CARRIE NATION AND KANSAS.

Under the above title, William Allen White, author of "What's the Matter With Kansas?" contributes an interesting article to the current number of the Saturday Evening Post. He portrays in graphic style some of Mrs. Nation's picturesque exploits, commencing with the period when the death of her first husband through the influence of strong drink first filled her mind with hatred for the liquor traffic. The article is an excellent survey of the whole situation involved in the title and, while designed primarily to interest and amuse, is none the less thoughtful and though temperate is not devoid of expressions indicative of the writer's estimate of the woman and her work. That these opinions are in the main well founded most readers of the article will be ready to admit.

In tracing her earlier labors in the cause of temperance, Mr. White writes: "She has but one mental output. For years she has been considering the evils of the liquor traffic. She has acted, when nature would stand the strain no longer, in a primitive way—with savage music! In Medicine Lodge she used to get out a hand-organ through which perforated paper sheets are passed, and sitting on a prominent corner of the town, she would grind out dolorous temperance songs to the citizens. In time they came to give her as much notice as one gives to the waterplug on a corner. Another form of self-relief was to haunt the local jail and constabulary and pray with the prisoners, who usually voted her a nuisance.

"These two vents became monotonous. So she hiked out in Barber county in a buggy on a temperance mission. Nearly a year ago she struck the village of Kiowa. She stoned two joints. It was her first smashing. The world never heard of it. The local papers contained only humorous references to it. Everybody knew Mrs. Nation down there. But she was imbued through and through with a hatred for the saloon. Then came an awful pressure of conviction as to the futility of her life, the maddening conclusion that she had made no impress, that her song and jail prayer methods were methods of guilty puerility. She probably accused herself of rank cowardice. She finally laid hold of the territory, which is just across the line from all of us, where irresponsibility reigns. Mrs. Nation carried into that land hatred and a determination to destroy. Then she set out for Wichita from Barber county, literally with an apron full of rocks, but when she got to Wichita her courage failed. She prayed one night in the saloons instead of smashing. But courage came to her again, and the next morning she sallied out, keyed up hilariously, irresponsible, anarchistic. She smashed the finest bar in the town; she was taken to the police station, fat, double-chinned, and laughing outlandishly.

"In that trip to the police station she got over into the land of responsibility again. In palliation of her offense she quoted the law at the officer who arrested her. Then the W. C. T. U. women heard of it and rushed down to see her. They congratulated her. Then she began to see that her best defense was to claim that she had started a war."

Occasionally Mr. White gets philosophical, as in the following: "Like many persons of limited mental capacity she is sure of her distinctions between right and wrong. Therefore she has been free to act without restraint. The person who spends valuable time toying with the equities of a circumstance, trying to locate and make out the boundaries of exact justice before proceeding, is unlikely to follow the strenuous life."

As to the moral aspect of Mrs. Nation's course, the conclusions of Mr. White are eminently sound. He says: "The lawlessness of the Kansas joint bred Mrs. Nation's mob. Kansas planted the joint and reaped the hatchet. When the glass-breaking, liquor-spilling frantic mob laughed at law, the laughter was only an echo. The brewers who started the lawless Kansas saloons laughed first at law—always a dangerous and generally an expensive experiment. Between the two outlaws there is little choice. As they say at the vaudeville, 'both are equally as worse as each.' When the two negatives met they formed a positive—an object lesson. It was respect for law, taught probably by some sort of an unconscious reductio ad absurdum."

In conclusion Mr. White states that Mrs. Nation's course has crystallized public sentiment and stimulated legislators and officers of the law. Though in this he sees real benefit to the cause of temperance, the Kansas municipal elections which have taken place since his article was written have proven the contrary to be true.

FATE OF AGUINALDO.

Troublesome as he has been we cannot account it a great crime that he did not know his people were unfit for independence.—Buffalo Express.

We will hardly do more than hold the Filipino as a prisoner of war until it suits our interests to release him or make him governor-general of the Philippines.—Pittsburg Post.

