Oreg. Products Dinner To Be Served Editors

When the Civic Club responded to the S. O. S. call sent out by the Commercial Club to feed upwards of 300 members of the National Editorial Association who will dine here on their return from Crater Lake August 12, the undertaking looked like quite a stupendous one. However, a bunch of women who could feed 500 soldiers at a time for several days running would not be daunted when this proposition came up, and they immediately acquiesced when the proposition was put up to them.

Mrs. C. B. Lamkin, president of the Civic Club, was made general manager of the arrangements for the dinner which will be held in Lithia park after the guests arrive from Crater Lake, and she in turn, called her aides for a meeting held in the park Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock when all details were completed. Heads of committees were appointed at this time, who will select their own helpers, and in this manner no great amount of work is intended to fall upon any one person.

In planning for the dinner some one happily remembered the visit of Mrs. Ben C. Ely of Portland who spent several days in Ashland last spring to organize a branch of the Oregon Home Industries League here. While in the city Mrs. Ely stated that any time if Ashland wished to give a dinner she was to call upon the Associated Industries of Oregon, and they would respond liberally to Ashland's assistance. The present occasion seemed the most logical time to ask for this aid, and a message was sent over to Klamath Falls where Mrs. Humphreys, the demonstrator sent out by the Associated Industries of Oregon, is stationed at the present time, asking for her help at the editors' dinner.

"I will be right there," was the prompt response of Mrs. Humphreys, and she immediately made plans for the dinner which will be entirely of Oregon products. Not only will Mrs. Humphreys be here to assist in preparing the meal, but the Associated Industries will furnish the coffee, flour, cereals, sweet pickles, tomato catsup, jellies, jam, mayonnaise for the salad and Tru-Blu biscuits. More than this Mrs. Humphreys will make the coffee, hot biscuits and salad. In this manner an immense amount of responsibility will be removed from the local women.

A special committee will have charge of each feature of the dinner. Mrs. Lamkin appointed the heads of these committees at the meeting on Wednesday and they will be as follows:

Committee on chicken, Mrs. H. T. Elmore.

Vegetables, Mrs. Frank Jordan. Salad, Mrs. E. H. Bush. Ice cream, Mrs. D. Perozzi. Fruit, Mrs. John Dill. Service, Mrs. E. J. Van Sant. Tables, Mrs. P. B. Whitney. Menus, Mrs. P. K. Hammond.

Mrs. Humphreys will assume the making of the coffee, hot biscuits and serving of these. The Civic Club will contribute elegant menu cards which will be attractive souvenirs of Ashland.

Everything served at this dinner will be Oregon grown with the exception of coffee, and those who do not partake of this beverage can have plenty of Ashland's own lithia water. In this manner the guests from a distance will have an opportunity of sampling the best products in the world.

The Commercial Club members state that if the citizens who are solicited to take the editors to Crater Lake in their automobiles will come across as graciously as the women of Ashland have done in regard to giving the dinner, their trouble will be over.

Recognition Given To Ashland Officer

Colonel John L. May Tuesday assumed command of the Oregon regiment of national guard under the new order of federalization, and Col. W. C. North, who some time ago asked for relief from his duties, is sent to the retired list, his resignation having been refused. This action is taken, it was stated at the office of Adjutant General Staffin, in recognition of Colonel North's valuable services to the regiment. In declaring his intention to retire he expressed a desire to stay with the regiment until its success was assured, and this has been made sure by the recognition extended by the war department in issuing the order for federalization, which dates June 30.

Federal recognition has been extended to the following units of the 3d regiment, Oregon infantry: Headquarters company, Captain Irving I. Niles; machine gun company, Capt. Edward J. Elvers. Second Lieutenant Ralph B. Ward; supply company, Captain Raymond M. Connor; company A, of Marshfield. First Lieutenant William Goodrum, Second Lieutenant Fremont B. Hodson; company B, of Ashland, First Lieutenant Millard W. Grubb; company C, of Eugene, Captain Harry G. Keeney, First Lieutenant Edward Rhone, Second Lieutenant Bartlett S. Gray; company G, of Portland, Captain Frank S. Severs; company H, of Portland, Captain Albin L. Clark; company I, of Portland, First Lieutenant Durham D. Hall; company K, of McMinnville, Second Lieutenant Ira D. Mix; company L, of Dallas, Captain Harry M. White. First Lieutenant Grover Todd. Second Lieutenant Corry B. Richards.

