

LADIES' KNIT SUMMER UNDERWEAR

Last week brought us Ladies' Vests, low neck, sleeveless, white cotton, at 15c each. Same in list at 25c each, Ladies' Vests, high neck and long sleeves, white cotton at 25c each. Same in list at 50c each. Dainty Sleeveless Vests, white, pink or blue, 50c ea.

OUR STORE CLOSES AT 7 P. M. EXCEPT SATURDAYS.

All contracts for advertising in the Astorian are made on a guarantee of circulation four times larger than that of any paper published or circulated in Clatsop county.

TODAY'S WEATHER.

PORTLAND, April 30.—Oregon and Washington, partly cloudy with occasional showers; Idaho, probably showers; cooler in the southeast portion.

AROUND TOWN.

See Gaston about harness. Best 15-cent meal—Hising Sun Restaurant, 612 Commercial St. A choice lot of fine strawberry rhubarb at Johnson Bros. today. Three first-class barbers at the Occident barber shop. Best of service. Japanese goods of all kinds, cheap at Yokohama Bazaar; 625 Commercial St. The steamer George W. Elder arrived in Astoria with 30 tons of freight for local merchants. Mrs. Raasmussen is prepared to do up lace curtains in good order. Leave orders at Oregon bakery. Nice pleasant rooms, newly furnished, corner Bond and Tenth street. Apply to Mrs. G. Hansen. Wanted—Girl for general housework in small family. Apply at No. 372 Franklin Ave. near Eighth. A very fine lot of large, fresh and milky coconuts direct from the Sandwich Islands, at Johnson Bros. The directors of the Commercial Club will meet tonight, when reports of various committees will be received. Master Fish Warden Van Dusen has returned from a visit to the state hatchery on the Salmon river, in Clackamas county. "There is one place in the city that gives satisfaction to all," remarked a returned Astorian to a friend yesterday, "and they please the most fastidious." On being asked what place this could be he seemed surprised at the question and answered "The Boston Restaurant."

Ride the Wheel? Play Golf?

Our splendid assortment of Bike and Golf Suits ought to receive your early attention. There are changes in the styles for this season. Prices are lower than ever. We have Suits and Bike Pants Coats and Sweaters Shirts and Stockings Belts, Caps, etc., etc.

Suits at $5, $6, $7.50, $8, $9 S. DANZIGER

Mrs. J. J. Reed, Mrs. J. H. Imhoff and Miss Imhoff, of Portland, are in the city, having come to Astoria to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. J. W. Conn, which was held yesterday.

George Kalothe has received permission from the government to erect a fish house on his mooring grounds, it being the first instance of a permit being issued for the erection of a building on any of the sands in the Columbia.

If you are having trouble with your eyes, or your glasses are not satisfactory, call on Dr. Elliott, at Conna's drug store. Examination and eyes tested free. A large stock of lenses and spectacles on hand. Will call at residence when desired.

The British steamship Adato evidently failed to get a cargo at Portland, as reports from the Sound state that she is to be cleaned on the drydock at Quartermaster's Harbor, and will afterwards take on a cargo of lumber for the West coast.

County Judge J. H. D. Gray will leave today to attend the celebration at Champoux attendant upon the unrolling of the monument marking the historic site of the meeting of pioneers, who declared for and established the provisional government.

The funeral of the late Mrs. J. W. Conn was held yesterday, from Grace church, the Rev. William Seymour Short officiating. In addition to a large number of friends, the members of the local Odd Fellows lodge attended in a body. Late Oeving "View" and services at the grave were private.

County Clerk Whately issued a marriage license yesterday to Robert Krebs of Columbia county and Cora Wilkes of Clatsop county.

Cream pure eye, America's finest whiskey. The only pure goods; guaranteed rich and mellow. JOHN L. CARLSON, Sole Agent.

John A. Montgomery has opened a shop at 421 Bond street and is prepared to do all classes of plumbing and tinning at the lowest possible rates.

Beginning May 5th, the evening train of the Astoria and Columbia River railroad will leave Union depot, Portland, at 6:55 p. m. instead of 7 p. m.

Roslyn coal lasts longer, is cleaner and makes less trouble with stoves and chimney flues than any other. George W. Sanborn, agent; telephone 1311.

The four-masted schooner Bartlett will leave today for the Alaska coast, to do all classes of plumbing and tinning at the lowest possible rates.

The two cases against Will Madison for operating nickel-in-the-slot machines, set for trial yesterday in the justice court, were postponed because of the absence from the city of District Attorney Harrison Allen.

The bid of John H. Urie of $273.50 for the construction of a stable for the engineers' department at Fort Stevens was the lowest of four submitted and Captain Downs has recommended that the contract be awarded to Mr. Urie.

U. S. Engineer Office, Portland, Oregon, May 1, 1901.—Sealed proposals for dredging 56,000 cu. yds. material, more or less for improvement of Clatskanie river, Oregon, will be received here until 12 m., May 30, 1901, and then publicly opened. Information furnished on application. W. C. LANGFITT, Capt. Engrs.

Articles of incorporation were filed in the county clerk's office yesterday for the Umpqua Packing Company. The capital stock was named at $24,000 and the incorporators are Edward B. Partridge, Warren P. Reed and Samuel Elmore. The concern will engage in canning salmon and other fish, and the principal office will be in Astoria.

Articles of incorporation were filed in the county clerk's office yesterday for the Umpqua Packing Company. The capital stock was named at $24,000 and the incorporators are Edward B. Partridge, Warren P. Reed and Samuel Elmore. The concern will engage in canning salmon and other fish, and the principal office will be in Astoria.

MRS. ESTHER BROWN DEAD. Widow of Clatsop County Pioneer Dies After Long Illness.

Mrs. Esther Brown, widow of the late Captain Hiram Brown, died last night shortly after 8 o'clock at the family residence on Franklin avenue. Mrs. Brown had been ill for some time and her death was not entirely unexpected. The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made but it will be held Thursday and the details will be announced later.

Mrs. Brown was a pioneer of Clatsop county, having lived here for upward of half a century. Four children survive, C. S. Brown, Hiram Brown, Mrs. Annie Wilkinson and Mrs. Ida Mitchell of San Francisco. All of the children except Mrs. Wilkinson, who is now in Europe, were present at the bedside when death intervened.

A COMMUNICATION. Editor Astorian: It would seem that notoriety enough has been given to the relief afforded the family living on Eighteenth street. But the ladies of the W. C. T. U. would like, in this public way to have due credit given to the Woman's Relief Corps who paid half the wages for the first nurse; also one of these ladies furnished soup and another prepared food daily during their worst illness. Another of these ladies furnished abundant bread daily for about a week.

By the way, this case in question is an apt illustration of the need of organized charity effort. While all charity work is dependent upon the individual, if such effort was organized much of overlapping and overgiving might be avoided, such as reported in this case of forty-four loaves of bread being furnished to the same clerk. I say it no attention. I am only human and did just what others would have done had they been in my position. I did not want my name included in the resolution of the clerk, as it insisted on it. There is no use now for anyone to make a howl about it. I drew the money and have spent it.

REEDER'S INGENUOUS EXPLANATION. L. B. Reeder, late speaker of the lower house of the state legislature, who was charged with having drawn $100 for revising the house calendar and having enjoyed a vacation in California while the work was in progress, has returned to his home in Pendleton. When taxed with having drawn money for services not rendered the ex-speaker is said to have replied as follows: "I pay it no attention. I am only human and did just what others would have done had they been in my position. I did not want my name included in the resolution of the clerk, as it insisted on it. There is no use now for anyone to make a howl about it. I drew the money and have spent it."

EULOGY BY C. W. FULTON

LAST HONORS TO LATE J. C. TRULLINGER.

Funeral Attended by Large Concourse of Friends—Text of Funeral Oration.

The funeral of the late Hon. J. C. Trullinger was held yesterday from the family residence, and was attended by a large number of people who knew the deceased during life. A special train conveyed the remains to Ocean View and at the grave a prayer was offered by the Rev. Henry Marcotte, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The funeral oration by the Hon. C. W. Fulton was a deserved tribute to the sterling worth of the deceased. Mr. Fulton said: "I have been requested to say a few words at this time. I hesitated undertaking to do so, knowing how impossible it would be for me to say what I felt—that is so widely felt throughout this community this day, how impossible it would be for me to express in fitting language, or, indeed, at all, the high esteem in which all who knew him held the life and character of John C. Trullinger. "There are sentiments, feelings, which no words can picture, no pencil can paint. The great heart of every community knows what worth, to that community, has been the life and daily example of a wise, true and faithful citizen—how irreplaceable the benefits conferred, how irreplaceable the loss sustained in his death. Yet, what language can describe these? As well might the artist, standing at the base of Hood or Shasta, viewing its lofty crags and towering summits hope to transfer to cold, unresponsive canvas all the grandeur of the scene, all the majesty of the side of one in death, who, in life, ever stood firmly for that which he believed to be right. His distinguished characteristics were his love of truth and his integrity, his high sense of duty, his honesty and his full of human sympathy, as a gentle, loving woman. His intellectuality, energy and industry; his generosity and his unflinching courage; his never practiced diplomacy. Hypocrisy he scorned as the cleanly ally of filth. "To his friends he was as true and faithful as the north star to the pole. To his enemies he was ever just. Firm in his convictions of the right as God gave him to see and know the right, and stern, even unrelenting in combating injustice and wrong to himself or another, he was, nevertheless, as tenderly sympathetic, as a gentle, loving woman. "The distress and misfortunes of others touched him instantly and never appealed to him in vain. In his private life he was pure, faithful and true. To his family and his friends he was ever loving, affectionate and kind. In all matters of public concern he took an active and intelligent interest—he was broad minded and liberal. He was a true friend of the school, and actively supported and liberally aided all public enterprises and improvements. "He was a prominent member of that little army of pioneers, few in number but great and strong in the character and strength of its individual members, which reclaimed the great Northwest from savagery and the wilderness, and devoted it to the industries of civilization. He professed adherence to no religious creed, yet in the purity of his heart, his devotion to truth and honor and in his faithful and conscientious discharge of every duty and every obligation public and private, his life was one of which his family, his friends and his fellow citizens may justly be proud and profitably may emulate. "His life was a distinct and valuable contribution to the upbuilding of society, to the advancement and progress of civilization, as every good life is. Being true to himself, he was false to no man. He fully and completely discharged that obligation which every man and every woman owe to himself and to himself, to lead an honorable, pure, industrious life. Nor is the obligation to himself or herself alone, it is to society and humanity as well. The progress of the world, of civilization itself, depends upon the effort of the individual. Races and communities alike, can move forward on the great highways of progress as a body as a unit only, and, as the supreme effort of one advances all, so the retrogression or selfishness of another retards all. Hence it is that the individual owes a duty to society no less profound than that which sodiety owes to the individual. That duty, our departed friend fully and completely discharged. His work was completed. He survived the allotted three score years and ten. He lived to see his children grow up to manhood and womanhood, each and every one of them a respected and honored citizen. "In the fullness of time the summons came to join that innumerable company which moves to that mysterious realm, where each must take his chamber in the silent halls of death. And so, as we may believe, that in the circumstances, justly he might and did approach the grave like one who wraps the draperies of his course about him, and lies down to pleasant dreams. "We know not what awaits us on the other shore. Whether beyond the lowering mists and the darkening shadows of the unknown, he is gathering down of a grander morning, heralding the enduring day of joy unmixt with sorrow, we know not. But this we feel and know, that beyond and above the mists and the darkness, shines the eternal star of hope, and whatever of reward for a faithful, true and upright life is given, has been earned in full and rounded measure by him whom we mourn this day."

WAS ILL AT TILLAMOOK. J. C. Center Had Daughter at Grant Mills, Whom He Visited.

