

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD IN HONOR OF WAR HEROES

In honor of attendants of that church who have fallen in line of duty during the great conflict, memorial services were held in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning. Three gold stars were added to the service flag on the church walls, and were placed there by Mayor C. B. Lamkin in behalf of the session and membership of the church. These are to commemorate the memory of the three out of the thirty-four whose names appear on the honor roll of the church who have made the supreme sacrifice for their country, and are Lee C. Meadows, Archie L. Smith and George Turner-Nell. The latter was reported among those who died of pneumonia in France, while the other two fell in battle. An eloquent tribute was paid to these three heroes by the pastor, Rev. C. F. Koehler, and the choir rendered special music.

RECEIVED NEWS THAT SON WAS PROMOTED TO MAJOR

Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Humphreys of the Ashland Mills received word during the past week that their son, former Captain Lester W. Humphreys of the 364th infantry in France, had been promoted to be major, with transfer to the staff. This deserved promotion was given him after the Argonne Forest engagement, in which he served in the 91st division. Maj. Humphreys attended the first officers training camp at the Presidio in 1917, and was commissioned a captain. He was assigned to Camp Lewis and went overseas with a contingent leaving this country last July. In civil life Major Humphreys is an attorney, and has been associated with Chamberlain, Thomas, Kraemer & Humphreys in Portland.

AGED MAN SUCCEEDS TO STROKE OF APOPLEXY

Charles Stennett, the aged father of L. M. and W. S. Stennett of this city, was stricken with apoplexy some time during Wednesday night, from which death resulted at four o'clock Saturday morning. During the intervening period he never regained consciousness. Mr. Stennett had been a resident of Ashland for the past thirteen years where he made his home with his son, William on Factory street. His wife preceded him to the grave many years ago. He is survived by four children, L. E. and W. S. Stennett of Ashland; A. F. Stennett of Medford and Mrs. W. L. Stennett of Atlantic, Iowa, a brother, Hugh Stennett of Elliott, Iowa, and two sisters, Mrs. Eliza Harlan of Lincoln, Neb., and Mrs. W. N. Dinwiddie of Gold Hill.

Mr. Stennett has been for many years of the Christian church and was a faithful attendant as long as his health permitted. The funeral services were conducted by the church jointly with the G. A. R. of which he was also a member, at Stock's undertaking parlors, Monday at 2 o'clock, with burial at Mountain View cemetery.

Y. M. C. A. WANTS MEN FOR OVERSEAS

In line with the call extended for Y. M. C. A. workers overseas that is being extended all over the country Ashland was visited by two workers representing the red triangle both at home and abroad, who addressed an audience in the Methodist church Wednesday evening. While the announcement of this meeting had not been made public for any length of time, the news that a speaker would be present from the trenches where so many of our boys are now, was sufficient to bring out a large and interested audience.

Frank E. Sickles of Portland, recruiting secretary for the Y. M. C. A., stated the object of their presence in the city, which was not to beg for money but for men to recruit for Y. M. C. A. work overseas. He pointed out the fact that an armistice is not a declaration of peace, and until the treaty is signed an American army is necessary to be maintained in Europe. For the purpose of looking after the welfare and comfort of the boys detained in those countries abroad 8,000 men are wanted to enlist for overseas service in the Y. M. C. A.

Accompanying Mr. Sickles on this recruiting tour is Rev. James Elvin, a returned secretary from France, who gave a most inspiring address, relating his personal experiences with the boys in the trenches. According to Mr. Elvin too much cannot be said in praise of the boys for their courage, generosity, magnanimity and humor, which characteristics have made them the greatest soldiers in the world. Mr. Elvin enlarged on the methods taken by the "Y" secretaries to help the boys in time of stress and trouble, and to teach and inspire them to clean, kindly living. This, he claims, is the work of the Y. M. C. A. is doing in France and other European countries, and the demand for men able to teach and lead the boys who will remain in the army of occupation is greater than ever before.

SPECIAL TAX VOTED TO BUILD SIX MILES OF ROAD

At the meeting of the taxpayers of road district No. 1 held at the Bellevue school house November 30, a proposition was carried for one mill special tax to be expended for the construction of a new piece of six miles of road between Kean and Jenny creeks on the Ashland-Klamath Falls road as according to the engineering done during the past summer by the Oregon State Highway Commissioner's engineers. This will raise $7000 special taxes in addition to the special road tax and the county court of Jackson county has agreed to pay half from the general road fund.

LOOKED IN VAIN TO SEE AIRPLANE IN TRIAL FLIGHT

News reached Ashland Tuesday afternoon that an airplane leaving Mather Field, Sacramento, would pass over this city at about 1 o'clock, and a goodly portion of the population spent some time gazing heavenward in the hope of catching a glimpse of the visitant. It was of no avail, however, as the plane followed a course that took it east of the mountains. It was only at Eagle Point that the plane was viewed from this section. The flight was one of a series planned to determine what would be the most satisfactory aerial mail route between Seattle and Sacramento.

FINES FOR ORDINANCE VIOLATIONS MOUNT UP

At the regular meeting of the city council last Tuesday night little was done beyond the hearing of reports from the various municipal departments and other routine business. The report of D. M. Brower, judge of the city court, showed that seven complaints had been heard during the past month, three for the violation of traffic ordinances, and one for the violation of the poolroom ordinance. Money collected in fines in November amounted to $97.50. Several appliances necessary for the use of the street and electric departments were ordered purchased.

