In the death of the Hon. J. C. Trullinger Astoria loses a public-spirited citizen who has been responsible for much of the city's development.

Now that the nickel-in-the-slot machine operators have mutually agreed not to contribute in any way to any of the churches whose ministers are engaged in the fight against the machines it is in order for the ministers to confess how much revenue they have received in the past from those whom they now denounce as lawbreakers.

Portland has made a grand spectacular show in securing two great freighters for her Oriental line. The steamer is amusing to say the least. The benefit in carrying a 7000-ton ship for a 3000-ton cargo is perhaps something to the alleged seaport till the facts are disclosed, but it can hardly be profitable to the charterers of the vessel.

It is a disgrace to our city that its public library is burdened with a regular monthly deficit. There ought to be enough subscribers to provide for its support. Lacking that, it should be provided with the needed funds by the moated interests of the city.