Corner Pohl held an inquest yesterday over the remains of J. C. Center, who committed suicide Sunday night by shooting himself in the head. From the evidence Center was evidently despondent because of continued illness and the verdict of the jury was that death was self-inflicted. No arrangements for the funeral have yet been made, the coroner not having heard from relatives of the deceased. From the Tillamook Herald it is learned that Center was seriously ill at Astoria, and was thought to be in a dying condition. He had a daughter near Grant Mills, who was adopted by her parents living there when she was several years old. Center visited her and afterward put up at the Palace Hotel. He registered from Carson, Wash., and told the clerk that he intended leaving early the following morning. When noon came and the man had not appeared the proprietor went to his room and found Center in a dying condition, from all appearances. A physician was called who said that the man was suffering from blood poisoning and could not survive. He recovered, however, and was maintained at the expense of the county until coming to Astoria. At the time he was stricken Center had $425 in cash, a bull-dog revolver and a few other possessions of small value.

BALLOON ASCENSIONIST KILLED. News comes to us of a balloon ascensionist who was killed while making one of his daring trips. His hands slipped from the trapeze and the horror-stricken crowd saw a slight thing will not soon forget. Life is too valuable to trifle with in fool-hardy adventures. It is best to employ ourselves in peaceful pursuits, where we may be secure. Then if we take care of our health we can live to a good old age. The best means of promoting health is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This medicine aids digestion, regulates the bowels and cures dyspepsia, indigestion, flatulency and insomnia. It will also prevent malaria, fever and ague, which is prevalent at this time of the year. Be sure to try it.

FOR WOOLEN MILL. Push Club and Chamber of Commerce Meet Jointly.

At a joint meeting of the Push Club and the Chamber of Commerce held yesterday the committee appointed to investigate the plan of George W. Herst for the establishment of a woolen mill here, asked for further time before making a report and another meeting will be held tonight. The proposition, as made through Mr. Herst's representative, H. D. Wagoner, calls for a loan of $25,000 to be secured by notes and a mortgage on the plant, the money to be repaid within a certain stipulated time. Mr. Herst's present is in charge of a mill at Brownsville, Oregon, and is anxious to remove here. The committee appointed were instructed to ascertain whether or not the loan could be floated and a favorable report is expected at tonight's meeting.

REALTY TRANSFERS. J. E. Ferguson and wife to J. T. Burke—lot 15, block 5, first addition to Ocean Grove; $75. Anna M. Adams and husband to Frank A. Kinney—tract of land in section 4, T. 4 N., R. 7 W.; $300. Northwestern Lumber Company to Simons Lumber Company—30 acres in Shively donation land claim and southeast quarter of section 9, T. 6 N., R. 7 W.; $1.

Send your head if the eaves are low. Oblige and you will be obliged.

Dr. Rhoda C. Hicks, OSTEOPATHIST. Consultation Free. 573 Commercial St., Astoria, Or.

C. W. BARR—DENTIST. Successor to Dr. Ball. 573 Commercial St., ASTORIA, OR. TELEPHONE, RED 2961.

THE LOUVRE. Manager Weisenstein of the Louvre has secured a splendid attraction in the persons of Miss Blanche Brogan and Fred Allen, in illustrated songs and moving pictures. The songs will be "A Tiger Lily," "My Georgia Rose," and the great con song hit, "Pinky, Come Kiss Your Baby." Views of points of interest from San Francisco to the Klondike, changed every evening, will

WHERE DO YOU BUY YOUR GROCERIES? HAVE YOU TRIED A. W. SHIPLEY? 656 Commercial Street.

DO YOU KNOW That he gives you the best there is to be had in the city for the least money? Place an order once and see.

Great American Importing Tea Co. 571 Commercial Street, Astoria.

GREAT SPECIAL SALE OF Chinaware, Crockery, Glassware, Lamps, Jardinieres and Jugs, Novelties, Bisque Ware, Agateware, Silverware and Cutlery, Fish Sets, Game Sets, Dinner Sets.

