The daily sales of the Astorian and the regular subscription list have shown a gratifying increase since the radical improvement and enlargement of the paper. Not only does the increased number of readers appeal forcibly to advertisers, but the style and tone of the Astorian will convince them that it is a valuable medium through which to gain the public attention. The quality of a newspaper, its standing as a first-class journal, gives color to its advertisements. That successful business men understand this is evidenced in the advertising patronage the Astorian is receiving.

Speaking of the depth of water that ships draw going up and down the river from Astoria to Portland, an old pilot said yesterday that in 1892 the American bark Santa Clara, Pilot H. Emkins, by taking advantage of full-moon tides, was towed to Portland drawing 22 feet 8 inches. A very few ships have been towed up or down the river since that time, under the same conditions, drawing 22 feet 10 inches, and a few freight steamers are reported to have been driven over the shoals at extreme high tides drawing 22 feet. With all the dredging by the port of Portland, besides the large amount of government money spent by the United States engineers, not more than four inches of depth in the channel has been gained in seven years. The Oregonian makes a great fuss about the transports Rio Janeiro and Sikh getting to sea from Portland in 15 hours from Portland. The Rio Janeiro went out drawing less than 20 feet 6 inches and the Sikh less than 20 feet. It should be noticed, the skippers hold all the big ships in Portland until they have a large run of tides, when they come down like logs on a freshet. But the ship-owner makes the skipper pay for all delay or demurrage when he chartered his ship.

"I trust that our citizens will dismiss narrow-mindedness and turn out in force for the Portland Exposition Saturday," said a well-known merchant yesterday. "It was my privilege to talk with one of the committee on Monday last," he continued, "and I am satisfied that the courtesy of Astoria Day is extended in no spirit other than that of unquestioned good-fellowship and friendly regard. While I, as well as other tradesmen, am anxious to retain all local patronage at home, still, in a case of this nature, it is only just that we should rise beyond biased sentiments and reciprocate for her splendid support of the last annual regatta. As a matter of fact, within a week I have undergone a radical change in disposition. I have found that Astoria is exactly like a spoiled child. She sits still, pouts and shows an ill-temper, whereas, on the contrary, she should smile, visit with her neighbors, make new acquaintances and win the esteem of the outside world. Cross-grained and stubborn people are never known to get along well. You can say for me that I am going to Portland on Saturday and take all of my family. You can also add in the same connection that I have talked sensibly to several of my neighbors, and they, as well, are going. We expect to have a big time, and there is no reason why we shouldn't. If we go good-naturally to look for it."

HERE'S THE BARGAINS. If there is a bargain in Portland it is to be found at Welche's Clothing Store, 225 Morrison street. The real value for little money offered on shoes this week is worth inspecting when in Portland.

AN ASTORIA MINISTER. Rev. J. L. Trumbull Addresses the Convention of Baptists.

The ministerial conference of Oregon Baptists, which met in Portland this week, attracted general attention. Much important work was accomplished.

Speaking of the Tuesday session, the Oregonian said: "Discussing 'The Preacher in Evangelistic Work,' Rev. J. L. Trumbull of Astoria pointed out the different methods that obtained of conducting revival work. 'I want to put myself on record here,' he said in beginning, 'as having no kind of sympathy with the preaching and living religion one month of the year and then preaching higher criticism, new theology, sensationalism or any other kind of ism.'"

Rev. Mr. Trumbull said in part: "Finally, not a little of the success of the preacher in evangelistic work will depend upon his ability in interesting and keeping his church actively engaged in the work. When he has no church to sustain or elog his efforts he may go forth confidently, expecting God to bless the word and answer his prayers for the conversion of sinners, but it is rarely if ever the case that the lost are brought to accept Christ against the influence of a cold, indifferent, critical church. Hence, the vital necessity of arousing the church to a sense of its responsibility and of its duty and privilege. It is when Zion traveleth—not merely the preacher—that children are born into the Kingdom. Let the preacher proclaim that the judgment of God, as well as the love of God, begins at the house of the Lord; that men and women are not their own, but that they are bought with a price, not with gold and silver, but the precious blood of Christ, and that as such their services and their prayers are precious before God, and that it is both their privilege and their duty to labor with all tenderness and love for the salvation of the lost. 'A successful work of grace demands that not only shall the church be aroused to agonizing prayer and consecrated personal effort to win souls to Christ, but they may be kept at it.'"

RADICAL LITERATURE.

We know of only one book store in Portland where so complete a line of novels can be obtained, on all the radical subjects of the day under discussion as can be seen at Jones' Book Store, 251 Alder street.

HORRORS OF PHILIPPINE WAR.

Tales come to us of the sufferings endured by our brave soldiers in the Philippines. The papers ring with them, sympathy is freely given. And yet there are people in our midst of whom we hear nothing, who are just as brave. They are suffering silently and fighting bravely with the greatest enemy of mankind—Dyspepsia and all its terrible ills. There is relief for them if they will take Hostetter's Stomach Bitters faithfully. It will cure dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, malaria, fever and ague and liver and kidney troubles. It tones up the whole system. Get it from any druggist and see that a private Revenue Stamp covers the neck of the bottle.

WONDERFUL COMPANION.

The man who works and is apt to sprain, scratch or otherwise injure himself should never be without the celebrated Century Liniment, 10c and 25c bottles, at J. A. Clemenson's drug store, 217 Yamhill street, Portland, Ore. The woman who has a weak constitution, and who needs something to brace her up, should get the Natural Body Brace, the brace that braces the whole length of the body and that costs only $5. If you are not sure you need it, you can try it for 30 days, at the end of which time, if not satisfactory, you can return it. Write for a book with information. J. A. CLEMENSON, 217 Yamhill street, Portland, Ore.

LADIES' TAILOR-MADE SUITS.

Ladies who go to Portland and desire something especially fine in the way of tailor-made suits will do well to remember that they can be well fitted at I. D. Boyer's 177 Fourth street, in the Y. M. C. A. building.

Not only does he keep a strictly first-class cutter for men's wear, but also one exclusively for ladies' work, and all can rest assured of getting not only good work, but the best of materials, as Mr. Boyer is an expert on woolen cloths.
