Here and There Among Our Neighbors

TWO Bids for Portland have been entered for landing a floating aggregate plant at the Float at Puddle. A license to operate such a plant has been issued to J. C. Hines, as owner, at Puddle. The other bid is from the Portland & Oregon Country Co. The city council will consider the bids at a later date.

From the Daily Journal (Portland): "The present condition of the city is such that it is necessary to make a new attempt to bring the aggregate plant to the Float. The city council will consider the bids at a later date."
