John B. Wimer, candidate for city recorder. Dec. 19, 1916. 40-22t

I wish to announce to the voters of Ashland that I am a candidate for the office of City Recorder.

At the time I came west I was serving a term in a capacity similar to our office of recorder.

If elected I expect to look after the city's interest in every particular. I solicit your support.

Very truly yours,
39-1f C. L. CUNNINGHAM.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of City Recorder at the coming election in December.

W. H. GOWDY,
39-1f

I wish to announce to the people of Ashland that I am a republican candidate for the office of city recorder in the election to be held December 19.

HENRY C. GALEY.

For City Recorder,

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for the office of City Recorder at the coming city election. I have had sufficient clerical and educational training to prepare me for the work. If elected I shall serve the people to the best of my ability.

R. P. CAMPBELL.

Hood River Short Of Apple Pickers

Hood River is short of apple pickers. The fruitmen have petitioned the merchants of Hood River to allow as many of their clerks as possible to get off to pick apples and have also asked that the Hood River high school be closed.

In the Rogue river valley attendance at the various schools is taking a severe slump and pickers are none too plentiful.

WELL KNOWN PORTLAND WOMAN SPEAKS

IT'S THE SAME IN ALL OREGON.

Portland, Oregon.—"I send this statement with great pleasure. My daughter owes her life to the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. She was a very delicate girl before using your medicine."

"I have used the 'Prescription' for weakness peculiar to women and found it perfectly wonderful. I have used Dr. Pierce's medicines for over thirty-five years. My husband has used Dr. Pierce's 'Syrup' and thinks it is great."—Mrs. L. A. FORSTER, 1502 E. 8th St., W.

When a girl becomes a woman, when a woman passes through the changes of middle life, are the three periods of life when health and strength are most needed to withstand the pain and distress often caused by severe organic disturbances.

At these critical times women are best fortified by the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, an old remedy of proved worth that keeps the entire female system perfectly regulated and in excellent condition.

Mothers, if your daughters are weak, lack ambition, are troubled with headaches, lassitude, and are pale and sickly, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is just what they need to surely bring the bloom of health to their cheeks and make them strong and healthy.

For all diseases peculiar to women, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a powerful restorative. During the last 50 years it has banished from the lives of tens of thousands of women the pain, worry, misery and distress caused by irregularities and diseases of a feminine character.

Movie Matters

William S. Hart is making the concluding scenes of J. G. Hawks' new Triangle-Kay Bee play with a western newspaper setting, in which he will be presented as star, and already has begun preparations for the filming of his next vehicle. This is to be a gripping melodrama of intense situations, in which Hart will carry his famous six-shooter. It is from the pen of Monte M. Katterjohn. Those in the cast of the story Hart is now completing include Alma Reubens, Norbert A. Myles, Nina Byron and Walter Perry.

An automobile of the vintage of 1906 plays an important role in a new Triangle-Keystone comedy now being directed by Clarence Badger. The comedy is a rural story in which Gloria Swanson, Bobby Vernon and Reggie Morris form a triangle composed of beautiful girl, hero and villain. The Reo was found in the mechanical department of the Keystone studio and was once the property of Mack Sennett. Guided by Bobby Vernon, the honest farmer boy in the picture, the roadster is run up the front steps of a downtown palatial home, through the reception hall and on up the stairs. Much care and in fact a skilled engineer was required to build the set on a sufficiently firm foundation to support the weight of the machine. Bobby Vernon and a butler, whom the driver of the car picks up on the hood during his spectacular ride through the various rooms. Trouble arises when the Reo hits a polished floor in the hall. Spinning about like a top, the machine whirled all about the hall, finally settling down to a regular revolving guide in a circular motion, which throws Mr. Vernon and the butler on the floor with a heavy thud. During the "shooting" of this scene soft soap was required to produce a sufficient smoothness on the floor for the motor to turn about rapidly on its heavy tires.

To get a good ending for "Jumps and Jealousy," a Vitagraph comedy which is being directed by Lawrence Sevon, four thousand cigar box "bricks" were dropped from a height of twelve feet on Hughie Mack. The "bricks" completely covered him and left nine bruises on his head as a reminder of the occasion.

