THE BARGAIN STORE

In the Social Realm

Mrs. H. L. Whited, who entertained Miss Marian Neill of the University of Oregon Girls' Glee Club during her stay in the city, has a few old school-mates of Miss Neill's as guests at dinner Saturday.

A most enjoyable bachelor dinner was given in honor of Kenneth McWilliams last Wednesday evening as a fitting tribute of his entrance into the matrimonial field. Those present were Kenneth McWilliams, Lynn Mowat, Delmar Harmon and Heinrich Heidenreich.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Parson were hosts at a most delightful dinner party given at their home on Main street last Monday evening. Music occupied the evening. Those present were the Misses Margaret Anderson and Dorris Bagley and Messrs. Paul Keene and Heinrich Heidenreich.

Engagement Announced.

An engagement that is of intense interest to a number of Ashland folk is that of Miss Helen Mae Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Scott of Portland, but who formerly resided in Ashland two years, to Mr. Mark Slocum of Marshfield, Ore. Mr. Slocum is a young business man of Marshfield, being engaged in business with his uncle at that place. Mr. Slocum was formerly of New York city. The date for the wedding has not been definitely set, but will be some time in June. Miss Helen has many friends and acquaintances in Ashland as well as in Medford, having been very popular in society circles at both places.

In the meantime the bride-to-be will make an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. A. Martin, at Marshfield.

Crystal Wedding Anniversary.

Monday evening being Mr. and Mrs. Alva Rowley's fifteenth wedding anniversary, a number of their friends and neighbors walked in on her, each presenting her with a piece of crystal in remembrance of the occasion. The evening was spent in pleasant conversation and refreshments were served later. Those present were Mrs. M. Linger, O. W. Long, Jennie Spindler, Charles Spindler, Mrs. Hultz, Bertha Herr, Al Shared, Charles Martin, Arthur Abbott, Bertha Corthell, Mark Smith, Miss Rhoda Burnett, Mrs. Alva Rowley and the Misses Letha Abbott, Ethel Martin, Marjory Corthell, Lorraine Smith, Dorothy and Cleo Shared, Mildred and Doran Rowley and Neal Martin.

McWilliams-Johnson.

J. Kenneth McWilliams and Miss Lorraine Johnson were quietly married last Saturday at Medford and managed to keep the news of the secret from their many friends until Tuesday, when the "cat leaked out of the bag." Miss Johnson is one of the most popular and efficient teachers on the local school staff. She is the daughter of Mrs. Pernie Johnson. Mr.

McWilliams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. McWilliams and is one of the best known young men of the city. He is a representative of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in this city and has a bright future ahead of him in the insurance game, according to those who have witnessed his success during his brief connection with this company. The couple hoped to keep the affair under cover until Saturday of this week, when they will leave by automobile for a short trip to Klamath county. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hogg of the Presbyterian church of Medford in the presence of a couple of intimate friends. They will be at home the latter part of June at their apartments in the Allen block. Mr. McWilliams is on the reserve of the local artillery company and expects to go with the company when called.

Indoor Roundup Dance.

An evening of dancing replete with unique features will be staged at the Natatorium Saturday night by a number of the young men of the city as a sort of culminative celebration of the finish of the school year and an anticipation of the coming Hyiu Hehe and Roundup. Novel announcements of the dance, to which the whole city has been invited, state that the affair will be "a super-hyiu-hehe indoor roundup and slick-ear stampede with the liveliest music and the best time the range has ever offered." A large crowd is anticipated.

Civic Club.

The $6,000,000 bond issue was ably and spiritedly handled at the Civic Club Tuesday by the following ladies: Mesdames Bowers, Pell, Perozzi, Dill, Lamkin and Winter in the affirmative and Mesdames Rowland, Roche, Gard, Lamb and Putnam in the negative. Good roads carried the day and only three out of the crowd of interested spectators remained neutral at the end of the debate. It is a work of progress when women delve into the great political issues of the day and solve problems for themselves. The speeches showed deep research and the able and animated manner in which the subject was handled reflected great credit upon the women of Ashland. The next meeting of the club will be a reception to the new members in the park on June 12.

Smith-Storey.

Miss Agnes Storey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Storey of Ashland, was married to Sidney H. Smith of Sand Point, Idaho, last Saturday, May 19. The ceremony was performed at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Parr in Spokane, friends of the contracting parties. Rev. Divine of the Presbyterian church was the officiating minister. Mr. Smith is a prominent young attorney at Sand Point and the bride has taught in the public schools there for three years. They have already established their home in Sand Point. The schools there close Friday, after which the bride and groom will come to Ashland for a visit. The bride is a young woman of capability and charm and has many friends here.

Farewell Party.

Mrs. E. D. Jennings and Mrs. E. Rouse entertained a jolly crowd of young folks Monday evening, May 21, at the latter's home on Seventh street, the occasion being a farewell party for Nathan Gale, a high school sophomore, who leaves soon for his home in Merlin. Music and dancing were enjoyed until 10:30, when delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. After a few high school yells and three cheers for Nathan, all wishing him back again next year, all said good-night.

Those present were Nathan Gale, Archie Murphy, Melvin Carpenter, Clyde Young, Harry Silver, Raymond Long, Arthur Stennett, Jimmy Rouse, Luella Herrick, Nelly Culy, Wanda Baschard, Ruth Chappelle, Gladys Inlow and Bonnis Jennings.

