O. L. S. C. Met.

The Ongeva C. L. S. C. was delightfully entertained at the home of the president, Mrs. Cassius Miller, Monday afternoon. The program was taken from the second book of the course, "Roman Characters and Events." The roll was called and the members responded with current events, after which Mrs. A. W. Boslough gave an interesting paper on "The Life and Times of Nero." This was followed by Mrs. John Miller, who read an instructive paper on "Roman Jurisprudence," Mrs. R. W. Cuveiller told of the Roman road at Acqueduct and Mrs. Choate gave a sketch of the life and works of Virgil. The rest of the afternoon was devoted to Mrs. Charles Robertson, who gave a thorough and comprehensive review of "Quo Vadis." Delicious refreshments were served after the program. At the next meeting at the library Mrs. Creeks will review "The Last Days of Pompeii."

At the regular meeting of Alpha chapter, O. E. S., Wednesday evening the following officers were elected: Mrs. Grace Turner, worthy matron; Rev. P. K. Hammond, worthy patron;

Mrs. Caroline Schuerman, associate matron; Mrs. Leah Caldwell, secretary; Miss Lydia McCall, treasurer; Mrs. Edith Sackett, conductress; and Mrs. Elizabeth Bush, associate conductress. The appointive officers have not yet been chosen.

A Unique Social and Musical Gathering.

Mrs. Cadwell, Mrs. Julia Hockett and younger daughter were entertained by Professor and Mrs. H. G. Gilmore at their home on Scenic Drive Monday afternoon. The occasion furnished a splendid opportunity for the overhauling (so to speak) of the beat there is in music, for in addition to several brilliant numbers from the French and English schools of music played by Professor Gilmore on his orchestral organ of many

May Declare War Against Austria

A definite statement to the world of America's war aims and of the basis upon which peace will be considered was made Tuesday by President Wilson in an address to congress, in which he urged immediate declaration of a state of war between the United States and Austria-Hungary, Germany's vassal and tool.
As to Turkey and Bulgaria—also tools of the enemy—he counselled delay, because "they do not yet stand in the direct path of our necessary action."
To win the war, the president declared in emphatic and ringing tones, is the immediate and unalterable task ahead. He urged congress just beginning its second session, to concentrate itself upon it.
The president sharply dismissed the possibility of premature peace, sought by German intrigue and debated here by men who "understand neither its nature nor the way it may be attained." With victory an accomplished fact, he said, peace would be evolved and based upon mercy and justice—"to enemy and friend"—with hope of a partnership of nations to guarantee future world peace.
The war will be deemed won, he declared, when "the German people say to us, through properly accredited representatives, that they are ready to agree to a settlement based upon justice and reparation of the wrongs their rulers have done."
Terms of peace, he added, would not include dismemberment, robbery or punishment of the enemy, but would be based on justice, defined briefly as follows:
Freedom of nations and their peoples from autocratic domination, reparations to Belgium, relinquishment of German power over the peoples of Austria, Turkey, the free Balkan states as well as evacuation of Prussian territorial conquests in Belgium and northern France.

Celebrated Birthday.

Mrs. William M. McDonald gave a birthday party Tuesday afternoon at her home on B street in honor of the second anniversary of the birth of her little daughter, Lois. A dainty luncheon was served the tiny tots present at a table decorated with pink streamers. A birthday cake with two candles graced the center of the table, and the place cards were in pink. A prize cake containing pennies and nickels was also served the guests. The little ones present at the festivities were Mary Poley, Genevieve and Lois Gunn, Wanda Schwein, Marion Hinds and Lois McDonald. The following matrons kept the children company: Mrs. A. C. Gunn, Mrs. O. C. Hinds, Mrs. G. A. Gray, Mrs. T. J. Mackey and Mrs. W. M. McDonald.

Neighbors of Woodcraft.

Acorn Circle, No. 54, held an interesting meeting Saturday evening at I. O. O. F. hall, with Guardian Neighbor Annie L. G. Myer presiding. Visitors were welcomed, much business transacted and a social hour enjoyed. Mrs. Mary F. Swanson served a Hoover supper in the banquet hall.

Baptist Church.

The Sunday morning service at 11 o'clock will be given over to reports of our delegates to the Boys' Conference recently held in Eugene. This was a rousing conference, enthusiastic, inspirational. Earl Brown, Calvin McClellan, George Caldwell and Fred Cochran will speak under the leadership of Homer Billings. Come out and enjoy a young folks' meeting. Sunday school at 9:45; B. Y. P. U. at 8:30. No evening service.

500 Party.

The ladies of Trinity Guild will give a 500 party at the Parish House Friday evening, December 7. Everyone is cordially invited. An admission of 25 cents will be charged.

The ladies of the local Red Cross chapter are mighty good hustlers and generally get whatever they go after, even to securing their fuel supply from neighboring wood piles. Won't some kind person owning a timber patch please provide enough wood so these loyal ladies can continue their good work during the winter without the discomfort of a cold sewing room? The News will donate a year's subscription to the man bringing in the first load donated to a worthy cause. Any wood that can be used in a fireplace will do. John Ritter kindly donated his services in sawing the last batch of wood.—Gold Hill News.

War Declaration Expected Friday

A joint resolution declaring that a state of war exists between the United States and Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey was introduced in the senate Tuesday by Senator Pittman for Senator King of Utah. It was referred to the foreign relations committee without action.
The senate will be ready to pass a resolution next Friday declaring war against Austria, Senator Martin, majority leader, announced Tuesday. The resolution probably will be drafted at the state department. Some debate but no considerable opposition is expected. Chairman Flood plans to call the house foreign affairs committee together at an early date.

Thinks War Will Last Five Years

Dr. M. M. Dow of Medford, who recently returned from the Clinical College of Surgeons of North America, held in Chicago, makes the dire prophecy that the war will last five years. "I could find no one," said Dr. Dow, "from Colonel Decle of the French army to Sir Berkeley Meyhan of the British Medical Corps, who thought this war would end short of four or five years."
Dr. Dow says the tales of atrocities published in this country about the Germans do not tell half the story. Many distinguished French and English surgeons who have seen active service at the front were at the meeting, and they told of actual experiences which were so horrible, Dr. Dow declared, that they could not be printed.

Delayed reports of an exhibition swimming feat, in which Miss Cora Ueland was the star performer, are to the effect that a few days ago she plunged in the chilly waters of the South Umpqua "somewhere in West Roseburg" for the entertainment of a number of friends who stood on the bank and endeavored to keep their teeth from chattering, while the daring young woman went through numerous aquatic stunts for their gratification. Miss Ueland has won considerable local fame as an athlete, and her fearless plunge into the winter current of the river adds more laurels to her record.—Roseburg Review.
