Home Poets ANSWERED THE CALL (By C. R. Minkler.) The boys have answered the country's call, And it seems as if none were left at all, Our homes so empty, the two so dead, And the sun seems darkened overhead. Oh, it's only so short a time since they were little lads at their childish play. We felt the shake of the village street Under the tread of their marching feet, As the long brown line entrained that day For the field of service so far away. But in spite of the ache our lives must know, We thrilled with pride when we saw them go, So eager to go, no slackers they, The boys, our lads of yesterday. What shall we do when the long nights come And we wake from dreaming of fife and drum, And seem to hear on each passing breeze The roar of battle from over seas? Will the pride we feel sustain us then When we think of our laddies grown to men, Doing their part in this hour of need, Following straight where the flag may lead, Whether it wave o'er the seas below Or over the trench of a foreign foe? Oh, they took our hearts when they marched away— The boys that answered the call that day. We will hope and pray as the long days go We may quickly vanquish the treacherous foe, And our country freed from war's alarms, Bring safely back to our waiting arms With unbroken ranks as they marched away— The boys that answered the call that day.

Don't Put Off Don't wait for the burning of the neighbor's property to forcibly remind you to prepare yourself. Proximately, unless the fire is so close as to actually affect you, has nothing to do with sequence. Today's destructive fire may be thousands of miles from you; you may not even read about it. Tonight's fire may be visited upon you. Insure Now. A few dollars invested today may save you $1000 tonight. Billings Agency Real Estate and Real Insurance

FOR RENT

"FURNISHED HOUSE FOR RENT WITH USE OF PIANO"—I wanted a furnished house of six rooms. I could not use five and I did not want eight. Six rooms was what I wanted, and here was an ad in the newspaper: "Furnished house for rent with use of piano." But how many rooms? If this house was six rooms, then the advertisement lost half of its efficiency because it did not read "Six-room furnished house to rent with use of piano." Was the house modern? The ad did not tell it. If so, why did not the ad read "Six-room modern furnished house for rent with use of piano"? It would have been just as easy. Then was the house just furnished, or "well furnished"? If so, then why not this ad: "Well-furnished six-room modern house with use of piano"? I did not have an automobile and wanted close in. This ad did not tell me that, so instead of answering it I waited till I came to town. A real estate agent got hold of me and rented me another house. Later I discovered the one advertised would have suited me better. It was a "well-furnished, six-room, modern house, close in, with use of piano." Why didn't the ad say so and get the tenant?