W. R. C. Club.

The W. R. C. Club met Monday afternoon at Mrs. Morgan's home on B street. The rooms were nicely decorated with box plants and cut flowers, and a nice crowd of ladies enjoyed the afternoon together with visiting and fancy work. Delicious refreshments were served, in which strawberries and cream played a conspicuous part. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames Spindler, Morgan, Anna Robinson, F. D. Swingle and O. B. Turner.

The ladies present were as follows: Mesdames Peters, Mathes, Allen, Turner, Carlton, Jennings, Morgan, Heer, Coder, Don Smith, Stacy, Spindler, Swingle, Beach, Sayles, Crothell, Mattingly and Miss Evelyn Turner. The invited guests were Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Cozart and Mrs. Dyrude.

The next meeting will be June 4 at Mrs. Carlton's home, 99 Union street.

At Convention.

Among those attending the Odd Fellows' convention and Rebekah assembly at Eugene this week are G. W. Trefern, who is deputy grand master, J. B. Wimer, W. L. Moore and Leo Trefern. The Rebekahs are represented by Mrs. Wm. Myers, Mrs. E. E. Phipps and Miss Pearl Wilshire. The several affiliations of the order, including subordinate, encampment, Patriarchs' Militant and Rebekahs will be represented at the state gathering.

Thrown from Trestle Guard Breaks Legs

Adam Garren, private in Company I, 3rd Oregon infantry, while guarding the Southern Pacific railroad bridge at Graves creek, about a mile and one-half from Leland, was hurled off the bridge by an unknown man whom he had halted late Tuesday afternoon. He fell fifty feet to the ground, suffering compound fractures of both legs. The affair is shrouded in mystery.

Another private of Company I, whose name is said to be Covey, was patrolling the other end of the bridge and had his back turned at the time Garren was thrown from the bridge. When he did turn around he saw the stranger running away and Garren lying on the ground beneath. He started in pursuit of the stranger, but the latter had too much of a start and easily got away. At that time Covey was not really sure of just what had happened.

According to the brief story Garren told, he had halted the stranger, who had been loitering about the bridge or trestle, and the latter walked up to him to talk, and without any warning pushed him from the structure. He said further that the other soldier on duty pursued the stranger.

Bean Bill Measure Taken From Ballot

By unanimous opinion, the supreme court Tuesday morning ruled that the Bean bill, the measure designed by Representative Bean of Lane county to tax the Oregon and California land grants and ordering the county assessors to place the lands on the tax rolls, did not legally pass the legislature and therefore should not be allowed a place on the ballot at the special election June 4.

The matter was carried before Judge Bingham, who decided in favor of Representative Bean and ruled that the measure should go on the ballot. The case was appealed to the supreme court, with the result that Judge Bingham was reversed. District Attorney Gehlar was assisted in the suit by Judge Pipes of Portland.

Red Cross Activities

The Home of the Red Cross.

On February 3 the national headquarters at Washington, D. C., were moved to the beautiful new marble building on Seventeenth street. This building, dedicated "In memory of the heroic women of the Civil War," was erected entirely from funds appropriated by congress and from funds given by a few friends of the Red Cross expressly for this purpose. The total cost was $800,000. Congress appropriated $400,000 and friends gave the other $400,000.

It is an imposing structure of white marble supported by a line of tall Corinthian pillars. It is back from the street in a domain of its own, occupying the square between the gallery and the Memorial Hall of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Its ranks of broad windows, set like panels in the wall, and wide, inviting entrance, suggested it to be the executive office of some great branch of government. This legend appeared over the portals: "In Memory of the Heroic Women of the Civil War."

Leading up from the entrance is a broad stairway. In the first landing is a tablet of marble on which is inscribed these words: "A memorial built by the government of the United States and patriotic citizens to the women of the north and to the women of the south held in loving memory by a now united country that their labor to mitigate the sufferings of the sick and wounded in war may be perpetuated. This memorial is dedicated to the service of the American Red Cross."

Red Cross Boxes.

Our local Red Cross is working on boxes 2 and 4, No. 4 being a bandages and No. 2 including the equipment for one patient, as follows: Sheets, 6; pillow cases, 4; pajamas, 3 suits; hospital bed shirts, 4; convalescent gown, 1; socks, 4 pairs; bed socks, 2 pairs; bath towels, 2; face towels, 4; wash cloths, 3; slippers, 1 pair; hot water or ice bag covers, 2. The foregoing is an equipment for one patient and it takes nine equipments to make this box, No. 2. We now have more than enough for two patients completed.

The approximate cost for each patient in box No. 2 is $18, but would have been more had it not been for the concessions given by our merchants.

We need more helpers in making these equipments. We urge each Red Cross member to take personal interest in helping in this work.

New Members.

The net members added since the last publication of names are: Miss Nina Emery, Homer Elhart, G. F. Billings, Maud I. Hawley, Dr. W. Earl Flake, Mrs. W. Earl Blake, G. E. Carpenter, Mrs. Mary Austin, Miss Anna Hargrove, J. P. Dodge, L. A. Neil, Mrs. Della Acklin, Mrs. J. B. Wimer, Mrs. James Fuller, Mrs. C. F. Shepherd, Mrs. M. F. Briggs, Mrs. Vivian Ling, Dr. J. H. Johnson, Mrs. Ralph Billings, Dr. E. A. Wood, Mrs. E. A.