They have been giving little Bobby Connelly, the child player of national reputation, a good deal of work at the Vitagraph studios lately. He is the most lovable youngster imaginable and he is a pure child all through. This is one Marguerite Bertsch tells of him. She is the clever director who is handling a five-reel feature a month: "In a James Oliver Curwood story we are doing," says she, "Bobby was required to do a cute little bit with a hatful of puppies. We found that he has an unusual fear of dogs. That they were young dogs made no difference—he just couldn't bring himself to handle them without shrinking. Then we pointed out to him that they were so very young. 'Why, they haven't their eyes open yet,' I said. That reassured him, but in a different way than I imagined it would. The physical fact of their eyes being closed is what impressed him. 'Oh, then, it's all right, Miss Bertsch,' he cried, 'they can't see me.' He went ahead confidently with his work, each day taking the precaution to examine them to see that the puppies still kept their eyelids closed. He was not to be caught unawares. Fortunately

Says Siskiyou Road a Wonder

H. H. Eling, manager of the Portland branch of the Overland company, was down from Portland last week visiting Local Agent George Milner. He made the trip back to Portland in a single day. Regarding the southern Oregon roads Mr. Eling is quoted by the Portland Oregonian as follows:

"Mr. Eling has great praise for the roads of southern Oregon, but condemns the condition of the road between Portland and Salem, the two largest cities in the state.

"They can say all they want about the terrors of the Pass Creek, Cow Creek and Wolf Creek hills and canyons, but I want to tell you that the condition of the road between Portland and Salem is worse than anything found in southern Oregon, the canyons included. For instance, there has been a deep hole in the road between Aurora and Salem that is quite enough to break a car and a motorist's neck. From Central Point on through Medford to Ashland and then over the Siskiyou mountains to California is the finest sort of a road. That new road over the mountains is a wonder and the beauty of the thing is that they are improving it all the time. The weather was beautiful and I want to tell you that those valleys in southern Oregon are about the prettiest sights that ever confronted a motorist."

The St. Johns shipyard is building a motorship for a large cannery firm. The largest wooden vessel ever built on the Pacific coast has just been launched at North Bend. The vessel is 235 feet long and has a capacity of 1,250,000 feet of lumber.

The Southern Pacific is doing its full share for Coos Bay. This road is a branch in its present form and is the only branch road the S. P. Company has given a through train.

Dunsmuir $50,000 Bridge Finished

The state highway bridge across the Sacramento river at the upper end of Dunsmuir is completed. The bridge is ready to be thrown open to public travel, but the state highway commission is waiting for Dunsmuir to do its part by straightening the road at the south end. As it is now there is a sharp turn right at the approach of the bridge.

The structure cost close to $60,000 and is perhaps the most beautiful bridge on the highway in that part of California. There are three spans. The middle span, under which the river flows, is 180 feet long. The south span is 114 feet in length. The railroad is under this arch. The north span is also 114 feet long. The old wagon road passes under this. Approaches at each end add to the length of the bridge.

The state highway commission is gravelling the road between Dunsmuir and Shasta Springs and also between Yreka and the state line.

Health Insurance Is Debate Subject

Sixty-five Oregon high schools have now become members of this year's Oregon High School Debating League. Last year's membership was fifty-one. The membership has doubled in three years.

The subject for debate this winter was announced last Saturday by the state officials. It is, "Resolved, that Oregon should adopt a health insurance law embodying the essential features of the 'Standard Bill' of the American Association for Labor Legislation."

Health insurance was chosen because of increasing public interest in it, because of the newness of the proposal in the west, and because it is expected to become an issue in Oregon within a year.

Twenty-seven schools are enrolled this year that were not members last year. Central Point, Glendale and Sutherlin are the new southern Oregon members.

The state library and the University of Oregon library can furnish a certain amount of data to inquiring debaters. Other inquiries may be sent to the secretary of the league, Earl Kilpatrick, University of Oregon, Eugene. The sixty-five schools contest for the University of Oregon cup, now held by Prineville high school.

Judging from the sentiment expressed by voters over the state, the land and loan measure (single tax) will be snowed under deeper this election than ever before.

The Carnation milk condensery at Hillsboro is adding a $50,000 unit to its plant.

September building permits at Baker total $11,200.

Oregon Team Went South This A. M.

A football team that is almost entirely Oregon bred and Oregon raised passed through this morning bound from the University of Oregon to meet the California-bred and California-raised men of the University of California. The game will be played in the Berkeley stadium on the afternoon of October 21, and will be the first test of football strength in many years between Oregon and California. The one university outnumber the other in attendance about ten to one, yet such is the quality of the fine Oregon squad that the giant of the south is believed to have small advantage. "After all, only eleven men can meet eleven of ours at once," said Hugo Bezdek, Coach Bezdek will take eighteen men. They will average, stripped, 180 pounds. They will represent fifteen towns, of which eleven are Oregon towns.

Tillamook will try to add 125 square miles of territory to the port district to secure needed money for improvements.

The Sixes river placer and local black sand mines near Bandon have been purchased and will be developed by New York capitalists.
