The Astorian guarantees to its advertisers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia river.

Advertising rates can be had on application to the business manager.

Astoria should be planning an elaborate exhibit for the exposition to be held in Portland in 1904. Three years' time is none too much for its proper planning and arrangement.

It may prove a very good thing for the peace of Europe that England has her hands full in South Africa. The insults and personal violence offered the British troops at Tien Tsin by the French and Russian soldiers will be borne with an equanimity altogether foreign to British habits, from the mere fact that what can't be cured must be endured.

CLEAN UP.

The movement for the improvement of the city's appearance by the personal attention of each citizen to the property under his control is strongly endorsed by the Omaha News. The following from its columns is suggestive and directly in line with the position taken by the Astorian.

combine to make a city attractive in the eyes of visitors. The season is now beginning when a very little effort on the part of each individual will produce surprising results.

"These little incidents of thrift appeal most potently to the capitalist and prospective investor. A few dollars judiciously invested frequently add ten times the amount to the value of a piece of property."

IT ALWAYS PAYS.

Baker City Democrat. A young lady—of course it is to be presumed she is young—living in a small town in Southern Idaho, has proven the value of newspaper advertising to the extent that the postoffice officials have been asked by the local postmaster to pay more coin or find a new man.

Miss Jeanet Morgan, for that, it seems, is the young lady's name, became possessed of an ambition to be somebody's wife. Among the young men in the immediate vicinity she couldn't find her ideal, and so inserted an advertisement in an Eastern paper, telling in most glowing terms of her many qualities and incidentally calling attention to the fact that she owned a big ranch without the usual mortgage attachment.

Inspired by a love for Idaho girls who have ranches, from north, south, east and west came letters. Where formerly a few thin letters, bearing the return card of a seed house or a gold brick concern, filtered into the office, the mail grew until it now comes in big sacks and even by utilizing barn and chicken coop the postmaster is unable to store it all.

IF FROM THE BUNCH MISS MORGAN IS ABLE to select a good husband she will do well, and at the same time illustrate, more forcibly than ever, the merits of newspaper advertising. There are men and women who do not believe in it, but if one notices them they are of a quality that is not bringing a fair price in the market.

WITH THE PARAGRAPHERS.

So far Gunner Morgan is ahead in the controversy, as he hasn't said a word.—Montana Record.

There is another rich find on Porcupine creek. The gravel just bristles with gold.—Minneapolis Journal.

Fate cannot conceal a man like Theodore Roosevelt by making him a vice-president.—Chicago Tribune.

If the robin "pipes his lay" up this way, he will have to put his pipe below the frost line.—Minneapolis Journal.

Provided he has the price there is nothing to prevent Mr. Pettigrew talking a few phonographs full of his troubles.—Washington Post.

The dressmakers have formed a union. Here's hoping that they take the milliners and go on a strike that will never end.—Kansas City World.

The enlargement of the Armour plant in Kansas City is looked upon with favor and composure, even by the enemies of expansion.—Kansas City Star.

Roosevelt would make a good presiding officer for the reichsrath and would not need to hunt mountain lions for strenuous diversion.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Duke of Manchester left his past in England when he came to this country, but it was down at the wharf to meet him the day he returned.—Chicago Record.

All the sensible Cubans are settling down to the conviction that they will have to comply with the congressional resolutions, and may as well begin at once.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Now that alcohol has been officially condemned as a food, the toddy-blossom culturists need not despair. They should pull off a series of experiments to prove that water is an intoxicant.—St. Louis Republic.

Some men seem to be pondering with the muse when they are only worrying about next week's board bill.

Mr. J. W. Patterson, night police at Nashua, Ia., says: "In January I had a very bad cold on my lungs, and used half dozen different cough medicines and prescriptions from two doctors, but grew worse all the time. I finally bought a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar and after using two-thirds of it, I was entirely cured." CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

A prophesy note is a brilliant idea, for the right fellow.

Usually a racking cough and a general feeling of weakness, Foley's Honey and Tar is guaranteed to cure the "grippe cough" and make you strong and well. Take no substitutes. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

No man has ever conceived a more beautiful thought than the one that is yet unborn.

Pneumonia follows the grippe, but never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar, the great throat and lung remedy. Take no substitute. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

Everlasting vigilance is the surest road to success, especially when a fellow is trying to escape from a committee of the same nature.

Eugene J. Hall, the poet and publisher, says that one dose of Foley's Honey and Tar restored his voice when hoarseness threatened to prevent his lecture at Central Music Hall, Chicago. Nothing else as good. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

The reformer is the man who tries to inoculate others with his own particular brand of goodness.

Robt. R. Watts, of Salem, Mo., writes: "I have been troubled with kidney disease for the last five years and have doctored with all the leading physicians and have tried all remedies suggested without any relief. Finally I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and less than two bottles completely cured me and I am sound and well."

The pen was once mightier than the sword; now the typewriter is a greater hustler than the Krak-Jorgensen.

CHEAP INSURANCE.

Many a man has been insured against Bright's disease, diabetes, or other dangerous ailments by a fifty-cent bottle of Foley's Kidney Cure. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

The willing horse pulls hardest at the traces, but there is less in his feed box.

"I had a running sore on my leg for seven years," writes Mr. Jas. Forest of Chippewa Falls, Wis., "and spent hundreds of dollars in trying to get it healed. Two boxes of Banner Salve entirely cured it." No other salve so healing. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

It often happens that when the pretty girl tells the rich young man that she loves him, she's only stringing him.

BANNER SALVE.

Tetter, eczema and skin diseases yield quickly to the marvelous healing qualities of Banner Salve made from a prescription of a skin specialist of world wide fame. 25c. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

NOTICE OF THE SALE OF STOCK OF THE COLUMBIA RIVER PACKERS ASSOCIATION, OF ASTORIA, OREGON.

WHEREAS, on the 15th day of March, 1899, the National Packing Company for a valuable consideration made, executed and delivered to the First National Bank, of Astoria, Oregon, its certain promissory note wherein it promised to pay to the order of said bank the sum of $2000, with interest after date at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in United States gold coin, and, whereas, on the 19th day of March, 1900, the said National Packing Company, for value received, made and delivered to said bank its certain promissory note wherein it promised and agreed to pay to the order of said bank the sum of $2000, with interest after date at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in United States gold coin; and, whereas, on the 6th day of September, 1899, J. O. Hanthorn, one of the officers and guarantors of the said notes, for the purpose of securing the payment thereof, transferred and assigned as collateral, to the said bank, 28 1/2 shares of the capital stock of the Columbia River Packers Association, of Astoria, Oregon, then owned by the said J. O. Hanthorn, as shown by certificate number 168, and at the same time and as part of the same transaction, the said J. O. Hanthorn executed and delivered to the said bank a written assignment and transfer of the said stock, reciting therein that the said stock was transferred as collateral security for the payment of said notes, including all charges and expenses of collecting the same and a reasonable attorney's fee, and authority was given therein to the said bank by the said J. O. Hanthorn to sell the said shares of capital stock or any part thereof, and any collateral substituted for said stock, with or without notice, at public or private sale, at the option of said bank, on the non-payment of said notes and to apply the net proceeds of such sale to the payment of said notes, and the sale of the said bank was authorized and empowered to become the purchaser thereof; and,

whereas said certificate of stock was afterwards surrendered to the said Packers Association at a new certificate of stock in lieu thereof for 28 1/2 shares as issued by said Association to said bank, as shown by certificate number 176; and, whereas demand has been made for the payment of said notes, and said notes still remain unpaid, and there is now due and unpaid thereon as principal the sum of $2000 on one note and $800.00 on the other note and interest on each of said principal sums from March 1, 1901, at the rate of six per cent per annum.

NOW THEREFORE NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That under and in pursuance of the said written contract referred upon the undersigned by the said J. O. Hanthorn, the undersigned will, on Tuesday, the 26th day of March, 1901, at the hour of 10 o'clock a. m. of said day, at the front door of the building now occupied by the said First National Bank, in the City of Astoria, Oregon, sell at public auction for cash to the highest bidder the said 28 1/2 shares of capital stock of the said Columbia River Packers Association, certificate number 176, and will apply the proceeds of such sale to the payment of said notes and the costs and expenses of sale.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF ASTORIA, By S. S. GOLDSON, Cashier.
