Two performances will be given today at the tent, corner of Bond and Ninth streets, by Russell's Vaudeville Circus Company. The admission price is 50 and 25 cents.

The Ladies' Aid and Pastors' Union of the M. E. church will meet at the home of Mrs. A. V. Pendleton, Duane street, on Wednesday at 2 p. m. instead of today as previously announced.

A bill of sale was filed in the custom house yesterday transferring the 117-ton schooner Antelope from G. W. Hume to the Columbia River Packers Association for a consideration of $10.

The crowds that attended the vaudeville circus yesterday were particularly well pleased. The management has cancelled a date at Hammond and two performances will be given today, at 3 and 8 p. m.

The two cases against Will Madison for operating slot machines, set for trial today, will be continued to a later date owing to the absence of District Attorney Harlan, who is in Oregon City on legal business.

The Astoria correspondent of the Telegram states that Mrs. Gregory, nee Ruby Leater, formerly of Astoria, is now singing in a concert hall in Dawson, Minn. Mrs. Gregory separated from her husband in Seattle some time ago.

Manager Russell, of the Vaudeville circus, has gathered together a galaxy of clever specialty people and the show is deservedly popular. Two performances will be given today, at 3 and 8 p. m. and admission will be 50 and 25 cents for adults and children.

"There is one place in the city that gives satisfaction to all," remarked a returned Astorian to a friend yesterday, "and that please the most fastidious." On being asked what place this could be he was surprised at the question and answered "The Boston Restaurant."

Ferguson & Houston will commence work today on the Wallis bridge, and for three weeks or a month travel to Olney will be by the way of the old mill race, which is now being repaired by Roadmaster Frye. The bridge will be closed to travel Thursday.

Mattson and Heglund, the contractors, who have just finished driving piles for the old factory at Tongue Point, have taken their driver to Wallis bridge to make repairs. When that contract is completed the piles will go to George Kaboth's seining grounds to drive piles.

The federal building here is to be improved by the new fire plan, the work having been recently completed by Major C. E. Cromer, supervising architect for the treasury department. New walks, curbs and gutters of cement and a quick driveway will be constructed.

The Salvation Army hall was well filled last night at the illustrated lecture on the Galveston disaster, by Major Cousins and Adjutant Smith. In addition to the views taken by the army officers at Galveston a well-assorted series of colored pictures of general interest was also shown.

The Telegram is authorized for the statement that the Northern Pacific is anxious to absorb the Portland-Noblen & Tillamook Railway Company, organized in Portland last February. An official of the latter company is said to have been in conference with the Northern Pacific magnates and an authoritative announcement is expected at an early date.

The officials of the Clatsop Mill Company are making every effort to discover the identity of the men who have been tampering with the log boom at Smith's Point, owned by the company. It was cut again yesterday morning and a lot of valuable timber let loose. The boom was intact at 4 a. m. and the miscreants must have committed the deed after that hour.

George O'Connell, an employee of the Clatsop mill box factory, was arrested Sunday night and charged with drunkenness. He flourished a knife and revolver in several resorts and was only prevented from stabbing Manager Nels Hursey of the La Tosca saloon by the prompt action of a bystander who seized and held O'Connell's arm. He was fined the usual amount yesterday by Police Judge Nelson.

The British steamship Indravelli, under charter to the Portland-Asiatic steamship company cleared at the custom house yesterday. The ship had less than half a cargo and shipping men are wondering where the immense quantities of freight for the Orient, supposed to have been waiting for the Indravelli, could have disappeared to. The capacity of the craft is 7000 tons, and the cargo amounted to about 3000 tons. The Indravelli draws, with full cargo, 25 feet but came down drawing 18 1/2 feet. The cargo was made up of flour, lumber and miscellaneous freight, valued at $56,580.38.

J. M. Center, an elderly man apparently about 60 years of age, a resident of Stevenson, Skamania county, Wash., committed suicide Sunday night by shooting himself through the head at the Ninth street wharf. Center came from Tillamook Sunday on the Elmore and was so ill there that he had to be assisted on the boat. He had been in and out of Astoria frequently within the past month and was formerly accompanied by a young son, who has been committed to the care of the Boys and Girls Aid Society of Portland. There is every reason to believe that he had meditated suicide for some time. When in Portland he suggested that Superintendent Gardner of the aid society, take charge of $500, which he had, saying that he would have no more use for it. He evidently became despondent because of continued illness and went to the pier to kill himself, intending that his body should fall into the river, but instead it fell back against the dock. The body is at Pohl's undertaking parlors and definite arrangements for the funeral will probably be made today. Center is said to have owned some property on Wind creek.

Russell's Vaudeville Circus has cancelled its date for tonight at Hammond and will give two performances today, at 3 p. m. and 8 p. m. The attraction drew large crowds yesterday and the show gave satisfaction. The prices of admission for today's performance will be 50 and 25 cents, for children and adults.

