

RE-INFORCED

NEW FUEL FOR SALE HERE

Within the past few days a number of goods due on back order from early fall came in, and as they are the kind most called for and in demand and came to us at a much lower cost than present wholesale prices, we include them all in our sale without a single exception.

All we can say is, anticipate your present and near future needs and lay in as big a supply as your circumstances permit, for every single one of these articles will cost you considerable more to replace.

Here are a few of the most important in connection with some of our big crowd-drawing sales items:

In the Social Realm

Dark Continent Discussed.
The Travellers met Friday evening with Mrs. O. H. Barnhill. The subject was Africa, and many interesting facts were learned about the Dark Continent. Miss Jessie Hathaway spoke on her work for the Louise Rescue Home at Portland, May Bess and Jessie Thatcher sang a duet and Miss Berna Haight played an instrumental solo, after which refreshments were served. There were present, beside those mentioned, Minnie Beaver, Vida Bradshaw, Amy Lavitt, Ocean Delbert, Annabelle Van Natta and Ada Hartley.

To the Members of the Auxiliary Club.
Attention, ladies! one and all, And list unto the president's call. For you there is a treat in store From the time you step inside the door.
The wild man from Borneo will be there And in the cage next him the grizzly bear:
The fat woman, weighing seven hundred or more, Will walk the tight rope, then drop to the floor.
And waltz with the man tattooed with snakes.
You will find this a real show and no mistake.
The big-footed man and little Tom Thumb—
You should not miss this, but all of you come.
The price, oh! yes—well, let me see— You know we cannot make it free, But it will not be much, and the program is good.
If I were you I would go if I could.
A Red Cross nurse will sit at the gate,
And make the change and your money take.
Mesdames Bowers and Tracy and Miss McCall, hostesses of the evening.

Brotherhood Class to Meet.
The Brotherhood class of the Methodist church is planning a high jinks for men only Friday evening, in the social room of the church. The password will be a joke or funny story. There will be instrumental and quartet music, readings by Dick Posey and others, short talks by Prof. Moore and others, eats and drinks and a general good time. If you belong to this class, or ought to, don't let this get by you.

Domestic Science Classes.
The two domestic science teachers of the Ashland schools are holding a few meetings on Monday afternoons from 4 to 5 o'clock at the high school and West school. Remember the date and be there at 3:40 o'clock. This will enable all to get home and prepare 6 o'clock dinner. Miss Ringheim and Miss Brandeis are doing this by request and giving their time and services without any reward only as the ladies of Ashland show their appreciation by being present.

Soldiers' Auxiliary.
At the meeting of the Soldiers' Auxiliary at the library this evening at 8 o'clock H. G. Butterfield will be present and holiday questions will be discussed. Everyone is invited to be present at all meetings. This is not an organization confined to parents of boys at Fort Stevens, but for every citizen of Ashland interested in our boys serving in the army or navy.

Shower for Bride.
A linen and cooking utensil shower was held at the home of Mrs. Claude Warren on Granite street Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Orpha Peffley, who is to be wedded later in the month to Joe Larder. The pursuit of needlework filled the pleasant hours of the afternoon, and before adjourning the hostess served refreshments. The guest list included Miss Orpha Peffley, Mrs. J. D. Peffley, Mrs. C. W. Fraley, Mrs. G. R. Slingerland, Mrs. Ed Wolters, Mrs. W. M. Barber, Mrs. D. D. Edwards, Mrs. McCurry, Vera Warren, Eva Hask, Yvonne Smith, Lena Burton, Alice Slingerland, Pearl Moritz, Frances Robertson, Homer and Paul Culbertson, Verle Burrett and John Edwards.

day afternoon, November 3, which united the lives of Lieut. Walter Anderson Phillips of the 19th Field Artillery, at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Texas, and Miss Lillian Lee Towns of Nixon. The ceremony was performed at the parsonage of the Travis Park Methodist church, 203 Lexington avenue, at 4 o'clock, Rev. Wesley C. Webdel officiating. Those in attendance at the wedding were Mesdames Frank R. Davies, W. C. Pouchee and Walter Davies, and Misses Clara and Melba Pouchee. The bride is a Gonzales county belle, having been born and reared there. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Towne, widely known residents of that community. Lieut. Phillips is a well-known Ashland boy. He is the son of Mrs. Lena A. Phillips and grandson of Mrs. E. K. Anderson, one of the pioneer residents of this city, and he has many friends here who extend congratulations and good wishes. After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Phillips went to Nixon, where they will visit at the home of the bride. Their future home will be in San Antonio.

Girl Run Down by Indians in Auto
Two intoxicated Indians in an automobile ran into a carriage driven by Miss Lucille Stewart, daughter of Frank Stewart, a rancher, on the streets of Klamath Falls Saturday night. Miss Stewart was thrown out on her head and her face was badly skinned. Her horse's leg was broken and the animal had to be shot. The Indians were speeding when the car ran into the girl's vehicle, knocking down the horse and passing completely over it. The inmates of the car continued on their way and made no attempt to assist the injured girl.

Office of Special Police Abandoned
R. G. Porter, who has rendered such excellent service as special liquor investigator for Jackson county during the past summer and fall, has received word that that office has been discontinued by the county court. Through Mr. Porter's efforts a curb was put on the wholesale delivery of liquor across the state line into Jackson county. Besides his meritorious service the county treasury has been increased to the extent of over $2,000 which has been collected in fines on violators who have been brought to justice during his term of office.

Sugar Hoarding Must Be Stopped
Individual selfishness and lack of patriotism are threatening, in various parts of the country, Oregon not excepted, to undo the splendid work of the United States Food Administration in regulating the prices of staple foods and preventing profiteering by wholesale and retail grocers. Reports are being made to the office of W. B. Ayer, federal food administrator for Oregon, that private individuals have been buying and hoarding certain staples, notably sugar, beyond all their reasonable needs.
"The person who does this," said Assistant Federal Food Administrator W. K. Newell, "is very shortsighted, as well as entirely selfish and unpatriotic. The United States Food Administration has given the public assurance that there is enough sugar for us all, and has arranged for an equitable distribution and a fair price, through its system of licensing the wholesale jobbers and large retailers. Under this system, which was expressly designed for the benefit of the people, all possibility of profiteering has been eliminated and the public assured of an abundant supply at reasonable prices."

Why complain of scarce fuel when there are so many of those ugly advertising signs erected along country highways that everyone would be glad to see knocked down?
