FOOD CONTROL MEANS VICTORY

European Shortage Places Problem Before American Government—Farsighted Policy Adopted.

NEED 75,000,000 BU. WHEAT.

Food Administration Asks Aid of Every American in Gigantic Task of Feeding Millions.

It is the food problem over there that makes a food problem over here. If we wished to be supremely selfish—and supremely shortsighted—we could go on eating as much as we like and whatever we like, without much difficulty or interruption—at least, until the Germans came!

But we are not doing things in that selfish and suicidal way. We are trying to make a great common pool of all our food, and all of the food of the allies, and all of the food we can get from South American and other neutrals, and dividing it up fairly among America, England, France, Belgium and Italy.

This does not mean that all of the people in the great pool are going to have the same ration, but means that we are trying to arrange to have enough for everybody, so that the soldiers—our soldiers and their soldiers—will be well fed, as they have to be to fight hard and continuously, and that the munitions workers and the workers in all the other necessary industries, and the men and women at home will all have enough to keep alive and well. It is absolutely necessary to do this if the war is to be won, and we are going to do it, but it means planning, working, arranging, co-operating, being careful, not wasting, saving.

And it means that each and every one of us has got to help.

Now, we have enough and more than enough food for ourselves, and the Government is going to see to it that we keep here at home a sufficient supply of every essential kind of food to support our people. But over there they simply have not enough. Lord Rhondda, the English food controller, recently cabled the American food administrator, that unless we can send the allies before the next European harvest 75,000,000 bushels of wheat in addition to what had been sent up to January 1 of this year he could not assure the people of the allies that they would have a sufficient supply of food to carry on the war.

He did not say anything in this cable about the other food necessary, but he has told of these needs in other cables—and by his actions in England. For example, his latest regulation compels a reduction of meat eating in the United Kingdom to a maximum of one pound per week per person, this pound including the bone and other waste parts in the meat as bought in the shop.

The allies must have more wheat, more meat, more fats, more dairy products, more sugar. Their harvests were very short—France had less than half her normal crop of wheat—and the available shipping is small in amount and constantly being lessened by submarines, so that it is now practically impossible to use any ships for the long voyage necessary to bring food from Australia and other remote markets. The food must come chiefly from America. In specific figures it is necessary for us to send to the allies 1,200,000 tons of foodstuffs a month. This is a great responsibility and a great problem. The food must be found, and also the ships to carry it. It is being done, but can only continue to be done by the help and full co-operation of all of us over our broad land. We must produce and save more.

To supply the wheat necessary until the next harvest, we must reduce our consumption by from one-fourth to one-third; we must cut down our usual average consumption of meats and fats by from 10 to 15 per cent, and dairy products by about 10 per cent.

Over there they are tightening their belts and doing everything they can. They are eating war bread; they are cutting down their sugar in England to two pounds per person per month, and in France and Italy to one pound—how much are you eating?—and they are using ration cards for most of the staples. We must meet sacrifice with sacrifice. If we don't, we are helping to lose the war instead of helping to win it.

BEST IN THE LONG RUN

The First Infantry Guns Weighed 75 Pounds

FOOT soldiers began to carry firearms about 1350, huge, clumsy guns weighing from 25 to 75 pounds. Mere hand cannon, iron or copper tubes, they were leveled by a forked support, and fired at a touch hole. With the invention of the wheel-lock arquebus, in 1517, the first self-firing gun, the musket, was a quick step. Like the first guns, automobile tires, when Goodrich began to develop them, were crude, clumsy affairs, and it's a long, long road of improvement to the symmetrical—

GOODRICH SERVICE VALUE TIRES

The history of the last twenty-two years of The B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company is pretty much the history of pneumatic automobile tire. But whether Goodrich was bringing forth America's first clincher tire, or America's first cord tire—

Goodrich built tires to last one end—SERVICE VALUE to the user—the worth of the tire to the motorist on his car and on the road in comfort, economy, dependability and durability, and mileage.

That is why the tire user to-day gets the utmost SERVICE VALUE in GOODRICH SILVERTOWN CORDS, and BLACK SAFETY TIRES.

NEW RAILROAD LINE MAY BE SOON BUILT

The rails of the new municipal railroad from Klamath Falls to Dairy, 20 miles east, and the first link of the great Strahorn system which is destined later to develop the great inland empire of Oregon, have now reached Olene, 10 miles east, and it is expected that active operations over that part of the line will be instituted at an early date, according to information given out at the Strahorn headquarters. While some work remains to be done in the big rock cuts and fills, the greater portion of the route between Olene and Dairy is ready, and is now waiting for the rails, which will be laid as soon as the grade is entirely completed. Officials assert that the Klamath-Dairy link is now about 80 per cent completed. When Dairy is reached, Strahorn plans to complete his grades to the Sprague river 20 miles north. It is expected that a considerable tonnage will be available as soon as the road is in operation.—Klamath Falls Herald.

PERSHING ISSUES ORDERS FOR SOLDIERS TO WRITE

The war department has made public a general order issued by General Pershing encouraging members of the American expeditionary forces to keep up correspondence with their relatives and friends at home. One of the greatest arguments for a constant flow of letters between France and America, General Pershing said, was that it relieves much distress and anxiety on the part of relatives and friends at home. General Pershing's order said: "First: Duty to one's country does not end on the parade ground, nor even on the battle field, but consists in doing everything in one's power to help win the war. To write home frequently and regularly, to keep in constant touch with family and friends, is one of the soldier's most important duties. Mothers and fathers will suffer if they do not hear often from sons fighting in France. In the present large companies it is not possible for officers to write letters for their men and every man must do it for himself. "Second: When no letters are received from overseas, the greatest distress is caused to those at home. They either feel that letters have been written but lost en route or they imagine all sorts of evils, such as sickness, wounds, even death. Both are bad for the active militant spirit which every true American man and woman must possess if our army is to obtain the real victory that all so earnestly desire. "Third: Everyone in the United States who has a son or brother in the American army expeditionary forces is proud of him, is constantly thinking of him, is anxious to hear from him. Letters home will bring many letters in reply and the closer home ties will have potent influence for good, both in France and in the United States. All officers should realize this fact, and both by encouraging their men and providing them with the proper facilities do everything in their power to interest them in this vital question of writing home." No one knows how long this war will last. If we are to win we will win with four collateral weapons—men, munitions, ships and food. It may require years to win it, and we intend to fight it out on this line—not if it takes all summer, but if it takes all your lifetime and mine.