A dispatch to the Astorian from San Francisco, received last night, states that the German ship Otto Gildemeister, recently condemned as a total loss, after a stormy passage from Yokohama, bound for the Columbia river, was sold yesterday at public auction. The purchaser was Captain Ellis, of Portland, and the price paid was $26,100. Kerr, Gifford & Co., of Portland, the charterers of the vessel sent experts to San Francisco who reported back that the ship could be repaired at less than the insurance experts estimate of the damage, which was $51,500, and it is probable that the charterers are the purchasers.

At a special meeting of the Astoria Tobacco and Liquor Dealers Association held at the city hall Sunday night the following resolutions were adopted: Whereas, The ministerial alliance of Astoria, Oregon, consisting of the ministers of the Congregational, Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian churches, none of whom pay a dollar in taxes to the support of the city or county government, have begun a crusade against certain interests of the liquor and cigar dealers of Astoria, and

Whereas, The liquor and cigar dealers contribute over $10,000 a year in licenses alone to the city government and over $3000 in annually received from fines and forfeitures; and

Whereas, The city of Astoria has reached its limit of indebtedness and the amounts so received are necessary for the running expenses of the city, be it therefore

Resolved, That we hereby mutually agree not to contribute in any way to any of the churches above named, and withdraw our patronage from all persons interested in the crusade.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, C. C. U. zinger, vice-president, Will Madison; Secretary, August Dunlop; treasurer, Otto Carlson; executive committee, N. Simonson, Albert Seafeldt and Charles Campbell.

PUBLICITY NOT DESIRABLE. Correspondent Thinks Charitably-Disposed People Should Not Advertise Their Good Deeds.

ASTORIA, April 29.—Editor Astorian: There has been so much controversy as to who is responsible for the relief of the family of W. J. Hines that I have not been able to get a satisfactory answer. I am interested, however, may not prove amiss. Investigation shows that the unfortunate family has been the recipient of assistance from the W. C. T. U., the Women's Relief Corps, the Salvation Army and from charitable inclined ladies not connected with either of these organizations, but as is customary, this work was done in an unostentatious manner, and it was not considered necessary to make a parade of the charitable work in the newspapers. It remained for the editor of the Evening News to discover that relief was brought to the family by the saloon-keepers of this city. The editor of that nasty little sheet is no doubt in a position to know, as from the appearance of his paper he is evidently much at home with and makes his living out of the saloon class. It seems too bad that matters of this kind should be given so much publicity. Charity rightly bestowed usually brings its own reward without the aid of a newspaper of the mouthpiece of any particular class.

ABRAM ANDERSON. DEATH OF MRS. J. W. CONN. Suddenly Stricken While Chatting With Friends.

Mrs. Valinda Conn, wife of J. W. Conn, the druggist, died suddenly Sunday evening, while in the apartments of friends in the Paine building. Death was due to apoplexy, and though she had been ill for several days, her sudden demise was totally unexpected.

Drs. A. C. Kinney, Fulton and Henderson were immediately summoned and medical aid was unavailing. Mrs. Conn was a native of Ohio and was sixty years of age. Besides the husband there survives a daughter, Mrs. V. Harris, of Oregon City, who arrived in the city last night. The funeral will be held from the Episcopal church at 10:30 this morning and services at the grave will be private. The members of Beaver Lodge, No. 35, I. O. F., assembled at their hall and attend the funeral in a body.

SERVICES OVER REMAINS OF HON. J. C. TRULLINGER.

Funeral from Family Residence at 1 p. m. and Interment Will Be in Oceanview.

The funeral of the Hon. John Carne Trullinger, who died Sunday morning, will be held today from the family residence, at 1 p. m. At 1:35 a special train will leave the West Shore Mills Company dock for Oceanview cemetery, where the interment will be. The public is invited to attend the funeral, and Mayor Bergman and the city council will be present in a body.

The Hon. C. W. Fulton will deliver the funeral address at the house, and prayer will be said at the grave by the Rev. Henry Marcotte, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

The active pall bearers will be F. J. Taylor, Benjamin Young, E. C. Hughes, W. E. Demest, F. L. Parker and Grandville Reed. The honorary pall bearers will be Mayor Isaac Bergman, A. Montgomery, D. K. Warren, J. Q. A. Bowlby, E. W. Tallant, R. S. Carruthers, William Chance, F. Sherman, Judge J. H. D. Gray, C. S. Wright, J. H. Smith, S. R. Gordon, George Noland, S. E. Harris, W. L. Robb, H. B. Parker, George Davidson and John Hahn.

