Titus; third grade, Miss Mabel Jeffers. Misses Clara Parker and Alice Gray were applicants for state certificates, and their examination papers have been sent to the state superintendent.

The British ship Riverside, Captain Porter, from Hamburg, consigned to Edmund Baker, of Portland, crossed in at 5 p. m. yesterday. Captain Porter reports sighting the Decan in lat. 54 degrees south, long. 63 degrees west, on the 12th of May, the Melbourne in lat. 45 degrees south, long. 62 degrees west, on May 5th, and the Kilmorrey in lat. 17 degrees south, long. 54 degrees west, on the 16th of April.

Maud C. Porter, an Astoria girl, while out walking with a friend, Miss Grace W. Jones, of 1506 Macadam street, Portland, Friday, was seized with a hemorrhage and died. The coroner investigated the case. The two girls were on their way to visit Mrs. A. A. Thomas of Mount Harmony, eight miles west of Portland.—Evening Telegram. (Inquiries failed to elicit any definite information concerning the person mentioned in the above dispatch.)

According to the Newport News, the biologist, Professor Washburn, is again at work on the Eastern oysters introduced into Yaquina bay. A large concrete pond has been made into which a pumping apparatus forces water from the bay at low tide, at a time when the water is in the best condition for the Eastern oyster spawn. Oyster embryos are placed in this pond and the biologist hopes to secure a catch of young oysters or seed oysters therein. The U. S. government is paying the expenses of the summer's work.

Several drunks of the Doe and Roe families were arrested by the police Saturday and Sunday, but the customary $5, which they put up for their appearance to answer to the charge, was in nearly all cases declared forfeited by the court yesterday afternoon. One fellow, arrested Saturday night, had not the money to put up, so remained in jail until court was called. When the time he had spent in the cell was told Judge Nelson, he fined the fellow $5 and then remitted it.

A large audience assembled at the Methodist church on Sunday evening at the song service. The pastor's address was brief and was upon the origin of some of the most popular religious songs. He attributed the present stagnation of Methodism to the falling off of congregational singing. The choir gave some choice selections and Mr. Belcher, formerly of Astoria, now of the choir of the Congregational church at Portland, delighted the audience with his magnificent rendition of "Fear Not Ye, O, Israel."

An attempt to "borrow" a bicycle, and a novel one, was tried Sunday at the station of the Astoria & Columbia River railroad. A man stepped up and requested the baggage agent to check his wheel, at the same time pointing to one in the baggage room. That official proceeded to do so and was in the act of handing the check to the fellow, when the owner of the wheel put in an appearance and claimed the property. Explanations were made, but the owner was not at all satisfied with them.

Representative Tongue is now in Tillamook for the purpose of making an inspection of Hogwart slough and Tillamook bay and bar. Engineers' reports sent to Washington regarding Tillamook's advantages and disadvantages have always been to the detriment of the place. The Tillamook Headlight, in an article on Representative Tongue's visit, states that he went there to attempt to unbottle the county from its bottled up condition, to learn precisely the true condition of affairs and to plead intelligently at the proper time before the river and harbor committee for an appropriation.

During Speaker Henderson's visit to Portland a letter was received from the Chamber of Commerce of that city by the president of the Chamber of Commerce here, requesting it to co-operate with the Portland body in entertaining the speaker and party when they would pass through here on a trip to the mouth of the river. The train was furnished by President Hammond of the Astoria & Columbia River railway, the tug was furnished by the O. R. & N. Co., while one-half the expense of the speaker's party was to be paid by the Chamber of Commerce of this city. All went well, including the dinner. The speaker's party dined in private car, while the Portlanders dined at the hotel. The bill for thirty-nine diners was presented to the Astoria Chamber of Commerce and paid by it. It was voted that the receipted bill, marked "duplicate," be sent to Portland. Astorians feel that the job on Portland is worth the money. Speaker Henderson was entertained entirely outside of the city of Portland, and all he saw of the place was through a car window.

Among the papers being compiled by State Superintendent of Schools J. H. Ackerman is one showing the school property in the state, the number of voters for school purposes in each county and the average monthly salary paid to male and female teachers. The estimated value of school houses and grounds, and the value of school furniture in Clatsop county as shown in one of the reports is $38,695 and $7,250 respectively. The estimated value of apparatus, maps, globes, charts, etc., in this county is $3,375. The number of voters for school purposes is given at 1,152.

Fish Commissioner Reed is having a merry time in attempting to enforce the law. Fishermen have been out every day since the law went into effect. Many of them are laboring under the impression that the laws of Washington are not the same as Oregon, and say they will fish on the other side until tomorrow noon. The fish commissioner intended going out on the river last night to disprove the words of the men but whether or not he succeeded in getting into halibut distance is not known. The commissioner visited the several canneries yesterday and afterwards went to Justice Brewer's court and swore out warrants for the arrest of the managers of the following canneries: Columbia River Packers Association, Columbia River Packing Company, Fishermen's Co-operative, George W. Sanborn and A. Booth Packing Company. The warrants charge the managers with receiving and having in their possession salmon delivered to the cannery which were illegally caught. The several cases will be called in Justice Brewer's court Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. All of the canneries with the exception of the Columbia River Packers Association propose to unite to test the validity of the law. The commissioner was anxious to have the cases called for trial yesterday afternoon, as he wished to leave the city immediately, but the attorneys for the accused requested that they be given more time. Nearly all those posted on law are of the opinion that, as the laws of Washington and Oregon are concurrent, the commissioner here can arrest those who fish illegally on the Washington side. The run of fish was excellent Sunday night. Many fishermen reported that they had caught from 1500 to 1700 pounds.

