ASHLAND, OREGON, FRIDAY, AUGUST 29, 1919

NUMBER 60

"Passed Around the Bend in the Road"

The death of Rev. Harmon Jesse Van Fossen, district superintendent of the Klamath district, which occurred suddenly at his home on North Main street Friday evening, August 22, 1919, came as a great shock to the community and district as well as to the Oregon conference. On Sunday, August 17, he was present at Ashland at the morning service, and in the evening at Medford with Bishop Matt S. Hughes, who was visiting the Klamath district. Monday they went to Grants Pass and Tuesday on to Roseburg, Dr. Van Fossen returning home Tuesday night. Thursday night he took ill and necessitated the services of two physicians, but Friday he was able to sit up and rested well during the day. In the evening at 8:20 he went into another room and while there fell to the floor, death being instantaneous. During the afternoon he said: "I think I will get better from this, but if not, all is well between me and God."

The funeral was held on Monday afternoon from the Ashland Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. Charles A. Edwards, the pastor, in charge. Bishop Matt S. Hughes came down and delivered the address. Ministers of the district were upon the platform and took part in the service.

Rev. H. J. Van Fossen, vice. The flowers were beautiful and in profusion, and the service throughout was a fine tribute to one who had spent his life in the service of God. Tender messages were read by the pastor from Drs. Ford of Salem, W. W. Youngson of Portland, G. F. Billings, who was absent, and others. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and two daughters, with other relatives in various parts of the country.

Rev. H. J. Van Fossen came to Ashland in November, 1906, and was the pastor and leader of its Methodist Episcopal church for five years. During that time he was the foremost spirit in the remodeling of the church building, which when completed at a cost of eleven thousand dollars, all of which had been paid or subscribed at the time of its dedication. The completed church has been pronounced by competent judges, one of the most "workable" ones in the state, special provision having been made for its adaptability to Sunday School work.

The membership and church attendance steadily increased under his ministry. He was a remarkable preacher, doubtless the peer of any denomination on the coast in preaching on the principal characters described in the Old Testament.

His work as district superintendent was thoughtful, helpful, sensible, in short Christ-like, and many a preacher and many a father and mother with their children will miss the welcome visits to their homes by this servant of the Most High. People of all denominations, and people who have as yet no definite belief in Christianity are saying: Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into all the joys, which the Blessed conceived for His own."

Death Summoned Ashland Resident

John Morrison, a resident of Ashland since last fall, died at his home on Granite street Thursday morning at 5 o'clock after an illness that had extended over two years. Mr. Morrison had had mercantile and mining interests in Boulder, Colo., and after coming to the Rogue River valley had followed mining in the Soda Springs district until his health failed, when he retired and lived here with his three daughters and a son. He is survived by three other sons, one of whom, Captain William Morrison of the 38th U. S. Infantry, has just returned from overseas. Funeral services will not be arranged until after the arrival of relatives from a distance.

Lieut. Hart Back From Archangel

Word has been received in Medford of the arrival in New York last Friday of Lieutenant John Hart who had spent the past year in the Archangel district on duty on the big converted yacht Yankton. This vessel came to New York by way of Norway and Sweden, and Lieutenant Hart will await orders in New York for a time, but is expecting a furlough when he may visit his family in Medford. He was former county physician of Jackson county, and enlisted at the beginning of war. He re-enlisted two years ago for four years' service.

Go 11,000 Miles on Tires; Still Good

"Eleven thousand miles on a Goodrich tire and the old hunk of rubber apparently still good for thousands more," is the tire comment made by J. R. Bymhold of Portland, when asked concerning his luck on an automobile trip to Southern Oregon, during his stay in the Lithia auto-camp. Mr. Bymhold made this trip via the McKensie Pass, and Crater Lake, with a brief excursion over into California from Klamath Falls before landing at the camp here where he rested up for a day or so. The 11,000 mile tire was the center of an interested group of tourists when the day's drive was over and camp pitched. Mr. Bymhold has made several trips through Oregon in the past two years, driving over rough mountain roads for the most part.

Sugar Embargo in Local Groceries

Ashland groceries have been notified this week that a sugar shortage is threatened on the coast, and Tuesday they were ordered to only sell $1 worth at a time. This news came expectedly to the coast retailers this week when it was learned that the only two sugar refineries on the Pacific coast had used up all the raw sugar allotted to them by the government, it is claimed, and consequently they had withdrawn from the market until January 14 when their new allotment would become available. According to reports the government has diverted 200,000 one hundred pound bags of beet sugar from the Pacific coast supply to help meet the shortage in the east and middle west. According to well informed men in the trade the price will not raise, as they claim that to take advantage of the shortage and raise the price would be profiteering pure and simple, and would be risky business.

Band Concert in Park This Evening

The weekly band concert will be held in Lithia park this Friday evening, at which the following program will be rendered: March, "Aqua Pura." Medley, "Black Brigade." "Me-ow." Waltz, "Inspiration." March, "The Thunderer." Serenade, "Pleasant Dreams." "Hindustan." "Star Spangled Banner."

Picnic with Auction Sale of Shorthorns

The Jackson County Farm Bureau is arranging for an all day picnic to be held in the city park at Medford September 13. Arrangements for this picnic had been previously made to hold it in the Phoenix grove on September 6, but owing to changes in the program and plans it was decided to postpone the affair for a week. Every member of the Farm Bureau is expected to attend and use his influence towards getting all his neighbors out to this event. All the fruit growers and farmers of Jackson county are expected to also attend.

One of the real great features of the day will be a big barbecue at noon, and good boiling hot beef is promised to every one. Each family is asked to bring a lunch basket filled with other good eats which will fit in with the roast beef and coffee served by the Farm Bureau. In the afternoon the Jackson County Livestock association cooperating with the Farm Bureau will hold its second public auction sale of registered livestock including shorthorns, Herefords, and possibly some Jerseys, Berkshires and some registered sheep. Owing to the fact that no county fair will be held this year, when the sale would naturally have taken place, the association have arranged to have it occur in conjunction with the Farm Bureau picnic and make this event a "red letter day" for Jackson county.

CITY WILL ERECT BRIDGE ON MECHANIC

The city council will erect a concrete culvert in the place of the one that went down last week on Mechanic street. That street is closed to the public at present until the new bridge is built.

Oregon Scenery to Be Feature of Fair

The art department of the state fair which opens at Salem September 22, is adding a new feature this year. Beside the usual display of pictures sent in all over the state by professionals and amateurs which promises to be unusually large and attractive, there will be an exhibit of Oregon scenery.

This will not be in competition with the other pictures. Oregon scenery will form a separate group, and consist of not only photographic enlargements in color or black and white, but of any other suitable medium. The exhibit will make a specialty of showing the grandeur and beauty of this state which is unsurpassed in the world. These views of Oregon will naturally attract a great deal of attention at the fair. It is requested that all who have splendid pictures or hidden beauty spots of our great state write to Mrs. Weister, 653 East 15th, North, Portland, for further information.

Labor Day Observed At Local Postoffice

Labor Day Monday, September 1, will be observed by the Ashland postoffice as a partial holiday. Stamp, general delivery and parcel post windows open from 9 to 10 a. m. No money order business transacted. No letters registered. One collection from street letter boxes according to holiday schedule. One delivery by city carriers. No delivery by rural carrier.

Weed and Ashland In Labor Day Game

With the stores of the city closed and the holiday crowds out looking for amusement, the ball game next Monday, Labor Day, between Weed and Ashland should attract a record-breaking crowd. Weed has cleaned up everything in Northern California while Ashland has the edge over the Southern Oregon teams. The game will be for the championship of Northern California and Southern Oregon.

Weed has taken their pick of the Northern California teams while Ashland has rounded up Jud Perinell and Frye of Grants Pass, Hill and McIntire of Medford to strengthen the local team. Thus two teams will play a class of ball which will be far above the standard usually maintained in cities this size. Intense feeling has developed between the teams and a fight from start to finish is assured.