The officers named above are eligible for appointment and subject to the examination prescribed by the secretary of war. Federal recognition is extended to them in the grades indicated, to date from the rate they subscribe to the federal oath. Federalization places both officers and men on continuous pay, men receiving $7.50 a month and officers from $200 to $500 a year.

Companies D, of Medford; E and F, of Portland, and M, of Salem, have not yet qualified for federalization. In addition to those units mentioned, Oregon is entitled to and there doubtless will be organized four companies of coast artillery, one troop of cavalry, one company of engineers, one sanitary troop and one battery. Old battery A, of Portland, will probably be perpetuated. The cavalry troop is expected to go to Pendleton and the hospital unit to La Grande.

The first battalion under new organization is composed of companies A, B, C and D and is under command of Major William G. White, of Eugene. The second battalion, composed of companies E, F, G and H, is commanded by Major J. Francis Drake, of Portland, and the third battalion, composed of companies I, K, L and M, is commanded by Major Milton L. Myers, of Salem. Federal recognition will be extended Majors White and Drake as soon as the organization of the units in the first and second battalions has been completed. Major Myers, of Salem, is disqualified as being two years over age.

This age limitation is waived in cases of First Lieutenant Grover Todd and Second Lieutenant Cory B. Richards, of Dallas.

The following named officers are not qualified and federal recognition is not extended to them:

Colonel William C. North, Major Milton L. Myers, Captain Bertram C. Short, Captain Hamill A. Canaday, Captain Harry V. Reed, Captain Harold G. Rice, Captain Leroy Hewlett, Captain Henry W. Frame, Captain Cecil E. F. Russ, Captain Charles L. Stidd, First Lieutenant Marion C. Wright, First Lieutenant Harry E. Shippe, First Lieutenant George A. Schultz, First Lieutenant Eugene F. Rice, First Lieutenant John A. Mears, First Lieutenant Vern B. Marshall, Second Lieutenant Bert E. Babb, Second Lieutenant Glenn L. Rice, Second Lieutenant Harry A. Shepherd, Second Lieutenant Harry M. Beck and Second Lieutenant John T. Hislop.

Ashland Hopes For Visit From President

The Commercial Club is making an effort to have President Wilson scheduled to speak in Ashland during his proposed tour thru the coast states this fall, should he include Oregon in his itinerary. Secretary Mowat has already taken up the matter with the heads of the democratic national and state committees, who have expressed themselves willing to lend every possible assistance to Ashland to secure the president for an address.

The tentative plans include a 20-minute talk in the Chautauqua auditorium, this building being the only place where an immense throng could hear the president speak. At least 4,000 or 5,000 people could be packed in this building within sound of a speaker's voice, and the announcement of an address by President Wilson is assurance sufficient to get this number here.

Communications have been made with Secretary Tumulty, and Senator Chamberlain and McNary have promised to lend their influence in arranging for this event. Should the president make more than one stop in Oregon, Ashland is the logical point in which this stop should be made. It is too early yet to be able to make any definite announcements, but the people of Southern Oregon can rest assured that if going after a thing will bring favorable results, the matter will be brought to a satisfactory termination.

Secretary Mowat has been notified that every detail of President Wilson's itinerary will be made public before he leaves Washington, so the matter will be definitely announced later.

Mine Experts Will View Mineral Sites

The state bureau of mines has an auto truck manned by a crew of five experts in Jackson county, according to reports from down the valley, their ultimate object being to cruise Southern Oregon for minerals. The report states that the equipment includes a complete sampling, crushing, pulverizing and assaying outfit. Their destination will be the various mining localities in the state to make a thoro and systematic research both of active mining properties and those that have been neglected or abandoned.

Bible Students May Speak In Ashland

It may be a matter of interest to the people of Ashland to know that unless present plans miscarry, they will have the opportunity of hearing two of the greatest Bible students of the country during the month of November. Dr. James Gray of the Moody Bible Institute and Dr. W. P. White of Albany who will tour the Pacific coast in the interest of Bible study will be with us to conduct a two days' Bible conference.