In the passing of Mr. Trullinger Astoria has lost a citizen who did much in its development and always stood ready to do whatever was in his power for the good of the city. He was born in Fountain County, Indiana, July 29, 1828, and came to Oregon in the fall of 1848. The gold excitement in California drew him to that state in the early '50s, but after a year spent in mining he returned to Oregon and had since made his home here. He operated flouring mills at Oswego and Forest Grove and for a time was interested in a mercantile venture at Milwaukee, where he conducted the largest warehouse on the lake.

Mr. Trullinger came to Astoria in 1875 and engaged in the lumber mill business creating the plant since acquired by the West Shore Mills Co., in which Mr. Trullinger and members of his family were largely interested. He also engaged in logging on a large scale on the Wallis river and owned a large farm on Young's river. From 1886 to 1888 Mr. Trullinger was mayor of Astoria, defeating the Hon. C. W. Fulton. Previously he had been a member of the city council. In December, 1891, he was elected a member of the board of police commissioners, and the following year was elected to the state legislature, serving at the January session, 1893, his colleague during the session being Captain J. C. Campbell.

During the boom days when enthusiasm ran high Mr. Trullinger was foremost among the aggressive and progressive citizens who were always ready to do whatever was possible for the benefit of the city. At a meeting held in the old opera house Mr. Trullinger coined an expression which was current for several years after. At that time Minnesota was attracting the attention of the country by the marvellous rapid strides that the Minnesota city was making. In the course of his speech Mr. Trullinger said that the people of Astoria needed to get a "Minnesota move" on them and the expression thereafter stood for enterprising and push. Mr. Trullinger was married in 1853 to Miss Hannah Boyles in Washington county and the widow and eight children survive.

BALLOON ASCENSIONIST KILLED. News comes to us of a balloon ascensionist who was killed while making one of his daring trips. His hands slipped from the trapeze and the horror-stricken crowd saw a sight they will not soon forget. Life is too valuable to trifle with in fool-hardy adventures. It is best to employ ourselves in peaceful pursuits, where we may be secure. Then if we take care of our health we can live to a good old age. The best means of promoting health is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This medicine aids digestion, regulates the bowels and cures dyspepsia, indigestion, flatulency and insomnia. It will also prevent malaria, fever and ague, which is prevalent at this time of the year. Be sure to try it.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS. Bids for the construction of a system of sewers in the town of Hermosa Park will be received by the undersigned, at the office of Fulton Bros., up to 10 o'clock a. m. Monday, May 6, 1901. Profile maps, plans and specifications on application. HERMOSA PARK INVESTMENT CO., G. C. Fulton, President.

CANNOT GET THE FEE. Exemption of Boatpullers in Oregon Affects Washington.

The Washington fish commission is in a peculiar quandary, according to the following, which is reprinted from the Tacoma Ledger: "A conflict in the fishing laws of Oregon and Washington has placed the state fish commissioner in a peculiar position with regard to the Columbia river fish licenses and any decision he makes there will have an effect on Willapa harbor, Grays harbor and Puget sound.

The Oregon license law allows boat pullers to escape from the individual license fee of $1. The fisheries law does not specify that they shall be subject to the license and the attorney-general of Oregon has construed the silence to mean exemption. The Washington law, however, explicitly includes boat pullers. The fish commissioner is facing the certainty that it would be almost impossible to collect the boat pullers' licenses, as they are exempted in Oregon. If they were forced to pay Oregon officials might cause trouble for the men on the Washington side. They have the Sunday law to use as a lever, for Oregon has prohibited Sunday fishing, while Washington permits it. At the same time the fish commissioner recognizes the fact that if Columbia river fishermen are exempted it would be impossible to collect licenses from boat pullers elsewhere in the state. The attorney-general has construed the law to demand that the license be collected, but no policy has been outlined by the fisheries department."

AS TO CLOTHING.

HERE is an epitaph in a Vermont churchyard: "I expected this but not so soon." Such is the epitaph on clothing worn out in the wash-tub. Underclothing may be fragile, yet it ought not to wear out in ten weeks. But this isn't wear; it is decay. You buy 5 cents worth of cheap soap and you lose the equivalent of 50 cents in the wash-tub. Ivory Soap will not harm the most delicate fabric. Is it wise not to use it? IVORY SOAP IS 99 3/4 PER CENT PURE.

HISTORIC SITE MARKED.

Monument at Champoo to Be Unveiled May 2nd.

The monument erected at Champoo on the spot where the famous meeting was held that resulted in Oregon affiliating with the United States government, will be unveiled May 2nd. Addresses will be made by the Rev. H. K. Hines, Gov. T. T. Geer, Hon. Harvey W. Scott and others and elaborate preparations are being made for entertaining a large crowd.

The Oregon Historical Society has been active in securing adequate commemoration of the important meeting held on the site where the monument now stands. The list of the 52 who voted for the establishment of the provisional state government contains the names of well-known and prominent pioneers, and the list is herewith reprinted:
