President Mohler of the O. R. & N. has entered vigorous denial of the story originating in Tacoma that the Union Pacific was to absorb the O. R. & N. and the Oregon Short Line. The Tacoma story also stated that Mr. Mohler would resign his present position and a place would be found for him on the Erie road. Mr. Mohler characterized the statement as being absolutely barren of truth.

The twin launches Robert Barron and Taku Jack have been completed by R. M. Leathers and the Astoria Iron Works. The former is alongside the track to be loaded on cars for shipment, and the latter was launched yesterday for a trial before being sent north. Her twenty-horse power Troyer gasoline engine works perfectly. Its most pleasing feature being the absence of the noise and offensive odor so peculiar to the ordinary gasoline engine.

The picture of Senator C. W. Fulton in yesterday's Oregonian was reproduced from a cartoon published during the legislative and labeled "Before and After." It will be recalled that one picture represented the Clatsop statesman as the dignified presiding officer of the senate and the second was adorned with an expensive smile and purported to be a representation of the senator giving the Corbett man the merry ha ha! The idea of using cartoon faces for pictures to be taken seriously is an innovation in large newspaper offices, having heretofore been followed exclusively by small publications who make patent medicine cuts do duty for prominent personages from the president to Pat Crowe.

PUSH CLUB MEETING

CAPT. AL STREAM WANTS SUBSIDY FOR SHIPYARD HERE.

G. W. Herst Will Erect Woolen Mill if $25,000 in Bonds Are Subscribed.

At the special meeting of the Push Club held last night two propositions, looking toward the establishment of enterprises in Astoria, were submitted and discussed.

The proposed plant will include a saw-mill to cost between $15,000 and $20,000, and the people of Astoria will be asked to furnish the capital through stock subscriptions, the money advanced to be returned as soon as practicable.

The other proposition is from an owner of a woolen mill now in Wisconsin, who wishes to remove to Astoria.

One of the best known diplomatists recently declared that the Cubans are incapable of governing themselves, and that the United States must maintain its present control indefinitely, or else annex the island.

JOHANSEN STILL CRAZY. Deputy From Pacific County Expected for Him.

Sheriff Linville yesterday telephoned to Sheriff Rooney, of Pacific county, Wash., to send a deputy here to take charge of Emil Johansen, who is confined in the county jail, having been brought here from North Beach, where he went insane. Johansen's malady shows no sign of abatement and yesterday he kept the deputy sheriffs on the alert constantly for fear he would do violence to himself.

The deputies took turns watching the prisoner at the county jail. Unfortunately there is no padded cell for incarceration of insane prisoners, and Johansen had to be constantly attended.

J. A. FASTABEND GENERAL CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER

to the vendors. Notice was given that bids would be re-advertised for and several changes made in the specifications.

Two sets of plans will be prepared, one calling for a ten foot road and one for a sixteen foot road, and bids will be asked for on each. A provision will be inserted in the specifications providing for the payment of 75 per cent of the contract price for the first mile when completed, a similar percentage of the second mile and also the 25 per cent held back on the first mile and each mile will be paid for in a similar way until the contract is completed.

The exorbitant prices asked by the two bidders created general surprise. An official of the county said yesterday that $2500 a mile would be a fair price for the road and allow a margin to the contractor. Roads have been constructed for other counties for much less than $6000 a mile, which was the lowest bid submitted. Under the first specifications the road was to be sixteen feet wide to Olney and ten miles from that point on. Economy may make it necessary to construct a ten foot road, for the entire distance, which is the reason for asking bidders to submit estimates for the two widths.

DEPUTY WARDEN HERE. New Appointee Arrives to Confer With Warden Van Dusen.

Henry Bultman, of Florence, Lane county, who was appointed deputy fish warden by the state board of fish commissioners at Salem Tuesday, arrived in the city yesterday and reported to Master Fish Warden Van Dusen for duty.

Mr. Bultman was engaged in sealing and trapping on the Columbia eight years ago, and has many friends in Astoria. Since that time he has been in the Impqua, engaged principally in the same business.

