ASHLAND, OREGON, TUESDAY, JUNE 3, 1919

NUMBER 35.

Riders and Ropers Applying For Entrance

The officers in charge of the Rogue River roundup have been actively engaged during the past week visiting the various sections of the county and scattering literature pertaining to the great event to be staged here July 3, 4 and 5. Every remote district in the valley and nearby counties will be visited by this enthusiastic bunch of hustlers, and everywhere they go they are met with questions concerning the big roundup in Ashland, and indications point to the coming event being the greatest one ever staged in this city.

During the past three years many new thrillers have come to light in roundup doings and fancy riding, and while the old name of Rogue River Roundup still applies to the event, the attractions this year will be altogether new sensations, so that no one may fear of being bored by a repetition of the features heretofore presented.

Riders from all over the state are beginning to set up and take notice of Ashland as never before, and the aggregation of riders, bulldozers and ropers are legion who are applying for information regarding the contests. The grounds will be fitted up and improved, and the settings will be more attractive and comfortable.

Medford To Have Rest Room In Park

Medford citizens have the promise of being well looked after during the celebration, July 3, 4 and 5. The Greater Medford Club has asked for a concession in the park at that time, and will establish a rest room at a convenient point, where residents of the sister city will find comforts and conveniences during the days of the observance. This will be at their disposal during the late hours of the Fourth, so that women with children can remain late in the evening to the fireworks and will be provided with a retreat to rest during the intervals between the various attractions.

Sermon To School Largely Attended

A crowded house attended the services in the Methodist church last Sunday evening, when the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the high school was delivered by the pastor, Rev. C. A. Edwards. A most inspiring and instructive discourse was presented by Mr. Edwards, who chose as his subject, "The Glory of the Commonplace." Revs. C. F. Koehler of the Presbyterian church and G. Southwell Brett of the Congregational church assisted in the services. Special music by the choir was also a pleasing feature.

GRANITE PROPERTY IS BEING IMPROVED

Frank Jordan has demonstrated, beyond question, what a little work properly performed will do to beautify a home. Lately he has built a cobbler stone wall and installed cement steps, artistically designed with cement flower urns at each side and added a thousand dollars to the looks of his property at an expense of a couple of hundred. Granite, along that section is taking on new lustre every day by the improvements citizens are making in beautifying their homes. Some day property facing on the park will be the highest per front foot in Ashland, not barring the best business properties.

WEATHER FORECAST FOR COMING WEEK

Forecast for the period June 2 to 7, 1919, inclusive. Pacific coast states: Generally fair; normal temperatures.

Only four weeks left until the big celebration. Get your order in now at Orres for the new suit.

World's Sweetest Singer Coming

Madame Schumann-Heink, who will sing before an Ashland audience Wednesday evening, June 18, is a marvel among singers and the acknowledged idol of all the people. Casting about in the scores of great artists who have visited America one is at a loss to name an equally great personage, and the reason is not difficult to define. It rests upon the manifold gifts of Schumann-Heink.

Gifts any one of which might easily win fame for whoever possessed it are hers. Her operatic career, for instance, overshadowed that of any contralto in history. No voice has ever matched her own in the numberless shades and colors of expression. In short, she seems to stand for the acme of each and everything that is finest in the art of song.

COURT WILL UPHOLD INCREASED RATES

Railroad freight and passenger rate increases made by the railroad administration last June were upheld by the supreme court Monday. North Dakota supreme court decrees enjoining the Northern Pacific railroad and Director General Hines from enforcing an order of the railroad administration increasing rates in that state were reversed. The court also set aside lower court decrees which held that under section 15 of the railroad control act, pre-existing intrastate rates remained in effect as lawful police regulations.

Big Celebration Creating Interest

Applications for concessions are steadily coming in, and indicate that the big celebration in this city, July 3, 4 and 5, is becoming well known and talked about all over the country. With many people a three days' vacation is about their limit, and at no place can three days be spent more pleasantly than in this city, with its beautiful drives, its shady streets, its refreshing retreats in the most wonderful park on this Pacific coast, and all the many advantages for pleasure and recreation to be brought right to their very doors.

PUPILS CONTEST IN MAKING OF BREAD

A sewing exhibit and bread making contest under the domestic sciences department of the Junior and Senior high schools was held last Thursday in the furniture store of J. P. Dodge & Son. A handsome exhibit of handwork, consisting of embroidery, crocheting, and cooking aprons were made by the students, while more ambitious wearing apparel such as gingham and voile dresses, fancy blouses, wool skirts etc., were made by the older pupils and presented an attractive and praiseworthy appearance.

