ASHLAND CHILDREN TO

OVERSEAS CHILDREN.

A Children's Christmas department is to be added to the Red Cross Salvage shop, and the object is this: 1st, That every child in Ashland donate one gift to this department. 2nd, That every child in Ashland buy one gift from this department. 3rd, That all money taken in at this department be given to the war-stricken children overseas. Isn't the very thought glorious!

Did some one give you a dolly, a book, a toy you have taken such splendid care of it could be passed along? We want to paste one of those Red Cross stamps that are sold for Red Cross relief work on every gift. Just think of the spirit of it! Every girl and every boy in Ashland on Christmas morning with a gift that says: "Cheer Christmas three times, because I am sending cheer and comfort to suffering children and somebody has a gift that you donated and somebody has a gift that you gave to them that's doing the same thing."

One nice way would be to take it up in the Sunday school classes, the class set a day for members to bring in gifts, then send all the gifts in one package to the Christmas department.

This Christmas department is ready to receive gifts from today and would like them donated before the special opening day which will be early in November, the date isn't set but the day of the week will be Saturday for sure.

We want every High school girl and boy to take this up as their special Christmas offering to suffering boys and girls.

Now grown folks think that children are the most important of the two, grown folks are so nice to have around and at Christmas time they do have such a way of acting just like little folks, they are so handy to go to for small change too, so we count them in on this grand Christmas Special. Some of them may send in nice little thin slips of paper with their names on them—that the banks cash for real dollars and that sure would send cheer to children overseas.

We want this corner in the Salvage shop festive and gay so if grown folks will loan to us one or two nice large tables, a screen, Christmas decorations, anything Christmasy we will take good care of things and return after our sale. Then if several grown folks would give several dollars to buy those Red Cross stamps to paste on the gifts it would be splendid. If we want any thing else we will let them know.

There is a Fairy watches over the Red Cross shop as you know and for this Special Children's Christmas Sale she has appointed Cinderella's own special Fairy. It's so simple, isn't it? Love and gifts to the home folks; love, cheer and money to suffering children. For our first big, generous gift—the space for this lengthy announcement—we gratefully thank the Salvage shop's good friend, The Tidings.

Recognition of this willingness to serve has resulted in an increase for male labor totaling more than 100 per cent since February, 1916. In the case of our female help the increase has been even greater, this help now receiving 165 per cent more than in 1916.

To take care of the war business, Mr. Churchill said that all the packers in the country had been forced to build new freezers and buildings of every description at a cost of two to three times greater than pre-war cost.

He paid tribute to the government inspectors of the Bureau of Animal Industry and of the army who select the meat, and said: "In addition to the safeguard that this is to the soldier and sailor, it is a safeguard to us. It safeguards us from attack from those who for their own personal aggrandizement or for other reasons may seek to criticize unjustly one of the few industries that in the early days of the war, and up to the present time, has continued to supply our Government with what it wanted, as it wanted it, when it was needed, without quibble as to price."

"That is a record of which we should be proud, gentlemen. It demonstrates that we are doing—not our bit, but our full share toward winning this war, doing it cheerfully, willingly and because we are in this war to win; and to win, our soldiers must be fed and fed with good food."

However quiet the routine of your life may be, it cannot fail to be varied and exciting as long as the conservation rules are different each month.

says that down South the best people won't chew anything but Real Gravely. They know how it's made—the Gravely way. It costs nothing extra to chew this class of plug. A small chew of Gravely holds its good taste. That's why it lasts so much longer than a big chew of ordinary plug.

It goes further—that's why you can get the good taste of this class of tobacco without extra cost.

these houses afford a meeting place where the men may see their mothers, sisters, wives, or sweethearts.

"Without the benefit of these hostess houses, our men would be in bad luck, especially if the weather should happen to be inclement when the camp, as is the case at Camp Kearny and Camp Fremont, happens to be of canvas. There is almost no other place at such camps where soldiers may meet their friends and relatives.

"I desire to express my sincere appreciation of the kindly thoughtfulness which has prompted the Y. W. C. A. to provide these useful and attractive buildings for the comfort and pleasure of our soldiers, together with their relatives and friends."

ARTILLERY AFFORDS CHANCE TO ADVANCE.

Registered and classified men, volunteer for the Heavy Artillery, the service of big guns, great high explosive shells, and real action. All the registered men need to do is to write to the Commanding Officer, Coast Defense of the Columbia, Fort Stevens, Oregon, giving his name; order and registration number; class (number and letter); present address; number and address of local board; and whether qualified for general service or limited service; and the necessary papers will be sent to the man so that he may report for duty.

No branch of the army offers more chances not only for advancement but for learning specialized duties, the knowledge of which will be very valuable later in civil life. Schools are provided to train men to be electricians, stenographers, telegraphers, draftsmen, surveyors, telephone men, truck and auto drivers, and various other technical and scientific work. All of this is vitally necessary to the successful operation of the great "heavies" that are being amassed in greater numbers and with more power.

Regiments for overseas are being sent at frequent intervals and this is an opportunity for men qualified for this superior service.

A letter to Fort Stevens with the necessary information will get you in while voluntary induction is permitted.

HOSTESS HOUSES PLAY IMPORTANT PART IN CAMP.

Without the benefit of the Y. W. C. A. hostess house at Camp Kearny the thousands of western soldiers stationed in the big cantonment would be in "bad luck," according to Major General David C. Shanks, the commanding general, who has advised Western Department headquarters of the Y. W. C. A. of the important part the hostess houses play. His letter to the Y. W. C. A. follows:

"Among the most useful of all utilities at our various camps, the hostess houses established by the Young Women's Christian Association take high rank. Soldiers undergoing training at the camp are often visited by their relatives and
