SUMPTUOUS DINNER GOWN.

Lines and material combine to give this graceful effect, a dinner gown of pale blue and silver brocade, with a black and rose velvet rose flaming in the corsage. The train is a modified apron in grateful contrast to the fish-tail, square or half runner varieties of all winter fashions. Please observe how skillfully pale blue tulle has been used to construct the shoulder cap, which just hints of the epaulettes that the fad for military styles carries over even into dress creations. The collar for this frock takes a bandeau of pearls.

DIRECT FROM PARIS.

This Parisian novelty has long been popular with continental women—a transparent, waterproof silk coat. This garment is incomparable for the business woman who travels, as it can be folded and packed in a small compass. It is exceptionally light of weight, and its transparency gives full value to color underneath. Coming in all the modish shades—sage green, deep tan, navy blue, golden brown and a fetching yellow, like a sou'wester's oilskin—it can also be used for a smart motor coat. Belted, high colored, well buttoned, this coat speaks for itself.

FOOTGEAR.

The ultra smart sports shoes exhibit the instep and toe strap effects. The newest thing in oxfords for use at the southern spring resorts is low of heel, rounded of toe, in white suede, toe strapped and rather heavily trimmed with the finest of black patent kid. This model is repeated in white and tan, in all white and in all tan. Many of the high topped laced shoes in white suede or glaze kid show both the instep and the toe strap simulations. The reason for their vogue is not far to seek. They shorten the apparent length of the feet. Another vogue in boots is the high topped, front laced model in African brown suede.
