Ashland Loses By Pin-Point Margin

The big ones, the little ones, the brunettes and the peach-cheeked blondes are talking about that last Sunday's game yet. And will continue to do so for some little time yet. It was one of those copper-riveted, mile-a-minute, hair-raisers that bring the crowd to a stand and keep them there.

All the big fireworks came in the last half of the ninth inning and if Ashland did lose, it was only by about the width of a pin that has been run over by a Mikado engine. In the seventh inning somebody started the old "everybody on their feet" stuff and it didn't go for a hang, but in the last inning when Ashland batted in two runs and got a man on second and third and Kenneth Lilly at the bat it didn't take any urging to get everybody in the stand climbing upon their neighbors' shoulders to get a better view of the excitement.

But to go back to the beginning: Ashland had about the best looking club that has performed for the Lithia city this year. Jud Pernoll and Frye of Grants Pass, McIntire and Hill of Medford added to the local bunch, made what seemed a sure-fire combination. But Weed had brought over the pick of Northern California and Ed Anthony was pitching great guns. It looked like anybody's game up to the fifth. Hits by Frye, McIntire and Lilly in the first and a sacrifice by Hill scored two runs. Lilly by the way, had his eye and plastered the right field wall for three bases with two ahead of him. Hits by Frye, Pernoll and a couple of sacrifices scored one in the third for Ashland. Anthony was timid about putting one over for Lilly and walked him or more would probably have come in. Weed began to get to Wilson in the fourth and scored two runs with three hits. Then in the fifth came the big blow-up. Chief has been pitching ten hours a day and has had no time to pitch ball and the effects of lack of practice showed. Then after about four hits a close decision at home which the Ashland team and the crowd saw differently than the umpire, cost two runs and took some of the heart out of the locals. McIntire went in to pitch during the middle of the mix and did not have any better luck than Wilson. Three more were scored by Weed in the sixth Ashland came back with one more in the sixth after with hits by Lilly and Bentley. Lilly stole second and third. This left the score nine to four and it looked dark but hits by Bentley, Tregilgas and Wilson in the eighth scored two runs.

Meanwhile Jud Pernoll had come in from center field and was on the mound for the first time in Ashland since the old days before he went up to the American league. He had all the old stuff and gave a real exhibition of pitching. The Weed bunch couldn't touch him. Then the ninth and the fireworks. Hill, McIntire and Pernoll got good clean doubles and Hill and McIntire scored. Lilly came up all primed to wallop the ball into Siskiyou county but Anthony wouldn't get the ball within a mile of the plate and Lilly walked. Bentley hit one to shortstop and Pernoll was caught between third and home, Lilly taking third. Then on the first ball pitched Lilly got a beautiful start and had home stolen and the score tied but Tregilgas managed to get his bat in the way of the ball and fouled it, sending Lilly back to third. Trig then walloped out a long fly which the center fielder caught ending the most exciting ninth inning rally anyone could wish for.

With Pernoll going the way he was Weed would never have scored and it would surely have been Ashland's game if—but why waste time iffing.

No game next Sunday here but Weed is coming back. Watch for the ads.

NOTICE

On account of the necessary labor accompanying the moving of the heavy machinery belonging to the printing plant of the Ashland Tidings and getting it erected in its new quarters, the Tidings will come out in its issue today with only four pages instead of the usual eight. By Friday's issue it is expected that the Tidings plant will be in its usual running order.

Changed Location Of Service Station

At an adjourned meeting of the city council last Friday night an ordinance was passed, changing the location of the new service station which the Standard Oil company have asked permission to erect in Ashland. Owing to residents in the vicinity of Laurel street opposing the building there on the site first chosen by the company, another location was selected on Mountain avenue between B street and the railroad, belonging to J. J. Murphy. It is expected that work on the new building will be started in the near future. Much credit is due T. H. Simpson for securing this service station in Ashland, as he has labored unceasingly for the past two years to influence the company to locate here.

Campaign Starts For Homeless Babes

W. G. McLaren, general superintendent of the Pacific Coast Rescue and Protective society, was in Ashland over Sunday in the interests of the campaign to be carried on during the month of September to raise $50,000 for the construction of a new fireproof nursery home for nameless, homeless and abandoned babies of Oregon. Mr. McLaren spoke on the interests of the project at the union meeting Sunday night and outlined the methods of the campaign, stating the needs for the building. "Be a Brick, Buy a Brick," will be the slogan of the campaign.