MISS TALLANT LEADS. Received Four Thousand Votes Since Saturday's Count. "Who will head the list tomorrow," was the question heard many times on the street yesterday, regarding the balloting for queen of the regatta. When the votes were counted yesterday evening it was found that a number of changes in the order of candidates would result. Miss Louise Tallant received four thousand votes from the time of the last count on Saturday and is now in first place, with a lead over Miss Madge Sovey of fifty-two. Seven candidates now have over a thousand votes.

Table with 2 columns: Name and Votes. Includes Miss Louise Tallant (4091), Miss Madge Sovey (3899), Miss Olga Nor (3321), Miss Nell Uttinger (3010), Miss Antonia Johnson (1573), Miss Madge Chapman (1093), Mrs. Isaac Bergman (1091), Miss Elsie Parker (710), Mrs. K. Osborn (620), Miss Maude Stockton (498), Miss Esther McCann (460), Miss Nell Carnahan (359), Miss Jennie Curtis (358), Mrs. A. M. Smith (328), Mrs. E. Lineweber (298), Miss Myrtle Olsen (200).

ESTIMATE OF THE PACK. Increase of 10,000 Cases Over Last Year More Money for Men. A reliable estimate of the pack of Columbia river salmon at the close of the season shows an increase as compared with that of last year of over 10,000 cases on the total pack. With the enormously increased quantities of fish handled by the cold storage houses this year it is safe to say that the fishermen fared as well if not better than they did at the close of last season.

THE HALF CENT. A movement is on foot to put a one-half cent coin in general use in the United States. Several suggestions have been made to the government, and a document was presented, signed by the heads of the big department stores throughout the country, showing the needs for this money in making change. Progress finds many methods of improvement, but for half a century past, in spite of many imitations, nothing has risen to equal Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the greatest benefactor the human race has ever known. This medicine cures constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, nervousness and sleeplessness, also prevents malaria, fever and ague. MAY HAVE A WOOLEN MILL

One Seeking a Location in This City.

BIG THING FOR ASTORIA

Chance to Become a Manufacturing Center—Committee Will Meet This Morning.

At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last night, Fred Carter, of Dallas, Oregon, representing the interests of the Pioneer Woollen Mills, stated to the gentlemen present that the removal of the woollen mills was now being contemplated, and that he was desirous of locating the same here, providing the proposition he was about to offer would be accepted. Mr. Carter stated that for a subsidy of $22,000, which would be used in putting up the necessary buildings upon a site, which he wished the Chamber of Commerce to donate to the company, the mills would be moved from Dallas to this city. The object in moving the plant from there is because of the lack of help, the country being devoted to agriculture solely, and there being only three trains to and from the place per week. A scarcity of water is another reason for wishing to move. What little water is to be gotten will hardly suffice to operate the plant as it consumes 200,000 gallons per day. The water is not fit for use the greater portion of the year, because of being riled by transporting logs down the stream.

In return for the investment, Mr. Carter stated that it not only would be the means of bringing nearly one hundred and fifty families to locate permanently at Astoria, but also that the disbursement would be in the neighborhood of $6,000 per month.

The plant at present is too small, as it is unable to supply the demand for its output. The owners wishing to triple the output, have already purchased the necessary machinery, and are only waiting to decide upon a good location before having it shipped.

He further stated that he had been in communication with commercial clubs in a number of cities on the coast, but that he was more favorably impressed with Astoria because of its shipping facilities to all parts of the world.

Samples of the goods made in the mills, consisting of heavy and lightweight suitings of woolen and shoddy, were shown. After hearing that Mr. Carter was looking over the situation in Astoria, Portland offered him large inducements to locate there, but considering the manufacturing resources of Astoria superior to those of Portland, he was inclined to rest his case with the Chamber of Commerce.

President Van Dusen appointed a committee, comprising F. R. Stokes, J. Q. A. Bowby, A. Scherneck, James W. Welch and Samuel Elmore, to confer with Mr. Carter for the purpose of investigating the matter thoroughly and placing the matter before the chamber, which will, after satisfying itself that the project is a feasible one, proceed to obtain the necessary funds for the subsidy and purchase of the site.

The committee will confer with Mr. Carter this morning. As soon as the report is ready the president will call a meeting for further consideration. B. L. Calk, who located the Doornbercher furniture factory in Portland, was with Mr. Carter, for the purpose of assisting in locating the plant here. He is a well-known promoter, and has been successful in establishing mills of different kinds in several cities on the coast.

The plant which will be installed here, providing everything is satisfactory, will be worth in the neighborhood of $150,000, and will give employment to 250 people.

DESERTED WHILE ILL

Formerly of Astoria Girl's Sad Plight. Mrs. W. S. Gregory, formerly Miss Ruby Walters, of this city, a bride of three months and now, without husband or friends, lies ill in Tacoma. Her husband was proprietor of a restaurant there, but the business proved unprofitable and he was forced to close out. Walters, with Mrs. Gregory's mother, went to Alaska, leaving her ill in Tacoma. Mrs. Gregory's story of the affair, as told to a representative of the Tacoma News, follows: "I am sick—too sick to talk," said Mrs. Gregory, "but if the story of my troubles has become public, I would suppose it best to tell you the whole truth. "I know I am accused of having eloped with—yes, with a gambler! But this is utterly false, and it is cruel. Two weeks ago I was compelled to leave my husband, because he was fonder of my mother than he was of me, and because he would not give me money for even some of the necessities of life. When I left him I had not even whole shoes to cover my feet. For a few days before we separated, after he had refused me money that I simply had to have (he did give me twenty-five cents one day for clothing), I went to the cash drawer in the restaurant and took small sums of money for my needs. I made the mistake of tearing up