The game will start at 2:30 p. m. at the Ashland high school grounds. Parking space is provided inside the grounds for automobiles. After a season which has so far been far from successful financially the Ashland management is going to big expense to put on this game and needs the support of every lover of sport.

POSTOFFICE MADE MANY FOOD SALES

The government sale of food supplies at the local postoffice still continues, and orders have been coming in surprisingly well. Shortly after the sale opened the quota of rice was exhausted, and a few days later the quota of No. 2 cans of baked beans was sold out. It is not known yet when the sales will cease, as no information concerning it has come to the postmaster.

Will Spend Winter Here for Change

Mrs. G. H. Way and sister, Miss Dayton, have rented their residence on Laurel street and will occupy apartments on Main street during the coming winter. For two winters past Mrs. Way and Miss Dayton have gone to Long Beach, Calif., as their hill residence was too inaccessible to allow Miss Dayton to get out, but the change is made this year in order that the latter, who is in delicate health, may enjoy the comforts of home this winter.

Seven Airplanes Passed Over City

Seven airplanes passed over Ashland Thursday morning on their way south. These were the Curtiss planes that had been engaged in fire patrol duty in the state and which had been replaced by the DeHavillands that arrived from the south last week. The Curtiss planes were on their way to Redding where a forest fire patrol will be inaugurated. Ashland is beginning to recognize the peculiar hum of flying planes that is becoming a well known sound now, as it is not an unusual event to see numerous aircraft passing over. The group of seven planes made a beautiful appearance passing over the valley.

Keystone State Tourists Camp Here

S. C. Stewart and wife, who have been motoring across the continent all summer from Marion Center, Pennsylvania, camped here for a couple of days last week while on their way to Southern California to spend the winter. The Stewarts have enjoyed an eventful trip through the northwest, took in the Yellowstone and Glacier parks and say they have driven over every kind of roads under the sun. While in Ashland Mr. and Mrs. Stewart hunted up Letter Carrier W. E. Moor, who also hails from the same town in Pennsylvania.

Paid Respect to Dead Clergyman

The following ministers of Klamath district of the Methodist church were in Ashland Monday attending the funeral of the late district superintendent, Dr. Van Fossen: Rev. C. C. Coop, Canyonville; Melville Wire, Grants Pass; R. A. Hutchison, Sutherlin; C. G. Morris, Oakland; L. F. Belnap, Central Point; C. R. Carlos, Medford; M. B. Paroungagian, Salem; Charles A. Edwards, Ashland; Bishop Matt S. Hughes of Portland. Ministers of the district served as pallbearers.

Group Gathering At Wagner Creek

An all-day meeting will be held on Wagner creek, about one and a half miles above the school house, next Sunday, August 31. Each year the Bellview and Wagner Creek Union Sunday schools hold a string-gathering for the purpose of stimulating more interest in their Sunday school work.

A good program has been arranged for, and this will be a splendid opportunity for members of other Sunday schools and churches, to enjoy an "old-time" religious meeting in "God's out-of-doors." Mr. F. W. Bross of Medford will speak in the afternoon service, and those who fail to hear him will miss a good gospel message.

A cordial welcome to all. Bring your family and basket dinner.
G. C. GRIFFIN,
Missionary for American Sunday School Union.

Railroad Service Again Resumed

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28.—General Manager J. H. Dyer of the Southern Pacific Railroad company, announced at 8 o'clock this morning that his road had called 355 strikers for duty in the usual manner since midnight and that not a man had responded. Striking trainmen will be served with copies of orders from their chiefs directing them to return to work, and will then be governed by their individual decisions as to obeying, according to M. E. Montgomery, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Mr. Montgomery made this statement today after an all night session of leaders of the four brotherhoods here.

Oakland Service Resumed

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—A strike of yard and switchmen of the three big trans-continental lines had ended at Oakland, Calif., and trains were leaving on normal schedules there, but the strike continued here, although most of the trains were being dispatched out, officials of the United States administration announced here today. Trains here were being made up by officials and office help, it was announced. Trains were coming in from San Jose where strike conditions are said to prevail, but the schedule from that place was being maintained by the consolidation of trains.