"VACATION LAND" IS OPEN FOR EVERYBODY

Americans everywhere are invited to make use of the "ideal vacation land" that exists in the national forests. Most of the great woodlands are in the Western states, but some are in the East, so that no section of the country is too distant to share in their benefits. The Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture is endeavoring to bring about a full public realization of what the forests offer.

"You will encounter no 'Keep Out' signs on the forests," says one of several booklets issued by the Forest Service. "They are not fenced against the public, but invite your presence and use. The only signs you will find are those which point you on your way or ask your co-operation in preserving the beauty and value of these free recreation grounds and their resources. Firearms are not barred, and hunting and fishing are restricted only by the requirements of the state game laws."

"You are welcome to all the necessary firewood and to forage for your saddle and pack animals; and, so far as possible, the grazing of commercial stock is regulated in such a way as to save an accessible supply of forage for the camper's use. You may camp where you like and stay as long as you please. The Forest Service asks that you look only to the proper sanitation of the camp and that you be careful with fire."

Information on the forests will be furnished to all who apply to the forest supervisors, the district foresters, or to the Forest Service at Washington, D. C.

John Enders is spending a vacation of a week or so in Portland.

Preaching Service On Crater Lake Rim

A novel service will be conducted on the rim of Crater Lake at the hotel, on Sunday evening, August 10th, at 8 p. m. This will be the second annual praise and preaching service conducted by Rev. John W. Hoyt, Sunday School Missionary for the Presbyterian church. Last year a large attendance gathered in the parlor of the lodge and a very successful meeting was conducted. This year all who can are asked to make the trip and attend this meeting. A volunteer choir is wanted for the occasion and any who can assist in this way are asked to help.

Farm Bureau Plans Cooperative Buying

At a joint meeting of the executive committees of the Jackson and Josephine County Farm Bureaus at Medford Tuesday a plan was inaugurated which will materially aid all classes willing to cooperate in buying and selling, and greatly extend the sphere of cooperation. A capable young farmer recently returned from war service, was secured to give his entire time to promoting cooperative buying and selling in the two counties, and various committees were appointed to help put into operation the most approved methods.

At this meeting the executive committees adopted the following resolution endorsing the advertising campaign of the commercial clubs: Whereas, a movement has been started by the commercial clubs of Ashland, Medford and Grants Pass for a conservative co-operative advertising campaign for the purpose of making known to the world the possibilities of the Rogue River valley.

Whereas, co-operation has become the watchword of the nation; Be it resolved that we, the executive committees of the Farm Bureaus of Jackson and Josephine counties, in joint session assembled, most heartily endorse this movement and assure our co-operation and support to the same.

Pear Picking Has Begun In Valley

Bartlett pear picking season will be in full swing by the end of the week, according to reports from down the valley. Already it has begun in several large orchards, including the Modoc, Bear Creek, Klamath and Hampton, as well as some of the smaller ones. It is stated that two car loads of Bartletts were shipped out from the valley Thursday night, one from the Hampton orchard and one from the Bear Creek orchard. Indications point to an immense crop of pears from the Rogue River valley this year.

Mrs. Susan Holley and Mrs. Laura Farmer left this morning on train No. 13 for San Francisco where they will spend a month with friends.

Pacific Highway Paving Progressing

Practically all the road from Grants Pass to the California line will be paved by spring is the information given out by C. A. Dunn, chief engineer of the Oskar Huber company who has the paving contract of the Pacific highway south of Ashland. A good share of the grading is completed and all of the paving gangs will be in full operation next week, barring no accident. Four and one-half miles of the road between Gold Hill and Grants Pass are already paved, as is about a mile of the Tolo sector.

According to Mr. Dunn paving will start on the Siskiyou next week, where large forces of men have been engaged in grading and preparing the roadway for the final treatment which will make that highway one of the finest in the coast country. This extension will start from the pavement on East Main street to the California line and will be rushed along as rapidly as possible before the bad weather starts in.

In paving the roadway over the Siskiyou a "cushion" is laid ahead of the paving proper in order to make the road in that section passable and that travelers will not be discommoded. By doing this 10 per cent of the paving efficiency is sacrificed, but motorists are thus able to avoid making a detour, and residents here realize what a detour over the mountain would mean, as that section is well known to the traveling public and it would be considered a great feat to take an auto over that way. The only detours necessary in this stretch of road building will be around the bridges and culverts under construction in the floor of the valley.

