It is said that Charles Herbert, the sailor boarding-house man, was held up and searched by two policemen in Portland on Tuesday. The policemen stated that they heard he had come up from Astoria with a big gun with which he intended to raise all kinds of mischief. Herbert had neither gun nor knife on his person, and was allowed to go his way after being searched.

Rev. L. J. Trumbull, of the Baptist church, was unanimously re-elected to the pastorate of that church at a meeting held for that purpose Wednesday evening. This will make Mr. Trumbull's seventh year in this church. Delegates were also elected to the annual convention of the Baptist churches of Oregon, which body meets this year at The Dalles, on the 15th of the present month. The delegates elected were Rev. L. J. Trumbull and wife, Mrs. W. W. Belcher and Mrs. Dr. Estes.

At the W. C. T. U. meeting yesterday it was decided to change the time of meeting from 2 o'clock to 2:30. Mrs. Bayles will represent the union at the state convention which convenes at Moro, Sherman county, on October 9 to 12.

From the report of Albert Tosier, secretary of the Oregon Press Association, the following is gleaned: "There are in this state 19 dailies; 173 weeklies; five semi-weeklies; 44 monthlies, two two semi-monthlies, one quarterly; a total of 244 publications. I class these papers according to the field they represent, as follows: Republican, 47; Democratic, 34; people's, 14; independent, 31; religious, 16; poultry, 2; mining, 3; miscellaneous, 14; stock and agricultural, 6; fraternal, 9; youths, 2; drugs, 2; college, 1; lumber, 1; prohibition, 1; medical, 1; labor, 2; commercial, 1; total, 244.

The British ship Genista, which was lying in the lower harbor, crossed out early yesterday morning with Captain Hearn safe aboard, despite the efforts made to detain him. After the grand jury failed to find a true bill against him, the captain in some way got wind of the fact that there was a second suit, this a civil suit, against him. It seems he objected to remaining any longer to answer to charges which failed to materialize into anything definite and only served to force a delay of days and weeks, and came to Astoria to attempt to get out to sea. While the officers who chartered a steamer and went down to the ship at midnight Wednesday night in a vain search for him were straining every effort to locate him, he was quietly sleeping on shore and at daybreak he went quietly down in the tug Wallula and boarded his ship and was towed out over the bar and taking advantage of the brisk off-shore breeze, was soon beyond the danger of pursuit. This practically closes that chapter of the sailor-boarding-house affair.

It has been announced that six of the large steamers under contract to the German government to carry horses to China from the Pacific coast ports have been released. The steamers will load grain for the United Kingdom. The transport Alenia sailed from San Francisco Wednesday for Taku with 525 horses and mules for the German army. She will probably be the last. For a time it looked as though the supply of suitable cavalry animals on the Pacific coast would be depleted. German government agents worked through California, Oregon and Washington, buying up everything in the shape of a horse that was sound.

Under the head "A Great Joke," the Gold Beach Gazette publishes the following: "Notwithstanding Coleman Gillespie, the murderer of Mrs. Edson, has only a few more days less of life, he is said to be having a jolly good time in the jail at Gresham, and seems to look upon the sentence of death as the greatest joke of the season. He eats like a hog, sleeps like a log, and passes the days in laughing and singing, scoffing at religion, drawing comic cartoons of the judge, district attorney and others, and when he has opportunity to talk he is overflowing with funny yarns and jests. In the meantime the sheriff is preparing to carry out the orders of the court."

In the county court yesterday Mrs. Rosa Waters, of Portland, commenced an action to restrain her former husband, J. A. Bush, of this city, or more properly of Port Stevens, from holding possession of their two children, Violet and Leo, Bush. The children were brought into court and given into the charge of the sheriff till the case is settled. The case was set for hearing on Saturday. The plaintiff and defendant were divorced at Eugene last March, and both have since remarried. Defendant has been married to Miss Clara V. Anderson in this city, on Tuesday last. The plaintiff alleges that Mr. Bush is not a proper custodian of the children, he having ill-treated and abused them. She prays that the children be placed with the boys and girls aid society.

A recent New York report of the condition of the salmon market says: Salmon has caused much commotion this year. The Alaska Packers' Association, through their agents, the J. K. Armyby Co., report that they are sold out. Salmon came on to a bare market this year though the pack of '99 had been a large one. This year catches faced an increased demand with a shortage of about 700,000 cases. It is safe to say that canned salmon is all out of first hands. There can be no logical sequence when the distributors seek for goods. Barred salmon promises as much of a sensation as the canned. C. E. Whitney & Co., who have dealt in it largely during the past ten years, covered the market last year. The trade will have to look to C. E. Whitney & Co. for prices again this year, although nothing definite can be learned as yet.

A SUBSTITUTE FOR COAL.

London is trying to produce a substitute for household coal. Common peat, chemically prepared, is the proposed "new coal." Whether it will replace the faithful old fuel remains to be seen. Time will weigh it in the balance and if found wanting, relegate it to the graveyard of failure, where so many imitations of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the great dyspepsia cure, may be found. This has been the only genuine cure for half a century. Every sufferer should try it for constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia, liver or kidney troubles, if he would be cured. Be sure to get the genuine with our Private Stamp over the neck of the bottle. There is nothing as good for malaria, fever and ague, or to counteract rheumatism.

PUGET SOUND FALL PACK.

Buyers of Sound Salmon Will Have Difficulty in Filling Orders—Estimated Pack.