For the bread making contest Ashland Butte flour was donated by the Ashland Flouring Mill and most appetizing specimens of the "staff of life" were turned out by the young women of the public schools. Judges for the best bread makers were appointed and were Mrs. E. V. Carter, Mrs. J. H. McGee and Mrs. J. P. Dodge. These passed upon the loaves submitted, and awarded prizes to the bread makers as follows: First prize, Florence Masters, $2; second prize, Marie Porter, $1.50; third prize, Claudia Klum, $1; fourth prize, Elizabeth Linnox, 75 cents.

Boy Scouts Climb Mount Ashland

A number of Boy Scouts of Troop 2 and several from Troop 1, under the supervision of C. F. Koehler, Scoutmaster of Troop 2, started from the Plaza Friday evening at 3:00 o'clock. The night was passed at Long's Cabin. The evening was spent around a great camp fire, where, campdromas, riddles and stories occupied the time. The impromptu program was concluded by some tales of adventure and personal experiences of the Scoutmaster, and the singing of the first verse of America, for Boy Scouts are patriots. Then the command for retirement was given and the fun began! Ask patrol leader Sturm if you want to know details.

Promptly at 6 a. m. Saturday, after a hasty breakfast, the climb to the top began. All were in high spirits and full of life and energy, so that by 10:30 the top was reached. If any one wants expert advice about scaling the snow-drifts that one must

Oodles Of Music Feature Of Fourth

The executive committee of the Commercial Club which has the plans for the big Fourth of July three days' celebration on hand are negotiating with several bands throughout this section to be present and furnish music on July 3, 4 and 5. Prospects are excellent to secure the services of the Yreka band, one of the finest musical organizations in that part of the state, and a number of other bands are being approached for this occasion. With the splendid musical talent established in the local band the public is assured of a continuous performance in music at the park during the three days' celebration.

AUTOMOBILE MAN IS OPENING BRANCH

A. M. Beaver, Jr., a former well known Ashland boy who is making good in the automobile business in Portland, as manager of the W. H. Wallingford company, has opened up a distributing company for the Premier, Liberty, Briscoe and Parker trucks at The Dalles. Mr. Beaver is making the same enviable record in Eastern Oregon that he made in Portland.

May Resigns As Adjutant General

Col. John L. May tendered to Gov. Olcott Friday his resignation as adjutant general of Oregon, effective the next day. He will return to the Southern Pacific company as assistant superintendent of the Portland division.

There is no announcement as to Colonel May's successor. He said Governor Withycombe had asked him to take charge and straighten out the military affairs of this state, which are now completed.

Governor Olcott stated that as soon as he announces May's successor he may recommend changing the adjutant general's office from Portland to Salem for economic co-ordination.

RED CROSS WOMEN HONOR DEAD HEROES

The Red Cross women of Medford erected a beautiful floral monument on the library lawn Memorial Day in honor of Jackson county's dead soldiers who had given their lives for their country during the world war. The base of the monument was made of red roses, the center of white roses and the shaft of blue snakeheads, a wild flower gathered from the woods. Names of forty soldiers from the county who had paid the supreme sacrifice were inscribed on the side of the monument. Of these ten were from Ashland and were Clement Summers, Horatio Sanford, Archie Smith, Guy Spencer, Forest G. Wolcott, Walter R. Davis, Jack Decker, Algie Loomis, Ray Morgan and Walter Phillips.

Big dance Wednesday night at the Natatorium. Lots of good waiters for the older folks. Lauspaeh's orchestra. Absolutely the best dance music in the valley.

Commercial Club Takes Spurt For New Members

YREKA CADETS MADE ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT

The Yreka High School Cadets, in charge of Major O. E. Diebert, came over to Ashland on their annual encampment Thursday evening and participated in the Memorial Day exercises, Friday. These young men, about thirty in number, were fully uniformed and equipped, and were very creditably trained. They camped in the armory while in the city, and Saturday they visited the rifle range near Medford.

Dunsmuir Wins 1st Game Of Season

A large crowd witnessed the baseball game here Memorial Day between Dunsmuir and Ashland, which was won by the former team in a loosely played exhibition.

For six innings the locals were ahead then a few bad errors combined with heavy hitting by the visitors put the game on ice for them.

The return game will be played at Dunsmuir some time the last of this month as that club is making a trip down the Sacramento valley next week.

