War Census Plans To Be Published

Statewide publicity is to be given the details of the war census, news letters, bulletins and wires being employed to disseminate knowledge concerning the census. Adjutant General George A. White has written a letter of personal appeal to every editor in the state, asking for his cooperation in order that Oregon on the day of registration will know how to register and that there will be little or no confusion. By this means General White is confident that the work of registration will move without a hitch when war census day, which has yet to be proclaimed by President Wilson, comes. Plans by which men absent from their city or county can register, as well as college students coming within the requisites of the act, are being worked out.

Died.

Mrs. Mary M. White died Monday at her home, 112 B street, after an illness of brief duration. She was the wife of H. L. White and her age was 55 years, 3 months and 17 days. Deceased was born at Ottumwa, Iowa, in 1862 and in 1882 was married to Charles L. Tyler. Two children were born to them. The daughter, Dr. Lethea Tyler, was at the bedside. The son, Charles Tyler, was en route to Honolulu. Mr. Tyler died May 18, 1886, and the following year the widow came to Oregon, locating for a time at Salem and later at Grants Pass. In 1891 she was joined 'n holy wedlock with Henry L. White. One son was born to them—Harry B. White, who resides at Calexico, Cal., and who was present at the funeral. For sixteen years after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. White lived at Rock Point, coming to Ashland in 1907.