Aguinaldo is destined to prove a troublesome problem for Uncle Sam. His death in battle would probably have been the simplest solution of the unique difficulty.—Los Angeles Times.

Public sentiment in this country is inclined to favor leniency and charity, and especially to vanquished foes. Americans are brave fighters and are generous forgivers.—Daily Nonpareil.

A government that extended mercy to Jefferson Davis at the close of the civil war will have to do violence to no precedent should it save the neck of Aguinaldo.—Helena Evening Herald.

Our government can now, assuming that it really desires peace in the Philippines, make great use of Aguinaldo, and may find him very helpful in coming to an understanding with the Filipinos.—Hartford Times.

He has cost us dear in life and treasure, but in dealing with him the gallant men who are following the flag must not sully it by any failure of magnanimity toward the captured foe who has defied it.—Philadelphia Record.

The capture of Aguinaldo is not so important in a military sense as it would have been a year ago. He had ceased to be an important factor in campaigns against the Americans and in arranging the conditions of peace.—Inter-Ocean.

The Filipinos have a right to expect and demand, and there is no reason at all why Aguinaldo's knowledge of his country should not be utilized in the establishment of a government and the pacification of the islands.—Philadelphia Times.

Should this government follow the procedure usual in such cases and treat Aguinaldo to a sample of military justice, he would doubtless be tried and either shot or hanged. But there is small chance that this course will be pursued.— Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

No sane person who is not a public enemy would venture to suggest that we should make any disposition of his person which would now or ever leave him free to seize opportunities to do further mischief. We know him to be perfectly faithless and treacherous.—New York Times.

Perhaps if the stern justice which knows no mercy or sentiment were done he would go to the gallows or become the target of a firing squad. But he will not be executed. Secretary Long thinks he ought to be spanked with a shingle, but suggests no severer treatment.—Nashville American.

Aguinaldo should be kept in durance, in Guam or elsewhere, until the archipelago is at peace, and he should be set at liberty at a time and under circumstances that will assure us from further trouble from him. His release should be made to depend on himself and on his countrymen.—Mail and Express.

From present appearances the country will save many lives and millions of money by the capture of the leader of the insurrection. While Aguinaldo has in captivity no authority over the insurgent chiefs, he is now in a position to estimate more correctly than before the chance of success.—San Francisco Bulletin.

The capture of Aguinaldo comes at the right time. A year ago the capture of Aguinaldo might have been followed by the rise of another leader, but today there is scarcely vigor enough left in the cause to bring forth another Aguinaldo. Aguinaldo will simply be sent to Guam, where he will be incapable of doing harm and where he will be kindly treated.—Oakland Enquirer.

The result will be the same for Aguinaldo whether he be tried by a military commission or by the courts. The power of commutation of sentence rests in the executive, so that Aguinaldo's destiny will be finally in the hands of the president, who will probably not forget that however wrong he may be thought to have been, he was fighting for the liberty of his country.—Public Ledger.

The two pleasantest days of a woman are her marriage and the day of her funeral.—Hipponax.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.

Take Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets, 25c.

Love decreases when it ceases to increase.—Chateaubriand.

GIVEN UP TO DIE WITH CROUP.

Mrs. P. L. Cordier, of Mannington, Ky., writes: "My three-year-old girl had a severe case of croup, the doctor said she could not live and I gave her up to die. I went to the store and got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar, the first dose gave quick relief and saved her life." CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

If women were humbler, men would be honester.—Vanbrugh.

THE MOST STUBBORN COUGHS

resulting from an attack of la grippe or heavy cold, must yield to the wonderful healing properties of Foley's Honey and Tar, which strengthens the lungs and makes them sound. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

A woman's hopes are woven as sunbeams; a shadow annihilates them.—George Eliot.

B. Presson, Pressonville, Kan., writes: "Nothing like Foley's Honey and Tar" is the universal verdict of all who have used it. Especially has this been true of coughs accompanying la grippe. Not a single bottle failed to give relief. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

Love is a bird that sings in the heart of a woman.—Karr.

