No political party has ever met under such favorable circumstances as did the Republican national convention in Philof both the candidates for the offices of president and vice-president was unprecedented. Mr. McKinley has earned and well deserves the compliment. The prosperity of the country under his administration alone merits it, without taking into consideration his able conduct of our affairs of state during the war with Spain. There was a notable difference between the har mony of the Republican party at St Louis, in the convention of 1896, and at Philadelphia. Last month every Re publican was working for the stronges ticket and there was a unanimous ver diet for McKinley and Roosevelt. The latter has endeared himself to the peo ple by his clean and honest adminis of such public offices as he has held, as well as by his bravery in Cuba. They are both strong candidates politically and personally, and will gain in strength as the campaign progresses

So far as we have been able to observe, Richard Croker is the only gold Democrat of 1896 of national reputation who has openly announced himself for Bryan and silver at 16 to 1 in 1900 But Croker is gifted with the convictions of a chameleon, which change to meet the exigencies of his pocket, for which

Abram S. Hewitt is a representative of Eastern Gold Democrats who rejects Bryan and the platform of 1896 with equal emphasis. Mr. Hewitt says that man who, like Bryan, "denounced as government by injunction the perform sed upon it by the constitutional lav of the land; who denounced the su preme court, the bulwark of liberty and sought to overthrow the ju diciary of the country, was a man too limited in understanding and too vio ent in impulse to be intrusted with the great office of president."

"The American conception of government," Mr. Hewitt added, "has always been liberty regulated by law; the Bryan notion is despotism regulated by anarchy." He scoffed at the idea of any issue in this country between im perialism and anti-imperialism, and said our being in the Philippines was simply a case of having the wolf by the ear and being unable to let go."