The highway extension over the mountain will be bitumastic pavement, 16 feet wide and 20 feet at the curves. When completed this will probably be one of the finest pieces of paved mountain roads in the United States.

G. W. Ager, county superintendent of the public schools, was a business caller in Ashland Wednesday.

Sousa's Band to Come to Ashland

President Fuller of the Chautauqua Association has scored another musical triumph for Ashland when he recently contracted for Sousa's band to be in Ashland Sunday, November 16. This will be under the auspices of the Chautauqua Association and Company B, Oregon National Guard, and will be one of the great drawing cards that President Fuller is bringing to pass for the benefit of the music loving public concert will be held. Should the weather be sufficiently warm to warrant it, the concert will take place in the Chautauqua building. If it is too cold to allow for this, it will take place in the armory. More definite announcements will be made in regard to this great musical event.

Roosevelt Cannot Come to Ashland

Secretary Lynn D. Mowat of the Commercial Club has been notified that Ashland will be unable to get Theodore Roosevelt to speak here while on the coast, as he is unable to arrange his itinerary so that he will have more than one day in the state. He expects to be in Portland on September 17, at which time the state convention of the American Legion will be held, and Mr. Roosevelt will address the delegates from the various posts, and also the ex-service men.

UNDESIRABLE ALIENS WILL BE DEPORTED

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The house today passed the bill to deport all undesirable interned aliens. The condition of the weather at that date will depend on where this in the Rogue River valley.

Mrs. Laura S. Dunlap of Willows, a former resident of this valley, left Thursday morning for Weed, Calif., where she will spend the week end with the family of J. C. Barnard before returning to her home.

Editorial Ass'n To Go To Crater Lake

Crater Lake lodge, the hostelry at Crater Lake, has been engaged to its full capacity for the night of August 11 by the Medford Commercial club for the National Editorial association, which will spend that afternoon and night at Oregon's famed resort. Notice is being sent out by the Medford club and by the proprietors of the hotel to the effect that the hotel will be fully occupied that night by members of the editorial association party and tourists headed that way should not plan to arrive at that time.

The trip to Crater Lake will be one of the features of the meeting of the National Editorial association here. Medford and Ashland have joined to entertain the editors and will furnish the automobiles to carry the large party to the lake. The city of Medford will entertain the party at breakfast on the morning of their arrival, August 11, and on the return from the lake the Ashland Commercial club will give a dinner at Lithia Springs park on the night of August 12. The delegation will return to Portland on the morning of August 13, remaining here only long enough for breakfast and then going on to Tacoma.—Oregonian.

Forest Fires Bad In Siskiyou County

A dispatch from the United States forest service this week states that at least eight forest fires are burning in the Shasta National forest in Siskiyou county, Calif., and some of them may become serious if not checked at once. The fires are near Montague in the Shasta valley and Sisson.

Mrs. Val. Inlow and children have gone to Idaho to make an extended visit with relatives and friends.

Sees Great Future In Store For City

"Ashland has a great future in store for her," is the prediction made by Lloyd N. Adamson of Los Molinas, Calif., who is here this week looking after property interests. "I prophesy that within the next two to four years Ashland property will double in value. She can't help but grow. If a person visits friends, and these friends lay themselves out to entertain them and give them all the benefits of their advantages, that person is bound to love and respect those friends, and it is the same way with Ashland. All the comforts and attractions that are being made for strangers here is certain to draw them here. Ashland has a boom on already, but you people don't realize it."

Mr. Adamson is a former Ashland resident and still holds some property in the city. "Ashland will get me again eventually," he remarked. "The glorious climate and pine-scented air make this the ideal spot for a home."

Pacific Telephone Rates Increased

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company put into effect Tuesday increased telephonic rates thru out the state of Oregon.

The price of service in residences is now $3.75 per month instead of $3. Suburban rates have been advanced to $3, an increase of 50 cents.

Telephone company officials declare the advances were necessitated by the recent wage increases of employees.

Public service commissions have promised an early hearing with the view of reducing rates.

Mrs. M. C. Reed was a Medford visitor Wednesday.