V. B. Conklin, Bowersville, O., says: "I received more benefit from Foley's Kidney Cure than from months of treatment by physicians." CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

A woman's lot is made for her by the love she accepts.—George Eliot.

The editor of the Fordville, Ky., Miscellaneous, writes as a postscript to a business letter: "I was cured of kidney trouble by taking Foley's Kidney Cure." Take nothing else. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

A short absence quickens love, a long absence kills it.—Mirabeau.

BEST WAY TO CURE BACKACHE.

Backaches are caused by disorders in the kidneys. Foley's Kidney Cure will make the kidneys right. Take no substitute. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

Coquetry is the desire to please, without the want of love.—Rochpedre.

Running sores, ulcers, boils, pimples, etc., quickly cured by Banner Salve, the most healing salve in the world. A sure cure for piles. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

Men never are consoled for their first love, nor women for their last.—Weiss.

"STICK TO IT."

Geo. L. Heard, of High Tower, Georgia, writes: "Eczema broke out on my baby, covering his entire body. Under treatment of our family physician he got worse as he could not sleep for the burning and itching. We used a box of "Banner Salve" on him and by the time it was gone he was well. The doctor seeing it was curing him said, "Stick to it for it is doing him more good than anything I have done for him."

More trees are upright than men.

NIGHT WAS HER TERROR.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but, when all other medicines failed, three $1.00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Hart's drug store.

When we speed to the devil's house, woman takes the lead by a thousand steps.—Goethe.

A FIREMAN'S CLOSE CALL.

"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellamy, a locomotive fireman, of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters and, after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Weak, sickly, run-down people always gain new life, strength and vigor from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by Hart's drug store. Price 50 cents.

It is born in maidens that they should wish to please everything that has eyes.—Gleim.

SAYS HE WAS TORTURED.

"I suffered such pain from corns I could hardly walk," writes H. Robinson, Hillsborough, Ills., "but Bucklen's Arnica Salve completely cured them." Acts like magic on sprains, bruises, cuts, sores, scalds, burns, boils, ulcers. Perfect healer of skin diseases and piles. Cure guaranteed by Hart's drug store. 25c.

There are people who are almost in love, almost famous and almost happy.—De Krudener.

WORKING 24 HOURS A DAY.

There's no rest for those tireless little workers—Dr. King's New Life Pills. Millions are always busy, curing Torpid Liver, Jaundice, Biliousness, Fever and Ague. They banish Sick Headache, drive out Malaria. Never gripe or weaken. Small, taste nice, work wonders. Try them. 25c at Hart's drug store.

B. Baumgartner, plaintiff, and against C. E. Linton and Maude E. Linton, defendants, for the sum of $700, with interest thereon at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, from the 13th day of November, 1899, to the 27th day of February, 1901, for the further sum of $40 attorney's fees, the costs and disbursements of this suit taxed at $21.65 and interest on said judgment at the legal rate until paid and the costs of and upon this writ commanding and requiring me to make sale of the following described real property, to-wit:

Lots ten (10) and eleven (11), in block two (2), in East Warrenton, as laid out and recorded by P. C. Warren, same being now a part of the incorporated City of Warrenton, together with the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging or in any wise appertaining in the County of Clatsop, Oregon.

Notice is hereby given that I will on Monday, the 8th day of April, 1901, at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, in front of and at the court house door, in the City of Astoria, Clatsop County, Oregon, sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, the above-described real property to satisfy the judgment, interest, costs and all accruing costs.

THOS. LINVILLE, Sheriff, Clatsop County, Oregon.

Astoria, Oregon, March 5th, 1901.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

Notable among the pleasures afforded by the Shasta Route is the winter trip to Southern California and Arizona. Renewed acquaintance with this section will ever develop fresh points of interest and added industries, in its prolific vegetation and among its numberless resorts of mountain, shore, valley and plain.

The two daily Shasta trains from Portland to California have been recently equipped with the most approved pattern of standard and tourist sleeping cars, but the low rates of fare will still continue in effect.

Illustrated guides to the winter resorts of California and Arizona may be had on application.