ASHLAND WOMEN HELP IN WAR WORK WHENEVER ASKED

Ashland's patriotism in oversubscribing to all her war work has gained so much prominence that frequently individuals are called upon to assist in work along patriotic measures from a distance, and these calls always meet with a generous response. This was demonstrated a few days ago when Mrs. Julia Hockett was asked to procure material for comforts for the reconstruction hospital that is being erected in Denver, Colo., where 5,000 soldiers will be treated for injured lungs when they return from France, she immediately set to work to gather pieces to send back for this purpose. Happening in Vaupel's store while engaged in this work she mentioned her occupation to Miss Gertrude Cox, one of the efficient clerks there. Miss Cox immediately expressed her sympathies and interest in this work and offered a number of pieces of material to Mrs. Hockett which could be utilized for this purpose. Later she telephoned Mrs. Hockett that she and Miss Emery would make a comfort, and last Saturday surprised and gratified the former by presenting her with a beautifully pieced and tied comfort ready to send to the hospital.

This Christmas number of the Tidings may be had at Poley's drug store or at the Tidings office at five cents each. There are some splendid articles in it, of the kind that will do the city good. It is a number to send your friends as it gives a good synopsis of the city.

R. W. HASTINGS DIED FROM HEART AFFECTION

R. W. Hastings, the well known barber who conducted a shop in the Enders building on East Main St., died at his home on Third street Saturday night. The deceased had been ill only a few days, altho he had been a sufferer from asthma contributory to heart disease for many years. No arrangements have been made for funeral services, as the family are awaiting the arrival of relatives.

PASTORS TO BE INFORMED WHEN BOYS COME HOME

Every church and pastor in every city, town and hamlet of the western states, from which the bulk of the soldiers from Camp Lewis have been drawn, are to be kept in touch with the demobilization of these soldiers that local churches may prepare religious and social programs which will fit the needs and desires of the returning soldiers. This announcement was made at a conference held in Camp Lewis last week of the Y. M. C. A. executives, army chaplains, a civilian clergyman. The pastors will be advised concerning the returning soldiers thru the Y. M. C. A. officers and army chaplains.

WELL KNOWN RED CROSS WORKER PASSED AWAY

Mrs. A. D. Graham, one of the prominent residents of Ashland, died at her home on North Main street at about midnight Saturday night after an illness extending over several weeks. During the time of her illness a valiant fight for her life was waged by attending physicians and nurses, but it proved of no avail, and her life gradually ebbed away, until death resulted Saturday.

The death of Mrs. Graham has caused a lasting sorrow to the lives of the many friends who knew and appreciated her excellent qualities. During the past year her energies had been devoted to Red Cross work, and in this work she was occupied until the very last when illness overtook her.

Funeral services will be held from the late residence Wednesday afternoon. The deceased is survived by one son, Paul Williams, and a stepson, Sergeant Arthur Graham, of Fort Stevens.

SOLDIERS NOT VICIOUS BECAUSE THEY KILL HUNS

Rev. James Elvin, the returned Y. M. C. A. secretary who spoke in the Methodist church last week on his experiences overseas with the American boys in the trenches, remarked that generosity was one of the great characteristics of the soldiers. He related many instances of their kindness to one another, and even for the foe, for whom, he claims, they have no hatred. They go at the business of killing Germans about in the same manner as a housewife kills vermin, and that is the end of it. When it comes to taking wounded prisoners their consideration is greater for them than it is for their own injuries. "I'm all right," he said they would remark to the surgeons and nurses. "Fix up Fritz first and don't you bother about me."

DIRECTORS AND MEMBERS OF RED CROSS TO MEET

There will be a meeting of the Directors and members of the Ashland Branch, American Red Cross at Red Cross headquarters, on the evening of Tuesday, December 10, at 7:30. At this meeting reports of officers and heads of committees will be submitted and the election of officers for 1919 will be held. All members of Ashland Branch A. R. C. are entitled to vote at this meeting and all are urged to attend and exercise that privilege. Show your interest and appreciation of the work that has been done the past year by a large attendance at this meeting.

SOLDIER KILLED AT NIGHT AFTER FIGHTING ALL DAY

McKinley Pound, a young soldier from South Dakota and nephew of E. N. Norton and Mrs. J. P. Halfhill, met his death on a battlefield in France a short time ago, according to tidings which reached these families last week. This young man wrote a letter to his sister during a lull in a battle thru which he had fought all day, and from which he had escaped uninjured. That night as he slept, a German shell exploded near him, killing him instantly. The next morning an officer found the letter and posted it with the news of the death of the young man. Peace was declared before this letter reached its destination, and the family were looking forward to a reunion with the young soldier abroad, when the letter came with its sad message, turning their joy into great sorrow.

PAID HONOR TO ENGLAND FOR HER PART IN WAR

Great Britain's achievements in the great world war were honored by a public service in the armory Sunday afternoon which was attended by a representative audience who were inspired by the eloquent addresses delivered by Rev. P. K. Hammond, Prof. G. H. Gilmore and Prof. J. E. Vining. The Ashland band furnished instrumental music, and Mrs. Hockett sang several pleasing old English ballads to the accompaniment of the piano played by Prof. Gilmore. The meeting was presided over by Mayor C. B. Lamkin.
