THE ONE-ATTEMPT MAN OR WOMAN

who, for example, publishes a Want ad once, and if it does not bring the result desired decides that "advertising does not pay," should study the practical results, in all lines of endeavor, of perseverance. The law of "try again" is as potent in want advertising as in any other effort or enterprise.

Classified Rates: One cent per word, first insertion; 1/2 cent per word for each insertion thereafter; 30 words or less $1 per month. No advertisement inserted for less than 25 cents. Classified ads are cash with order except to parties having ledger accounts with the office.

Heard and Overheard

(By Lynn D. Mowat) If it were not for this punk verse. To fill this space with rhyming rank. We could write something even worse, Or leave two bloomin' inches blank.

Glen Gulley, who works in the fire house, figured out one day that the extra distance walked by women "de-touring" around the iron grating in the sidewalk on the opposite side of the street in one day if laid end to end would reach from the Elks building to Mar's shoe shop.

The difference between sarcasm and irony was clearly defined at the hearing of a divorce case in an adjoining county recently. The appellant based the demand for a divorce from his wife on the grounds of "unnecessary sarcasm and irony." When asked to make his grounds more definite he answered: "Well, judge, when she told me she would bust a flatiron over my head, I took it for delicate sarcasm, but when she actually did it, I hold it's irony of the most unnecessary kind."

"T'efitkj-vbbgv." The foregoing masterpiece was hammered out on our typewriter by V. O. N. Smith's young son who was a visitor at our office Tuesday. It is probably a futurist expression of enjoyment as it took his mother about fifteen minutes to entice him away from the office.

All them who wasn't there at the tax budget meetin' Monday night shouldn't holler if the budget seems high. Supt. Art Strickland gave some highly enlightening statements about street lighting at the budget meet Monday. The figures were illuminating. Art is full of his subject, but no matter how full he gets he is never lit up.

We have another classic of tomfoolery which keeps running through our mind. We will publish it here uncredited with the hopes that some one will recognize it and let us know the author: Baby's Looks Bobby with the nursery shears Cut off both of baby's ears. At the baby, so unsightly. Mother raised her eyebrows slightly.

"I Love You, California." will be played at the president's inaugural parade. Why not also "I Love the Ladies"? Doc Cambers says "No matter which side I bet on, that side loses." He has arrived at that conclusion after years of experimenting. Doc has now offered himself up as a martyr and does his betting early so that all his friends may bet the other way.

Medford Forewears the Bright Lights No longer is Medford a mecca for seekers for "high life." It used to be that Medford was called "The City of Bright Lights and Swinging Doors." The hinges on the swinging doors have rusted since the state law forced the thirteenth emporiums into shoe stores, confectioneries and dry-goods stores. And now the bright lights are to be dimmed. The Medford pater family have decided that the glaring lights on autos are too brilliant. The price of green eye shades have gone up, likewise dark glasses, owing to the war. Hence no more can the forty-horse-power spotlight flicker up and down the Medford highways. Ashland autoists should take warning. Dim the lights if you visit Medford. There are many ways to dim them. A brick applied with a gentle massaging motion will attain the effect very successfully. Autoists entering Medford from the Ashland Pacific Highway entrance can meet with fine success by falling to turn the corner sharply enough as the iron lamp posts, so common in Medford, will have a deadening effect on the headlights. Should your passengers have weak nerves and prefer gentler methods, the driver should stop at the Talent general merchandise store and buy a can of black paint which should be applied at the Medford city limits (to the headlights, not the limits). This may be removed by buying new glass and breaking out the painted ones. If it is late at night and the Talent store is closed, a coat of mud rubbed over the lamp will do, but you will be taking chances. Last, but not least, if all other methods fail, have a passenger sit on the radiator and hold a coat over the front of the lamps. All red-headed people should remember to keep their hats on while Med-ford-ing.

"Look Pa, How 'Gets-It' Works!" Lifts Your Corn Right Off. Never Fails. "Ever in your life see a corn come out like that? Look at the true skin underneath—smooth as the palm of your hand!"