Former Champion Boxer Here Sunday

From the pugilistic ring to the pulpit is a far cry, yet Othie Sackett, better known the world over as "Young Kid McCoy," the champion featherweight boxer, has accomplished that feat, and was in Ashland Sunday night where he addressed a large audience in the Chautauqua building. Mr. Sackett related his life experience from the time he started out from a country section in Pennsylvania to the mill districts of the southern part of the state, where the temptations assailing him led him into a life of adventure which covered experiences as a pugilist, showman, saloonkeeper and hobo. Finally the man in him prevailed, and he answered the appeal to a better life and became converted. Later he attended the Moody Bible school in Chicago, and has spent the following years in an endeavor to reach the hearts of the unfortunate ones of the earth and lead them to a better living. He is now employed as a welfare worker, and was spending a vacation in this section, but utilized that time in speaking in the various cities of his itinerary. Mr. Sackett impressed his hearers with his extreme earnestness and in an unostentatious way he was the means of turning several people to a better way of life during his stay here. He left Monday evening for Pennsylvania where he was called on business.

Egg Association Has Good Results

The Ashbellent Egg association, organized last spring and carried on by the poultrymen of Ashland, Belleview, Talent and Valley View farms, has been one of the most important and profitable institutions of this section of the county, and has awakened much interest in other districts. Poultrymen all over Jackson county have kept their eyes on Ashland's plan, and another year will probably see other circles formed in the county.

A. C. Briggs, manager of the Ashland Fruit association, receives the eggs each Saturday, counts them and sees to the packing and shipping. He also issues a statement each month of the number of eggs received every "egg day" each week and the price at which they are disposed. Following are the sales for the month of July:

July 5, 450 dozen eggs at 47 cents; July 12, 461 dozen at 48 cents; July 19, 435 dozen at 50 cents; July 26, 427 dozen at 50 cents.

Moved First Press For Tidings Office

Seeing the Tidings office equipment being moved from its old stand Monday led some of the old-timers of reminiscence about by-gone days. "My father and I went to Jacksonville and moved the first printing press here for the Ashland Tidings," remarked Eugene Walrad. "That was in 1876, when James Sutton started the paper that has continued at the same stand until the removal this week. That seems a great change, but very much for the best."

Daily Newspaper Issued at Coblenz

The Tidings is in receipt of several copies of the "Amaroc News," a two-page sheet printed in Coblenz on the Rhine, and paid for by the Y. M. C. A. and K. of C., and distributed free to the American forces in Germany. The publication is issued daily and Sunday in the interests of the American army of occupation and the editor states that "if on the Rhine we must sit, then let us know at least what is going on outside our own billet." The "Amaroc News" was sent here by Private B. M. Heath, an Ashland soldier who is in Germany.

PRISONER FLED FROM STATE PENITENTIARY
Wynter Willis, who has a rather murky record for deportment as a prisoner at the Oregon state penitentiary, escaped from one of the flax fields near the prison about 6 o'clock Friday night, and so far has eluded the officers. Willis is an accomplished automobile thief and it was expected that he would steal an automobile and attempt to motor away from the prison environs.

RIDDLE BRINGS SUIT AGAINST COMMISSION
Riddle has started suit in the circuit court of Douglas county, through S. H. Rockhill, one of the leading citizens of that community, by enjoining the highway commission and the county court from changing the Pacific highway away from the city, and by enjoining the contractor from making any improvements upon the new location as selected by the commission, and the secretary of state and the state treasurer from issuing warrants for payment of work done. This action will be fought out in court and will be one of the biggest legal battles in years.

Ashland Southern Terminal for Planes

Five DeHaviland planes passed over Ashland Saturday afternoon going north where they will replace the Curtiss airplanes doing air patrol service there. The latter will be sent to Redding, Calif., where they will be employed in the same line of work. The DeHavilands are all equipped with the famous Liberty motors and fly through the air at the speed of 100 miles an hour. They are capable of reaching an altitude of 20,000 feet. They made the trip from Sacramento to Roseburg in three hours and thirty-six minutes, and landed in the latter place where they stayed all night, and later continued to Eugene.

Major Smith, who was with the fleet, stated in Roseburg Saturday that the planes will ply between Eugene and Medford south and to Portland to the north at present, and later Ashland will be fixed as the southern terminal for the forest patrol planes.

Business Places Being Renovated

Contractor A. L. Lamb has several jobs of renovating and additional building to business places in Ashland which have already been started or will be in the near future. Among these is the room adjoining the Provost hardware store which is being fitted over and will be used by Miss Anna Hargrove as a millinery store. New roofs will be put on the telephone building and Vaupel's store.

