Burleson Releases Small Phone Co's.

Class D telephone companies, those whose gross revenues do not exceed $10,000 a year, are released from direct federal supervision thru an order of the postmaster general, according to a copy of the order received by the public service commission. Certain conditions cover the release. The companies are to refrain from constructing any lines paralleling or duplicating lines of other telephone companies. They are to collect the service connection charges and standard toll rates and are to obey other future orders directed to the licensed companies. The companies are to waive all claims for compensation for use of their lines or systems during the period of government control and are to accept their earnings as compensation. Any company that does not want to accept these terms must notify the postmaster general within 30 days from the date of this order, April 11. Otherwise the company will be presumed to have accepted.

Farm and Field

Larger Acreage in Crops in 1918

When this country entered the war Uncle Sam called for an increased production of food, urging the farmers of the country to plant every available acre. The food producers of the Nation responded by planting over 11,000,000 acres more than had been planted during the year previous. The acreage of all crops during 1918, according to figures just tabulated by the Bureau of Crop Estimates, United States Department of Agriculture, was 367,738,000, as compared to 356,341,000 acres planted in 1917 and 344,793,000 acres planted in 1916. These figures are based on the acreage of corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, buckwheat, potatoes, sweet potatoes, tobacco, flax, rice, hay, cotton, peanuts, kafirs, beans, broom corn, hops, and cranberries, which crops comprised 96.6 per cent of all the crops grown in this country in 1909.

Canned Tomatoes Held by Army

Rumors to the effect that prices for tomatoes at canneries will be lower this year because canned tomatoes held by the Government will be thrown on the market are said to be current in some producing sections. The War Department has just announced an increase in the amount of canned tomatoes issued as a part of the Army ration and has added the following canned vegetables to the regular ration: Peas, string beans, corn, pumpkin, and squash. In this connection officials of the Quartermaster General's office have stated that these changes in the rations of canned vegetables will entirely dispose of the stocks held by the Army and that none of these will be sold.

Peach Crop in Good Condition

The condition about April 1 of the commercial peach crop was 84 per cent of normal compared to the final percentage last year of 52.4, according to the Bureau of Crop Estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture. No quantity estimates were given, but the bureau, assuming that adverse conditions do not affect the crop later, said that April 1 condition report indicates that the 1919 peach crop may possibly exceed the very light crop of 20,546,000 bushels in 1918 by as much as 40 per cent, and may equal, if not exceed, the 28,901,000-bushel crop of 1917. Conditions generally throughout the peach regions are excellent, says the bureau, but emphasis is placed on the temporary nature of early peach reports.

Selecting Superior Spuds

To select strains of potatoes which are best adapted for commercial production, the United States Department of Agriculture and co-operating State agencies are conducting extensive experiments in seed improvement. Trials are being made in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Oregon, Washington, Maine, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas. Several strains of the leading commercial varieties now grown in the North are under test, the purpose being to study them carefully under actual growing and harvest conditions in these fields, and to select the best strain of seed of each commercial variety. The following year each strain will be grown on a larger scale. As the supply of seed stock permits, the seed is to be distributed among growers and seedsmen, and in this way is to be gradually popularized and disseminated. This investigation will be of country-wide significance in improving the future stocks of seed potatoes.

Extension Schools for Beekeepers

The second of a series of extension schools for beekeepers was held recently at Ithaca, N. Y., by bee specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. The first school was held in California. Three more are to be held in April, in Indiana, Iowa, and Minnesota, respectively. These schools, which continue for one week and consist of lectures on various phases of beekeeping, are designed especially for the commercial beekeeper rather

Farm Workers Are Scarce in Country

Despite the surplus of labor in many sections of the country efforts of the United States employment service to secure labor for work on the farms has met with little success, says a statement made public by the department of labor. Concerning the labor situation, the statement says reports for the week ending April 12 from 59 cities indicate an improvement in unemployment conditions. Reports from these cities show 36 having a surplus of labor in representative industries aggregating 97,900, as compared with a surplus over the previous week of 123,605.

Seven cities show a shortage aggregating 3750, or 800 less than the previous week, while 16 show an equality of labor supply and demand. Of the 36 cities reporting surpluses, it is noticeable, says the statement, that 14 showed decreases and none showed a material increase. "Improvement in labor supply and demand during the week have been better on the Pacific coast than in any other section of the country," concludes the statement.