J. O. Hanthorn, the pioneer canneryman of the Columbia river, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Hanthorn is secretary and treasurer of the Puget Sound Packing Company, with headquarters at Fairhaven, the second largest packing house on the Sound, the Pacific American claiming first place.

Mr. Hanthorn says this has been a poor year on the Sound, although their house had done as well as expected, this being an off year on the run. He says the market is strong with every indication of an advance, and those who have sold futures on the Puget Sound pack will be short on their deliveries and for that reason will have to cover for their requirements at higher prices from other quarters.

Following is the estimated pack on the Sound for this fall:

Table with 2 columns: Cases, Amount. Includes entries for Port Townsend Packing Co., George T. Myers, Almsworth & Duhn, Astoria & Puget Sound Pk'g Co., Puget Sound Packing Co., Pacific American Fisheries Co., Fairhaven Canning Co., George & Barker, J. W. & V. GRAND RALLY OF REPUBLICANS

Enthusiastic Meeting at Republican Headquarters.

SPEECH BY HON. WILLIAMS

Defines Clearly the Character of the Campaign Now Being Conducted by Bryan.

Hon. George H. Williams delivered one of the ablest speeches ever listened to in Astoria at the Republican headquarters on Bond street in this city last evening. Mr. Williams, who has been for nearly half a century one of the most prominent figures among the representative men from the Pacific coast in the political history of our nation, despite the burden of his years, still appears hale and hearty and holds to a remarkable degree his old-time power of argumentative reasoning. He does not carry his hearers by storm or by wild bursts of eloquence but his calm, deliberate, forceful utterances cannot fail to carry conviction. In his speech last night Mr. Williams spoke of Mr. Bryan's conduct in reference to the very treaty which he is now so bitterly denouncing, and regarding which he is so severely criticizing President McKinley's action. He said that Mr. Bryan even admits that he went to Washington to use his influence to get his friends to ratify the treaty and admits the responsibility of the ratification of the very instrument which he claims contains the menace of imperialism. That Bryan shows by his own action since in the matter and even claims that his motive in securing the ratification of the treaty was to raise an issue for the coming campaign, and has stated that the treaty made a clean cut issue between the two parties. He then argued that the treaty having been ratified and become practically a law, McKinley was bound by his oath to execute that law. He brought out in a very able manner and illustrated very clearly the character of the campaign Bryan is carrying on. He spoke of Bryan's treatment of the question of trusts, and stated that as many Democrats as Republicans were interested in trusts, and that although the Democrats, and especially Mr. Bryan, spoke so vehemently against them, that all of the legislation that had ever been done against the trusts had been done by the Republicans. He also showed what mere tumbles were Bryan's prophecies of four years ago regarding finance and other questions and that his present bubble of "imperialism" would soon share the fate of the others. In closing Mr. Williams urged the importance of letting well enough alone. That our country was now in a state of universal prosperity and that experiments would be dangerous. The address was attentively listened to by the crowd that literally packed the hall and extended outside the doors, and was vigorously applauded. A sprinkling of Democrats among the audience showed an unusual interest in the occasion. Quite a number of ladies were also present. The meeting was ably presided over by H. D. Gray, secretary of the Young Men's Republican Club. After the address of the evening, pipes and tobacco were passed about among the audience. Harrison Allen gave a brief outline of the work already done in the city and presented the rolls of the two local clubs which were largely signed. Senator Fulton then called on and paid a graceful tribute to the speaker of the evening. John McCue, in behalf of the Young Men's Republican Club, stated that the object of their organization was to work and that they were ready and willing to do it. During the evening Mr. Fred Johnson gave an amusing Swedish dialect recitation. Music was furnished by a local orchestra. The meeting formally opened the campaign in this section, and was a splendid success in every way.

KNAPPA ITEMS.

Mr. W. McFarlane is quite ill this week. A case of scarlet fever is reported in the vicinity. Messrs. Hendrickson and Takelo have started logging on Big creek. Miss Marge Ross departed for Portland Wednesday night, where she goes to join her mother. Mesdames Bowen and E. Mitchell made a short visit to Gearhart the first part of this week. Miss Margaret Foster left Knappa Sunday to take charge of her school work in Astoria Monday. Mrs. E. Belknap was called suddenly to Warrenton on account of the illness of her mother, Mrs. Hill. The farewell dance given by Mr. Walter Bagley at Union hall was well attended and all report a good time. Mrs. Bagley and her two children, Lewis and Ollie, left for Portland this week, where she goes to keep house for her son Walter, who is attending school there. Among the Astoria visitors this week we notice Mr. and Mrs. Abrahamson, Rev. Foster, Misses Westerland, Courter and Master James Eaton and Mrs. McCullom.

The Rev. Mr. Lockhart, formerly from this place, while on his way from the Methodist Episcopal conference, which was held at Ashland, to Ilwaco, stopped and preached at the Wharf school-house. The sermon was very much appreciated by all who had the pleasure of hearing him.

After an illness of but a few days Mr. Thomas Johnson, of Eddy Point, died September 28, at 7:30 p. m., at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Andrew Abraham, of this place. The funeral took place at 11 o'clock from the Presbyterian church, Rev. Mr. Hawkins preaching the sermon.

OF LOCAL INTEREST.

The Astorian of Sunday will publish a very unique story, which cannot fail to attract attention. Several people well known in Astoria are to figure conspicuously in the cast of characters on which account the story will be particularly of local interest. Romance and fact are to be clearly intermingled, and no one should miss its telling.
