Ever Peel a Banana Skin? That's It!

"I should worry about those corns—I just put some 'Gets-It' on." Corns used to pester the world into a frenzy, enduring pain, digging, slicing toes, tinkering with plasters and tape, trying to fix a corn so it wouldn't hurt. But now no one in the world "should worry," because the moment you put "Gets-It" on, it means the end of a corn. There is nothing in the world like "Gets-It"—nothing as sure and certain—nothing that you can count on to take off a corn or callus every time, and without danger. The corn never grew that "Gets-It" will not get. It never irritates the flesh, never makes your toe sore. Just two drops of "Gets-It" and presto! the corn-pain vanishes. Shortly you can peel the corn right off with your finger and there you are—corn-free and happy with the toe as smooth and corn-free as your palm. Never happened before, did it? Guess not.

"Gets-It" Puts Your Feet in Clover—It Ends Corns Quickly.

DOLLARS GIVE COURAGE.

To Be Penniless Makes a Man Feel Dependent and Cowardly.
There is this to be said about wealth: It gives courage to the owner. Poverty makes cowards of us all.
"The man who is suffering with fear," says a writer, "because he does not know where the next dollar is coming from is in no condition to earn or to attract dollars. Fear always makes a man think he is weak, a nobody. It always pictures the worst, sees no light ahead."
We hear a great deal these days about efficiency and about inefficiency. The fellow who has saved a few dollars and has them in the bank or where he can put his hand upon them is more efficient than the fellow who is penniless. Start out to find a job with never a dollar in your pocket. You'll have a hard time. You appear at a disadvantage when you approach a business man. You feel your dependence. You have a cowardly air about you, an inefficient air. You realize that you will have to accept anything that is offered. You are in no position to look the business man in the face and tell him your qualifications. Want is at your back, causing you to cringe.

But with money in your pockets you assume a different attitude. You realize that you are to that extent independent. You meet the business man more nearly upon an equal footing. You are more courageous, more self assertive, more efficient. You know that you are not compelled to accept the first job offered you. You can discuss wages and contracts and conditions of employment if you are not "broke." So if for no other reason the young man should seek first of all to have a bank account, to have something right in the beginning.—Dayton News.

PUFFBALLS ARE GOOD FOOD.
And of All the Edible Fungi They Are Called the Safest.
Puffballs are the safest of all fungi for the beginner, none of them being poisonous, and they are at the same time excellent and easy to obtain, writes William A. Murrill, assistant director of the New York botanical garden, in the American Museum Journal.
Being tender, they cook quickly and are easily digested. They should as a rule be cut open before cooking to see that they are not too old and that they are really puffballs. If they are white and firm like cream cheese inside, showing no yellow or brownish discoloration, they are of the right age to use. If the interior shows no special structures, but is smooth and homogeneous, then one may be sure he has a puffball.
The "egg" of the deadly amanita contains the young cap and stem inside, which are readily seen when the "egg" is cut, and the "egg" of the stinkhorn shows the stem and a green mass inside, surrounded by a layer of jelly-like substance.
Puffballs may be cooked alone in various ways or used in stews and omelets and for stuffing roast fowls. When used in omelets they should be stewed first. All kinds except the very small one should first be peeled and cut into slices or cubes, after which they may be fried quickly in butter or dipped in beaten egg and fried like eggplant or cooked in any of the ways recommended for the ordinary mushroom. The smaller kinds are much inferior in flavor to the larger ones and need a few specimens of some good mushroom to make them attractive.

Seasickness.

The old fashioned notion that a good dose of seasickness was beneficial was due wholly to the fact that upon recovery the victim of mal de mer is usually so delighted that he is apt to imagine that he never felt better in his life, while feeling normal again is merely so great a contrast to the exceedingly wretched condition which this disorder brings about that exaggeration of one's feelings is the most natural thing in the world. Seasickness is far from pleasant. It is not beneficial, and in rare cases it terminates fatally.

Round Shoulders.
An excellent exercise to straighten round shoulders—good for girls or women who have to sit a good deal—is performed by placing a thin stick or wand across the back and letting it run out through the bent elbows. The arms are bent so that the hands rest on the chest. Keep the arms and shoulders pressed back and down and walk about the room in this way for five or ten minutes.—Chicago News.

Moisture and Temperature.
A cubic foot of air at the temperature of zero (F.) can contain only .5 of a grain of water vapor, at 32 degrees it can hold 2.13 grains, at 65 it can contain 6.8 grains and at 98 it can hold 18.96 grains of moisture in suspension. These figures go to show that summer air can hold at least nine times the quantity of dampness that air can when reduced to the temperature of freezing.

Longer Than Expected.
Vandewater—So at your request he spoke at your dinner?
Broadway—He did.
"And did he come up to your expectations?"
"Why, he went an hour beyond it."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Young America Is Urged to Enlist

A great drive to make every school child in America buy at least one 25-cent thrift stamp during the first week of the war savings campaign which opened Monday has been announced by the national war savings committee. Savings stamps and certificates by which it is planned to raise $2,000,000,000 within the next year went on sale at every postoffice Monday morning and at banks, schools, stores and other institutions later in the week.

Secretary McAdoo's message to young America said:

"Nations have their childhood and their days of hard lessons, just as children do. One hundred and forty years ago, when the first American army marched to battle, our nation was younger among nations than you are among your fathers, your mothers and their friends. Our army had drummer boys in those days, the real boys of 10 and 12, who marched as bravely into cannon fire as their great chief, General Washington, himself. Our nation had little girls who laughed and cheered and loaded muskets for their fathers, who fired through loopholes in their cabin homes, when the painted Indians charged to the very doors.
"Where many school houses stand today American boys and girls may have helped to fight and defeat the enemy, when our nation, too, was young.
"We are in the greatest war of the world's history and we must win this war. We can and we shall win, if the boys and girls of America say so, and mean it, and feel it, and live it, as the boys and girls of '76 lived, and felt, and helped.
"The nation needs that sort of boys and girls today. Not to beat our drums, nor to load our muskets, but to start a great work which must be done. It is the part of boys and girls today to give an example of self-denial and sacrifice, to teach fathers and mothers, to teach the grown people of the nation that we still have in every young heart the spirit of '76, when boys led our soldiers into battle, and girls fought beside their fathers at the cabin walls. The lesson is thrifty saving to the point of sacrifice—self-denial of everything unnecessary.

"If every boy and girl says at home tonight, 'I will fight in this war; I will save every penny and loan it to my government to help save the lives of the big brothers of America; I will try to teach every American I see to do the same'—then 20,000,000 homes, of all America, will be filled with the spirit of '76, the spirit of the drummer boys; of the brave girls of those days.

"America will win the war again, as it has always won, through the splendid strength, courage and sacrifice in the hearts of youth, that today will teach the nation the lessons of saving and serving which it must and will learn, through the message which its school children will carry home.
"Through saving your pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters and buying thrift stamps and then war savings certificates, you will help your country and its gallant armies to win the war.
"I know you will help."