Rev. Van Fossen Died Friday Night

Dr. Harmon Jesse Van Fossen, district superintendent Klamath district of the Methodist church, died suddenly at his home in this city last Friday night. Hughes delivered the funeral address. More extended details will appear in Friday's issue of the Tidings.

ROMANCE OF TARZAN AT VINING THEATRE
Elmo Lincoln, the ape-reared hero of "The Romance of Tarzan," repeats and underscores his successful characterization of the white son of the jungle in the screen production of the concluding chapters of "Tarzan of the Apes." Edward Rice Burroughs' masterpiece of wild nature, which begins at the Vining theater Wednesday and Thursday.
In "The Romance of Tarzan" greater opportunities for spectacular work are fully realized by Lincoln, and he is the moving spirit in a number of the most thrilling scenes that have been enacted on the screen since it became the center of focus for amusement seekers throughout the world.

TIDINGS IN NEW HOME

The Ashland Tidings this week moved from the upstairs room it had occupied for the past forty-three years to the ground floor in the Camps building, formerly occupied by the Ferguson Brothers bargain store. The plant is being established in comfortable, convenient quarters where patrons having business with this office will receive prompt attention without the fatigue incident to climbing the stairway.

Big Fruit Crop Brings Good Price

The Ashland Fruit & Produce association is a busy place these days, when the first fruits of one of the largest harvests from the orchards in the Rogue River valley are coming in. Within the past week the association has shipped out two cars of Bartlett pears and six cars of peaches. The pears are for canneries and are not wrapped. Three of the cars of peaches went south and three north. The association is having much larger sales this year than last, as the crops are much larger and prices are practically twice as good. The association is also shipping quantities of tomatoes, peppers, carrots, beets and cucumbers. These latter are home grown and go to various points in Northern California.

Prospect Barely Escaped Burning

A forest fire starting Friday three-fourths of a mile west of Prospect greatly endangered for a time the power plant of the California-Oregon Power company and several business places in that section, but is now thought to be under control unless the wind fans the flames up again. Upwards of sixty fire fighters are at work there and will remain until all danger is passed. The fire started in the timber which is interspersed with heavy underbrush. Although it jumped the river in a number of places, the main fire remained on the west side.

Citizens' Bank Has Posting Machine

The Citizens' Bank of Ashland takes pleasure in announcing that it has purchased a BURROUGHS LEDGER POSTING MACHINE of the latest model, together with full equipment, and that it will on September first install a complete system of machine book-keeping of the most approved form. This system consists of the actual posting of ledgers and customers' statements by machine, which, it is claimed, eliminates nine-tenths of the possibilities of error. It has already been adopted by a large majority of banks, and has amply proven its worth.

So far as the depositor is concerned, the principal difference between the old and the new systems will be that in the future pass-books will be used simply as receipt books for deposits, and when a balance of the account is desired, a statement will be delivered. This statement will show the old balance, all checks and deposits listed and the balance at the time the statement is issued. As it will be posted each day, and always kept up to date, it will be ready for delivery whenever called for, thus eliminating the delay incident to leaving the pass-book to be balanced.

The new LEDGER POSTING MACHINE will be demonstrated in our lobby next Saturday, August 30, and you are invited to call and witness the work of this "machine with steel brains." The demonstration will be in charge of Mr. Calles, representing the Burroughs Adding Machine company.

In order to make the installation as nearly complete as possible on September 1, we request that all depositors who can conveniently do so, bring or send their pass-books to the bank some time during the present week, and leave them to be balanced, calling for them after September 1.

Having completely outgrown our present system, we desire to express our thanks and appreciation to our many friends and patrons who have made this growth possible. With the installation of this improved system we are confident that we are offering our patrons the best service obtainable.

STATE SCHOOLS MAY NOT RECEIVE BOOKS

Unless publishers and jobbers meet with the demands of Oregon dealers outside of Portland within the next few days pupils attending school in September are likely to find themselves without the necessary text books, according to Hal Patton, secretary of the Willamette Valley Dealers' association.

Members of the association have flatly refused to handle text books this year on a 15 per cent margin, according to Patton and demand has been made upon the jobbers that this sum be increased to 20 per cent. The jobbers, in turn, have passed the matter up to the publisher and as it now stands Willamette valley dealers are making no effort to obtain their usual supply of books for the fall opening of the schools.
