning home from Seattle by boat and were forced to start back the way they came. Some of the boys were sent for by anxious parents in order to be in Oakland for the beginning of school, but the band still had enough left to put up fine music both at the concerts given in the park and the dance at the Natatorium on Tuesday. The lads camped in Chautauqua park and left for Montague Wednesday. They arrived in the valley nearly broke, but made fair money both at Grants Pass and in Ashland.

Only two more days left of Orres' big sale. Better hurry. 1t

Bandon—Port commission plans to build $30,000 dredge.

Cottage Grove—Standard Oil Co. has let contract for a branch station building here.

AT THE CHURCHES

First Church of Christ, Scientist.

Pioneer avenue south. Sunday service at 11 o'clock. Subject of lesson sermon, "Unreality." Sunday school at 10 o'clock. Wednesday evening meeting at 8 o'clock. Reading room open from 2 to 4 daily except Sundays.

Trinity Episcopal Church—Vicar, the Rev. P. K. Hammond. Holy Communion at 7:30 a. m.; Sunday school at 9:45; Holy Communion and sermon at 11. Evening prayer and sermon at 7:30. Strangers and visitors cordially welcomed.

Presbyterian Church.

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Preaching services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m. Prayer service Wednesday at 7:30. Choir rehearsal Thursday evening. Ladies' Aid meets Friday afternoon in church parlors for work.

Next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock Rev. Philip Deshner of Portland, the official representative of the Anti Saloon League of Oregon, will speak on the brewers' amendment. Rev. Mr. Deshner is an excellent speaker and we cordially invite the friends of temperance and law enforcement in Oregon to come and hear him.—H. A. Carnahan, D. D., pastor.

Nazarene Church — The second theme of the "Twenty Great Words of the Bible" series for next Sunday morning will be "Sacrifice". In what three ways has the sacrifice had a vital bearing on salvation? The evening sermons for a few weeks will be devoted to the discussion of subjects that are agitating the religious world at the present time. Sunday evening the theme will be "The Sabbath". Seventh day, or Jewish Sabbath keepers are especially invited. We are not trying to start theological discussion but bring forth Bible truths. We are very much encouraged by the increasing attendance. We invite you to these services. You will be treated with consideration and courtesy regardless of your belief or profession. DORMAN D. EDWARDS, Pastor.

Congregational Church — The mid-week service will be held on Thursday night at 7:30. Preparatory service, theme, "Bought With a Price", Sabbath, October 1. Sunday school at 9:45; morning worship at 11. Communion service, subject, "Crossing Cedron". Y. P. S. C. E. at 6:30. Evening service at 7:30. Temperance meeting in the interests of the Anti-Saloon league address by Mr. Phillip Deschner. Come and hear him.

REV. R. W. FARQUHAR, Minister.

Best Yet Collection Of Ashland Views

The publicity department of the springs water commission is in receipt of a set of views of Ashland and vicinity which were taken by Mr. Hassell and Mr. H. C. Tibbitts, official photographers of the Southern Pacific, on their recent visit to Ashland.

The views are unquestionably the best collection ever obtained in southern Oregon and will be on display in the Commercial Club's new office in the city hall after the first of the month. The collection is made up of scenes in Lithia park and Mt. Ashland and are different than any that have ever been shown.

The photographers are to be complimented on their fine work, and one look at the collection will convince one that they understand their business.

Movie Matters

VINING VISIONS IN VERSE.

A desperate fight against a gang
Made brave with moonshine brew,
The hero captures the whole lot
And wins a sweet girl too.
The mystery of Crater Lake,
Gigantic scenic views,
Were Monday seen
Upon the screen
As well as scenes of booze.
Few eyes were dry on Tuesday night
When Beban played the part,
Pathetic, touching, pitiful,
An alien broken heart.
He touches soft the heart-strings with
An artist's gentle hand,
A hope, a fear,
A smile, a tear,
Spring forth at his command.
And Wednesday—house crammed to the doors—
Sweet Mary came once more,
With smiles and curls, more lovable
Each time than e'er before.
She holds all Ashland in her hand,
Of all stars of the day
The favorite,
On Pickford night
They turn the crowds away.

A week of really big things such as is scheduled at the Vining this week rarely is encountered, and the crowds which are patronizing every evening's feature are indicative of the fact that Ashland appreciates good pictures. Every feature this week has been a really great production, and those coming during the remainder of the week promise to be equally great.

Tonight's picture, with Willie Collier, Jr., in the "Bugle Call," is one which has received more favorable comment in the big city papers than any release of recent months. It is a wholesome, clean picture and will be enjoyed by old folks and children alike.

Weakly Fable

There once was a dyspeptic Gent who was Eternally Dissatisfied. His Morning Meal consisted of fruit, toast and coffee and to Hear Him tell it, the Fruit was Sour, the Toast burned, and the Coffee was too weak or too Strong on Seven Mornings out of Every Week. His luncheon was Along Like Lines, and his Evening Grubfest was, if anything, Worse.

The weather was always too freezing or Too Blistering, and Times were always Worse Than Ever. Money was Scarcer, Flies were Thicker, Soup was Thinner, and the Rain Wetter in the Particular Spot he was Investing than Anywhere Else, including Philadelphia. He became a Perfect Pest, and was disliked by Everybody except a Very Few who had an Overdeveloped Sense of Humor, due to reading Crop Reports and who actually Thought Him Funny. To heard him Knock it, Charlie Chaplin would have starred on a Mourner's Bench, Louise Glaum belonged in Jail, Dustin Farnum should be Digging Ditches, and anybody who thought Mary Pickford could Act, a Fitting Subject for the Bug Barn.

He never Passed Up an opportunity to Inform the Management how Rotten the Evening's Feature was. He Snarled at the Ussher, Hollered about the Music, Cussed the Ventilation, Critisized the Class of People who attended, Denounced the Advertisements on the Programs, Grumbled at the Projection and took a Withering Whack at Everything in General.

BUT—His Dime was sure to Decorate the Glass in the Ticket Dispensary every evening and his Holler could be Heard a Mile if business caused him to Miss even the Advertising Slides which act as an Appetizer for the Five Reeler.

MORAL.—Kicking is Frequently Habitual. Don't judge anyone by What he Says. The Ring of the Coin speaks Louder Than Words.

After India "Stuff."

A few days ago a movie company left Los Angeles for India, where a film is to be made in which 500,000 people and 800 elephants will appear, to say nothing of 800 tigers and innumerable monkeys. The picture is to be taken in an ancient city, four miles square, and said to be constructed of noyx and marble. H. B. Atwell, who is heading the expedition, says he believes he is the only white man who has visited the anonymous city. Atwell claims that he has a stand-in with the king, who has guaranteed that his half-million subjects and his elephants can be used. The king's son will work as a camera man.