PRICES CUT 20 to 33 per cent

Come Just to See OUR IMMENSE STOCK OUR LOW PRICES WILL SURPRISE YOU

Great American Importing Tea Co. 571 Commercial Street, Astoria.

WILL COLLECT LICENSES.

Washington Boat-pullers Must Pay, Says McReavy.

Deputy Fish Commissioner E. C. McReavy, of the state of Washington, arrived in Astoria yesterday and will spend some time on the Columbia, collecting licenses from boat-pullers. When Mr. McReavy was in Olympia he submitted to the attorney-general of that state, a request for an opinion on the legality of that section of the Washington fisheries law providing for the collection of an individual license from boat-pullers. The Oregon law does not make such provision, and as the two laws were presumed to be similar Mr. McReavy wanted the opinion of the attorney-general on the matter. That official stated that the license should be collected, as according to the law the boat-puller clearly came within the class defined as "working on fishing appliances and gear." Mr. McReavy stated last night that many of the boat-pullers had protested against the payment and there was some talk of united action being taken to test the constitutionality of the law. Pending such action the deputy commissioner intends to enforce the provision of the law as interpreted by the attorney-general.

Mr. McReavy reports a very light run of salmon at all points on the river and on the Sound although there is every reason to expect an increase during the coming month.

CONDENSED FROM CLIPPINGS. The skeleton of a mastodon has been unearthed at Wabburg, this state. The barge C. H. Wheeler is aground on the south spit of the Nehalem harbor. A match factory to be erected in Terre Haute, Ind., will turn out 150,000,000 matches a day. The Skagway Alaskan estimates the coming season's output of the Klondike at from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000. The Hoquiam mill property at South

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS. Bids for the construction of a system of sewers in the town of Hermona Park, will be received by the undersigned, at the office of Fulton Bros., up to 10 o'clock a. m. Monday, May 2, 1901. Profile maps, plans and specifications on application. HERMONA PARK INVESTMENT CO., G. C. Fulton, President.

IT'S UP TO YOU. To try our cigars—we've done all we could to furnish you fine ones. The tobacco in our cigars is long filler and of the best quality, and the people who roll them thoroughly understand their business. So, as we said before, "it's up to you" to smoke 'em. If we can succeed in having you make a trial of one cigar, you are very likely to finish the box.

WILL MADISON. THE PLACE TO BUY CANNERY SUPPLIES FISHING BOAT SUPPLIES BUILDING MATERIAL SEWING MACHINES AND FARM IMPLEMENTS IS AT FISHER BROTHERS, Astoria, Ore.

THE ASTORIAN.... Delivered at your office, store or residence, 60c per month.

COMMERCIAL PRINTING BRIEFS AND TRANSCRIPTS ASTORIAN PUBLISHING CO. PRINTING

ALL WORK DELIVERED AT TIME IT IS PROMISED. Cor. Tenth and Commercial Streets Telephone 661.

Pacific Navigation Company. Steamers—"Sue H. Elmore," "W. H. Harrison" Only line—Astoria to Tillamook, Garibaldi, Bay City, Hobsonville. Connecting at Astoria with the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Co. and also the Astoria & Columbia River R. R. for San Francisco, Portland and all points east. For freight and passenger rates apply to Samuel Elmore & Co. General Agents, ASTORIA, ORE. Agents: O. R. & N. R. Co., Portland. A. & C. R. Co., Portland. B. C. LAMB, Tillamook, Ore.

NEW ZEALAND FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY. Of New Zealand. W. P. THOMAS, Mgr., San Francisco.

UNLIMITED LIABILITY OF SHAREHOLDERS. Subscribed Capital, $5,000,000. Paid-up Capital, 1,000,000. Assets, 2,545,114. Assets in United States, 300,000. Surplus to Policy Holders, 1,718,792.

Has been Underwriting on the Pacific Coast over twenty-two years. SAMUEL ELMORE & CO. Resident Agents, Astoria, Or.