Gold Hill Notes

(By A. E. Kellogg.)
Blizzard Mine Sold.
The Blizzard gold mine, and old-time producer, lying two miles north of Gold Hill, was sold last week to J. W. Wakefield of Medford, Ore., and his associates, who are eastern people. The new owners have been investigating the gold properties in this district and decided on this mine. They will reopen the old works at once and contemplate the erection of a five-stamp mill on the premises. The Blizzard was a producer of $40 ore in the early '90s, but later became involved in litigation and has been closed since then, until two years ago I. W. Ray of Gold Hill, whose father, Elisha Ray, deceased, was the original discoverer, acquired the property. The vein, which appears in a porphyry and slate contact, is of free-milling ore, three feet wide, strikes east and dips fifteen degrees north. Some 400 tons of the ore were reduced at the local mills, which averaged $40 in gold per ton.

SAMS VALLEY ITEMS

A fine shower of rain last evening which done some good even if it is late; farmers are very busy cutting corn for fodder, harvesting their peaches and peaches. Everyone is trying to save all the waste, but it is quite a task when there is such a plenty. Some are drying peaches quite extensively.
Mr. Drake, of the upper Sams valley country, is reported very ill, with very little hope of his recovery.
Grandmas Eddington is improving so she is able to be up and about the house.
The Max Shultz baby is still very poorly.
Mr. and Mrs. B. E. King, Mr. Perkins and Lorraine and Darrell King of Tillamook, Oregon, surprised Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Stoner by driving in on them last Thursday. They are on their way to Ashland, Crater Lake, returning by way of Bend. Mr. King is an old-time friend of Mr. Stoner both having lived in Ashland.
Mr. Hall and the Nelson young folks and Mrs. Adda Cameron were over Sunday visiting their sister, Mrs. Wilson, also attending Sunday school in the Pelton school house.
John and Will Vaughn have returned from attending the funeral of their brother, Ralph Vaughn, who passed away last Saturday at Klamath Falls.
Dick Straus was over in California during the week-end looking at land in view of purchasing.
Mrs. Pelton and little daughter, Gladys accompanied by her friend, Mrs. Mann visited Medford last week.

Fort Troops Have Hard Winter Schedule

Portland Oregonian: A new schedule of training is being prepared at Fort Stevens, to go into effect September 17. In accordance with general orders of the coast defenses, just sent out, the proposed schedule will be a strenuous one, and will mean that the troops at Fort Stevens and other Columbia river forts will receive some intensive training this fall that will develop the men physically and soon put them into real fighting trim.
The personnel at each of the forts will be divided into three groups, as follows: a, mine companies; b, other regular companies; c, National Guard companies.
Each will receive special training appropriate for it. The daily schedule will be divided into five periods. On Mondays, Tuesday and Fridays the following subjects will be taken up: Callisthenics, 15 minutes daily; marching exercises, small arms firing, care and use of individual pack, military courtesies and ceremonies, guard duty, athletics, manual of saber and pistol, lectures by company officers, artillery and mine training, first aid, signaling, physical training, preparation for field service, infantry drill, practice marches.
Thursday afternoon will be reserved for athletic games and contests. Saturday morning is the regular weekly inspection. Thursday night will be reserved for "night" drill.
It is intended to hold several classes in trench warfare, war game schools, etc.
Inclement weather will not interfere with these prescribed drills.
Bandon offers a site for a milk condensery to employ 80 to 100 hands.
The Coos Bay Shipbuilding Company has two more government contracts.
A chrome concentrating plant may be installed at Canyon City.

Make Extensive Strike

Another extensive strike, which will produce several thousand dollars of specimen ore, has been made on the old Elisha Ray gold mine, now of the Cheney, Simmons, Ray and Huff group, three miles north of Gold Hill operated by J. W. Davies and associates of Sacramento, Cal. It is one of a series of pay chutes appearing in a fault of the old main vein, which has made three mines famous. The operators have made considerable progress on the new 1,200-foot and 900-foot drifts being driven to tap the main vein at lower levels. The strike came about by the crews being shifted from these levels to sinking on the main shaft, while awaiting the arrival of more heavy drill machinery to continue the drifts. After operating several months in the new drifts it developed that on account of the hardness of the formation it would be necessary to install extra heavy steel and machinery, which is due to arrive in a short time.

Should Increase Co. Grain Output

In line with its efforts to induce the farmers of the country to plant more fall wheat, the government has sent a telegram to County Pathologist Cate urging that the farmers of Jackson county be prodded up to increase their fall acreage.
Mr. Cate thinks that Jackson county ought to increase its fall acreage 50 per cent. His office in Medford has been made a clearing house for seed for fall planting, and he desires that any farmer who has good seed for fall planting would send him an example in order that a test can be made of it. They should let him know of the price they wish for it, the amount they have for sale, etc.
All farmers who want seed for fall planting should let Mr. Cate know their wants as soon as possible. The local supply of seed will be used up before sending away for it, and it is hoped that the local output of seed will equal the demand.
