EUROPEANS PROTEST.

Carranza and Villa have murdered on a wholesale scale Chinamen, Spaniards and Americans, outraged their women and confiscated their property. So far as known, they have murdered only one Englishman, one Benton—and they thought he was an American—and no Germans or Frenchmen. Carranza, however, has gone too far in his confiscatory policy, as was to have been expected of a bandit, and serious consequences promise to result.

Richland will bond for a $15,000 water system.

RESULTS.

E. W. Scott of Talent advertised a milk cow for sale in Thursday's issue, and Mrs. Scott was in Monday to have the cow. Item taken out of the ad, stating that the results came so quick it surprised her. Orta Angle says: "Those little ads are sure the stuff. I've got numbers of inquiries about my wagon already." A storekeeper advertising for help received a whole handful of letters the first day. Mrs. A. L. Irwin rented furnished rooms last week and had inquiries for other rooms which she has after a single insertion of an ad. Tidings want ads get results.

Heard and Overheard

(By Lynn D. Mowat)
Auntie, did you ever have a proposal? "Once, dear. A gentleman asked me over the telephone to marry him, but he had the wrong number."—Harper's Magazine.
"Did you say these peas were from your own garden?" asked the architect, who was enjoying his vacation in the country. "Yes, siree," replied the farmer. "Picked 'em myself early this mornin'."
"Is it necessary to shoot them before you pick them?" inquired the architect, removing a piece of solder from between his teeth.—Illustrated World.
We've noticed that since they instituted the art course at the high school, several of the girls have learned to paint. May be no fault of the art course.
Congressman Hawley slipped one over on us. We felt real proud because we dug up a picture of him to put on the front page last Monday, and then, be-jinks, when he turned up he had shaved off the mustache which shows in the picture. Lots of folks did not recognize him on that account until he was introduced. Even yet some aren't sure it was him, so we print this explanation.

Congressman Hawley says: "If there is any crime that Villa has not committed, it was an oversight on his part."

The "sentiment was unanimous for Wilson" at a democratic meeting held at Griffin Creek, says the Mail Tribune. Republican papers make the same claim for their meetings. Why not advertise a Hughes meeting and let Kelly talk to it? Then a Wilson meeting and let some of the Hughes advocates do their best? Might accomplish a little missionary work among the heathen of both sides.

Brought Back From the Hunt. This one came back from Klamath county with one of the recent hunting parties who went over from here with murderous designs on the ducks.

Although J— aimed his gun several times he did not shoot it off. "Why didn't you shoot those ducks, J—?" The whole flock was right in front of you. "I know," said J—; "every time I aim my gun at a duck another one comes right in between us."

W. Dawson, Beware! (From the Oregonian.) Ashland, Ore., Oct. 18.—Will you please publish a recipe for the English fruit cake known as "Brother Killer"? Very truly yours, MRS. W. D. FOSTER.

The recipe for "Brother Killer" (English fruit cake) has been asked for by several other correspondents, and will appear in next Sunday's Oregonian. The cake to which my brothers gave this terrifying name was steamed and baked in two three-inch layers, with one and one-half inches or so of almond icing between the layers and another inch or so on top of the cake, the whole being covered with a very thick soft white nougat icing, decorated with candied cherries and nuts. A simpler "finish" may of course be given, but the above is delightfully deadly and most worthy of its nickname.

Medford folks must like to get their rest. Some time ago they got out injunctions against indiscriminate blowing of whistles on S. P. trains, then against roosters crowing in the city limits, and now objections are being forcibly made to the braying of a mule belonging to Dr. Helms. Political arguers will be next to suffer.

Craving for whiskey caused a man in Chicago to have his teeth pulled so that he could get the gold fillings and sell them to buy booze. And still the "wets" claim that whiskey drinking is a luxury and not a habit.

This Harvest ball Friday night kind of stumped us. They told us to wear "farmer's clothes." Most of the farmers we know ride in automobiles and wear a darn sight better looking duds than those us newspaper men can afford.

"No, John Thomas. Rome was not founded by Romeo. It was Juliet who was found dead by Romeo."

If the weights of the members of the football team given to the Medford Sun are correct, Coach Otto had better not bring them up to Ashland. The Montessori school is looking for children about that size.

Joe Hurt says he was driving in northern California and came to a sign that said "Detour, six miles," and he drove about six miles and came back into the main road again, and he'd be blamed if he believed there was such a town as Detour.

He Kept Us Out of Patience. They say— That Woodrow Wilson— Kept us out of war. And it is not unlikely— That soon they will say, "He kept us out of jail." For the truth is— We are out of war— And also— We are out of jail. We would remark that— We are out of luck— If that is all— The democrats. Can do for us. He has kept us— Out of patience— Among other things.

Movie Matters

As a result of Lenore Ulrich's excellent Pallas Picture subject "The Heart of Paula," a Scandinavian buyer purchased several hundred thousand feet of Morosoo and Pallas productions. The buyer in question was first attracted to the output of these companies by "The Heart of Paula," and after seeing other products closed a big deal for their film.

Owen Moore, the Famous Players' Paramount star, is beginning to take a rare interest in aviation. In fact, he reads the papers every day with a view to ascertaining just which factor contributes the most to the sudden demise of the aviators on the other side—shell fire or loss of equilibrium. The point is, that Director Del Henderson is going to send the Famous Players' star up in an aeroplane in his next picture, and Moore is trying to figure out what his chances are of ever playing in another Paramount Picture.

Marshfield—Recently the local power company secured contracts for 315 horsepower in motors from various local industries. Plans are being made to open a new shingle mill and lumber mill, and several small coal mines in the vicinity are getting ready to use electrical power.

J. P. Morelock is to build a garage 84 by 50 feet at Wallowa.
