For President WILLIAM M'KINLEY, Of Ohio.

For Vice-President THEODORE ROOSEVELT, Of New York.

The Chicago churches are not alone in their desire to see the miners' strike settled by arbitration.

With the Tammany ice trust in the summer and the coal strike in the autumn, it's hard lines for the down East Yankees.

Travelers in the Far East have often remarked that the ugly iron bedsteads in common use there were much more serviceable than ornamental. The remark has been amply verified by the story of the French priest who killed twenty Boxers by means of a gun improvised from the hollow tubing of one of these ugly articles of furniture.

The raising of Prince Tuan, the leader of the Boxers, to a high office, and the removal of the Tao Tai of Shanghai for the purpose of putting a strongly anti-foreign mandarin in his place, immediately after the proclamation of Germany that the leaders of the anti-foreign movement must be turned over to the allies for punishment, betoken serious trouble ahead for the Celestial Kingdom. The spirit of the German emperor is too well known to leave any doubt as to the effect upon him of this defiant attitude of the Chinese government. And Germany's position is likely to be that of the other powers, save only Russia, Japan and the United States. While the attitude of our government has not been overburdened with firmness, it will probably save us from the interminable broil which now appears inevitable.

MINISTER WU'S HAY RIDE.

Tacoma News. Minister Wu, the Chinese representative at Washington, has given ample pledges of his friendship for the United States, but there are some things in this country which he refuses to stand for. He participated in a hay ride at Cape Meares recently and as a result he became sorely scandalized.

He, in company, with his young nephew, Ung Chao Shee, enjoyed the novelty of the event very much, until the ambassador observed a young blade in the party pass his arm around the waist of a pretty maiden, without even the faint of a protest. This was too much for Mr. Wu, and, taking his nephew by the hand, they sid to the ground, with the remark, by the minister, that they needed exercise, and would walk home. This is only one of the proofs that the Orientals can never assimilate the civilization of the Western world. In commenting upon the event Minister Wu, with admirable diplomacy, contented himself with the rather significant observation that the women of China don't go on hay rides. It might be better for them if they did, and if they indulged in other American practices which are regarded by the Chinese as indiscretions. But that, after all, is a matter of opinion. It all depends upon the point of view.

This little incident in life is likely to be seized upon as an argument by the anti-imperialists against territorial acquisition in China and the partition of the empire. What better proof of the assertion "once a Chinaman always a Chinaman," is needed? Nobody can ever make an American or even a true Christian out of a Mongol. A distinction to embrace an opportunity to hug a willing girl fixes a great gulf between the American and the Chinaman. Evidently the only thing to do with the Chinese is to leave them to their idols. It would be worse than useless for the Americans to try to set up business among a people who look with suspicion and horror on hay rides, and the missionaries of Christian nations, who have frittered away much time in China, ought to be admonished by the circumstance that one of the most enlightened and liberal of all Chinamen was horrified and stricken with shame to witness as natural and harmless an act as the hugging of a pretty girl by a gallant young man.

"I had a running sore on my leg for seven years," writes Mrs. J. A. Forest, of Chepewa Falls, Wis., "and spent hundreds of dollars in trying to get it healed. Two boxes of Banner Salve entirely cured it." CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

It's tough on the trapeze performer when there is a falling off in business.

A good many consumptives would be cured and the worst cases comforted and relieved by using Foley's Honey and Tar. Suggest it to those afflicted. You should do this as a friend. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

Allen Halverson of West Prairie, Wis., says: "People come ten miles to buy Foley's Kidney Cure," while J. A. Spence, of Heimer, Ind., says: "It is the medical wonder of the age." CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

The judgment of Solomon was great, but he never tried to umpire a baseball game.

HOW BRIGHT'S DISEASE STARTS. Indigestion, biliousness, blood poisoned with urea and uric acid (which would have been excreted by the kidneys), rheumatic pains in nerves and joints, causing irritation of the kidneys, then pains over the small of the back, mark sure approach of Bright's disease. Do not delay taking Foley's Kidney Cure, for it makes the kidneys right. Take no substitute. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

It is easier to see through the plot of a play than through the big hat in front of it.

HALF THE WORLD IN DARKNESS as to the cause of their ill health. If they would start to treat their kidneys with Foley's Kidney Cure, the weariness of body and mind, backache, headache and rheumatic pains would disappear. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

Many a boy who runs away to join a circus is only too glad to walk back home again.

NO RELIEF FOR 20 YEARS. "I had bronchitis for twenty years," said Mrs. Minerva Smith, of Danville, Ill., "and at times have been bedfast. I never got relief until I had taken Foley's Honey and Tar. It is pleasant and gives quick relief, and is a sure cure for throat and lung disease." Take nothing else. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.