Deputy Fish Commissioner E. C. McReavy, of Washington, was in conference yesterday with Messrs. Van Dusen and Bultman and will start this morning for Ilwaco to see that the closed season is being observed.

Fish Commissioner Reed will be in Salem today and will make demand upon Secretary of State Dunbar for March salary warrant. Upon refusal of the demand Mr. Reed will immediately institute mandamus proceedings that will call into question the constitutionality of the new fish law and also determine whether or not the law of 1898 has been repealed by implication.

PUGET SOUND CO.'S PLANTS. Will Be Sold April 15 and Lively Bidding Expected.

The Seattle Post-Intelligencer of recent date says: The date of the receiver's sale of the plants of the Puget Sound Packing Co. has been set for April 15, and it is expected there will be lively bidding. The property of this concern comprises the Sea-Seal plant at Blithaven, the Hawthorn plant at Port Angeles and other minor interests. The corporation was organized a year ago by New York parties and, aside from the canneries situated at Blithaven, owns some of the best fishing grounds in the Sound.

The plant at Blithaven has been enlarged since the deal was made and is said to be one of the best on the Sound. It has a daily capacity of 3000 cases. The Port Angeles plant was not opened last year. It was the old Hawthorn plant and has a capacity of 800 cases a day. Since the beginning of the sardine industry here it has been one of the best products and it is said is admirably adapted for such use.

The interest in the sale which will be conducted by Receiver Henry M. Noton at Blithaven, is in the fact that the Alaska Packers Association is reported to be after the property. It is said this concern will use it to increase its output this season and make its war to prevent the consolidation of interests here for an opera and privileged ones who have been taken into the child's confidence declare the music to compare favorably with modern operatic productions. It is her hobby and her spare moments are devoted to writing and revising the score.

Admission to the concerts has been placed at unusually low prices, 25 cents for children and 50 cents for adults.

BIDS WERE REJECTED. Plans for Road and Method of Payment Changed.

The county commissioners yesterday announced the rejection of bids submitted for the construction of the county road to Nehalem, and County Clerk Wherity was instructed to return the checks accompanying the bids

He attempted to pull the bandages from his wounds and re-open the cuts but the vigilance of the deputies thwarted him. He still has an hallucination that something inside him is an enemy that would kill him, and yesterday another vagary cropped out. This time he fancied a rival had stolen his sweetheart and was waiting to catch him and cut every bone out of his body.

A deputy from Pacific county is expected today and Johansen will be taken to South Bend where examination will be held and he will doubtless be confined in the asylum.

CONDENSED FROM CLIPPINGS.

The offices and headquarters of the North American Fisheries Company, of which T. J. Gorman, of Portland, is manager, are to be moved to Seattle.

Editor H. R. Clayton, of the Seattle Republican, will have to stand trial in the superior court on the charge of criminal libel, preferred by Chief of Police Meredith, who was publicly accused by Clayton of official corruption.

A number of well executed counterfeit $10 gold pieces were recently passed in several of the South cities. The counterfeit is made of copper, tin and brass and resembles the genuine except for having no ring. The culprit has not been apprehended.

George Shelley, sheriff of Harney county, says Oregon is a state of magnificent distances. To deliver a patient at the asylum for the insane at Salem, it was necessary to travel 150 miles by stage from Burns, the county seat, to Ontario, a station on the O. R. & N. railroad, with stops only for meals. Thence by rail 150 miles to Pendleton, 231 miles to Portland, and 56 miles to Salem, making nearly 1200 miles for the round trip.

The experiment of shipping oranges from Southern California to the East by way of the northern roads has proven successful, and will be repeated on a larger scale. The benefit lies in avoiding the long delays and damaging heat of the southern routes. Fourteen carloads of Los Angeles oranges were shipped to Seattle by steamer, and thence, in 68 hours, to St. Paul, arriving in better condition than those shipped by the all-rail routes. The Pacific Coast Steamship Company, in connection with the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads, is preparing to handle from 300 to 500 carloads a week in this way.