The next game in line is between Grants Pass and Ashland at Roundup Park next Sunday. The locals will strengthen the team at several points and the fastest game of the season is looked for. Grants Pass has Pernell, famous coast league pitcher at the helm and he will no doubt collect a good aggregation of tossers for his club.

On account of the bad sun-field at Roundup Park, future games will be started at four o'clock, which will insure faster games and a larger crowd. Admission for this game will be adults, 35c, which includes war-tax; youths under twenty years of age, 25c.

Watch for posters and come out and boost the Ashland Club.

LOCALS MAY GET VARSITY PLAYERS

Kenneth Lilly, Ashland boy who has won unusual athletic distinction at Stanford University, passed thru Sunday evening enroute back to Palo Alto from Seattle where he participated in the Northwest Intercollegiate track meet. The Stanford team took second place at the meet, an unexpectedly good showing considering the fact that their two best men had been sent to the A. E. F. meet in Paris, France.

Mr. Lilly has won his letter "A" in four branches of sport and captained the baseball team. Local baseball enthusiasts are leaving no stone unturned in an effort to persuade him to come here for the summer. If positions can be found for them, Mr. Lilly will bring one or two other varsity men with him. Manager Joe Alnutt urges anyone knowing of an opening for one or two live young men for the summer months, to let him know immediately.

With the addition of Lilly, who is rumored to have more than one big league scout anxiously awaiting a chance to pounce on him when he finishes his collegiate course, the local team should be able to take the measure of the best of them hereabouts.

SALVATION ARMY QUOTA IS RAISED

In anticipation of the Salvation Army drive coming June 22 to June 30, the Ashland Relief Fund has already paid the city's quota of $2,500 for this war charity. This amount was drawn and passed over to the local lodge of Elks, who in accordance with the order all over the country are to superintend the raising of this fund, already turned the draft over to the campaign managers, thus giving Ashland the distinction of being the first city in the state to raise its quota.

Ashland Trading Co. will be pleased to quote you prices on seasonable groceries.

Monday night at the city hall the Commercial club held its regular semi-annual meeting for the election of officers. Eighty-five new members were added to the rolls. It was not the result of a membership drive either. The big membership drive is still to come. It is hoped to add at least 200 additional members the coming month. The club is preparing for big things this summer. It takes money and moral support to pull off the big things and indications point strongly to that support.

More than sixty new faces appeared in the club rooms last night. The most of them were young and middle aged men. Only a few gray hairs were apparent. A very wise man said: "Old men for counsel and young men for war." The truth of this saying has been accepted by the club and it is determined to get the young men of Ashland interested in its activities. It will be a good thing for the club, for the town and for the young men. The training and experience they will gain from their activities in the club will stand them in hand in future years in the battle of life.

Six new directors were elected. The choice was made with the view of broadening the influence of the

Attorney General Decides Booze Case

Automobiles carrying liquor from wet territory thru dry territory to another point in wet territory are not common carriers and the persons riding in them are not passengers on common carriers therefore the persons are liable under the law as being unlawfully in possession of liquor in dry territory. This was the ruling of Attorney General Brown Friday in reply to an inquiry by District Attorney G. M. Roberts of Medford. The question arose over the arrest of a man at Medford for transporting liquor by automobile from one point in California to another place in that state, the route necessitating his going thru Oregon territory.

Free Auto Park Will Be Attraction

The fact that Ashland has the finest and most convenient camping ground on the coast in the free auto park is becoming known wherever motorists travel in the west, and preparations are being made to make this one of the great drawing features for the big celebration of July 3, 4 and 5. Hosts of people from the nearby cities and country communities are planning on making this popular resort their headquarters during the roundup and celebration and all will find all the comforts and conveniences of home in the commodious kitchen and camping paraphernalia for the use of tourists.

A. L. IRWIN BROT HERE FOR BURIAL

The remains of the late A. L. Irwin, who lost his life in the railroad yards at Gerber, Calif., last Tuesday, were brought to his home here Friday evening accompanied by his son, Lieut. Lewis Irwin and wife of San Francisco. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from the Elks Temple and were conducted by that order, with which the deceased was affiliated. A large concourse of friends of whom Mr. Irwin had many in this city attended the obsequies, and followed the body to its last resting place in Mountain View cemetery.

Richard Shifm, a former graduate of the Ashland high school and now a student at the University of Oregon, recently received the election of soldier-at-arms of the Sophomore class in the university.