The earth is blessed with the one, simple, painless, never-failing remedy that makes millions of "corn-pested" people happy, and that's "GETS-IT". Apply it in 3 seconds. It dries. Some people jab and dig at their corns with knives and razors—wrap their toes in packages with band-aids or sticky tape, make them red and raw with salves. Nothing like this with "GETS-IT". Your corn loosens—you lift it off. There's nothing to press on the corn, or hurt. Anxels couldn't ask for more. Try it tonight on any corn, callus or wart.

"GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere. See a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Ashland and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. J. McNair, McNair Bros.

ASHLAND LUMBER COMPANY Dealers in LUMBER Shingles, Lath, Sash, Doors, Roofing Papers, Cordwood, Factory Block Wood

Belleview Notes

(By the Language Classes of Belleview School.) Ruth Eske reported at school Friday morning that she had been bitten by a yellow jacket.

Miss Whittock was a caller at the school house Friday noon. Among our people who attended the I. O. O. F. anniversary banquet Thursday evening were Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gowland, Charles Moore and Miss Bess York.

Miss Sweet is staying at the Gowland home now in preference to walking out from home to school. J. L. Miller butchered a nice calf Saturday.

Mr. Eske is digging a well. Mr. Claxton has sold some fat pigs. Mr. Cooper is on the sick list. J. A. Kelts was hauling wood from the mountains Wednesday.

Mr. A. D. Moore has finished cutting wood for Mr. Arant. Mr. and Mrs. Gowland, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and Charlie Moore attended the Elks' banquet Thursday. Frank Homes attended the junior box social at the high school Friday evening.

Mr. C. A. Brown butcher three pigs Thursday. Mr. Charles E. Gray killed a number of his turkeys Thursday. Ray Moore, who has been trapping near his home, caught a coyote last Thursday night.

Baby Arant of Ashland has been visiting Irene Miller the past week. Mr. C. R. Moore is hauling wood. Guy Randalls and Adam Beagle are cutting wood at the C. A. Brown place.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Moore and son Roy were in town Thursday. Mrs. L. E. Owings went to Medford Thursday.

Mr. C. A. Jensen bought a load of apples from Mr. Swartzfager Monday. J. W. Farmer and Harry went up to Green Springs mountain Friday morning to get their camping outfit which they used while cutting wood.

Mr. York and family of Ager, Cal., have recently moved to Ashland. They are renting the Hedges place near the normal.

J. E. Gowland worked all night Tuesday in the foundry. Thursday and Friday were test days at school.

J. W. Farmer made a trip to the mountains Friday morning. Mr. Evans and family visited Frank Snyder's and W. L. Moore's Sunday afternoon and evening.

Charles Swartzfager took a load of apples to town Monday. Don Swartzfager has an abscess on one eye. It is better at this time. For a while it was thought he would lose his eye.

J. L. Miller exchanged a cord of wood for a load of lumber Thursday. Wednesday evening there was another automobile accident near the railroad crossing. This time the car ran into a telephone pole. The car was considerably damaged. The occupants, whose names are unknown, escaped injury with the exception of a broken finger sustained by one of the men.

A family by the name of York has moved into the Hedges house. Alice Eger visited at Beagle's Friday.

Charles Moore, riding facing the Boulevard lights on his wheel Friday evening, was so blinded that he ran into Mr. Claxton's buggy. Aside from giving Chat a good shaking up and springing the frame of the wheel no damage was done.

According to the Montague Messenger the man who was burned to death in the Hornbrook jail was not James Withcomb but Edward Thompson, a Norwegian sailor who has been stopping in Montague for several days prior to the affair. The Messenger says.

He left here the day before and trainmen state positively that he was the man who was burned up. Thompson was about 65 years of age and would weigh close to 220 pounds. He spoke very brokenly and was a heavy drinker, though not quarrelsome. It is reported that the officer in arresting Thompson broke a gun over his head.

Of course, Captain Koenig didn't want to start the Deutschland back until he knew who had been elected president.
