The papers of the Northwest are practically unanimous in condemning the recent brutal attacks of the Oregonians upon President McKinley.

Wisconsin has an innovation in an export tax on ice. It is a bad precedent and will probably be declared unconstitutional. Perfect freedom of trade between the states is one of the principles of our government which we should be in no haste to abandon.

Arinaldo thinks that American government of the Philippines, in order to be satisfactory to the Filipinos, must conform strictly to the constitution. If he were the astute statesman which the snits affirm he is, he would understand that the same thing would be essential to make American rule in the Philippines satisfactory to the American people. We have not yet reached the point where we are willing to see our officials override that foundation of our institutions and because of our faith in the present administration's course as constitutional it was re-elected.

TARIFF PROBLEM IN THE ISLANDS.

Tacoma News. The supreme court has not yet decided the cases which have been argued before it involving the constitutionality of special tariff legislation for Porto Rico and the Philippines. The practical question before the court is whether or not the island possessions which the federal government acquired under the provisions of the treaty of Paris are now a part of the United States and subject to the constitution and general laws. The constitution vests in congress the power "to lay and collect taxes, duties, imports and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States;" but declares that "all duties, imports, and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States."

If the supreme court should decide that this provision of the constitution applies to Porto Rico and the Philippines, there would be a decided change of sentiment as to the desirability of their acquisition. In fact, some almost insurmountable difficulties would be presented. President Schurman, in an article in Collier's Weekly, says that it does not seem feasible in any way to assimilate the tariff of the Philippines to that of the United States. The two tariffs are today as far apart as are the corresponding economic, industrial and social conditions of the two countries. Two-thirds of the total value of the imports of the Philippines consist of rice, cotton yarn, nails and wire, steel rails, petroleum, drugs and chemicals, paper, silk, spirits and still wines; and a comparison of the Philippine duties with the United States duties on these articles will show how fundamentally irreconcilable the tariffs appear to be.

Rice, for example, is the chief food of the Philippine people, and the Philippine duty on it is 17 cents per hundred-weight. The duty on rice entering the States is $2 per hundred weight. It would be absolutely out of the question to raise the Philippine duty on rice to the latter figure. Food riots would be incited everywhere in the archipelago. The conditions which prevail in the islands are so essentially different from those which obtain here that an assimilation of the tariffs would be impracticable.

In addition to this point made by President Schurman, it may be added that considerable opposition would be raised in this country to the admission to the United States free of duty of all the products of the islands. This opposition would become even more serious were American capitalists to establish certain industrial enterprises in the islands, employing the cheap labor there obtainable, and were they then to send the finished product into the States free of duty, to enter into competition with the product of American labor.

Another matter of practical importance which hinges upon the decision of the supreme court in the pending cases arises out of a clause in the treaty of Paris which assures to Spain for a period of ten years equal advantage with the United States in the markets of the Philippines. If the clause of the constitution above quoted applies to the newly acquired islands, there will be free trade between the states and the islands as there is between the several states, and in that event Spain will claim the privilege of free trade with the islands for ten years under the treaty of Paris. And were Spanish products admitted to the Philippines free of duty, what would prevent their reshipment to the United States without the imposition of the tariff tax. To be sure, the treaty of Paris gives only a trade privilege to Spain in the Philippine islands, but there would be great difficulty in restricting the privilege if the Philippines are entitled to free trade with the United States.

Eminent legal authority is divided on the proposition that the constitution follows the flag. The late President Harrison, one of the great constitutional lawyers of his generation, frankly expressed his conviction that it does, even though such a conclusion was unfavorable to the position which his own party had assumed. But on the other hand, there are great lawyers who take the opposite view. The question has been argued pro and con before the learned judges of the supreme court. They are taking a long time to deliberate on the question. The future policy of the United States with respect to colonial enterprises depends on the decision which is soon to be announced. Should it happen to accord with the late President Harrison's views, a large number of people will lose their interest in our island possessions. But it is hardly probable that the court will reach such a conclusion.

Cynicism may be fashionable, but it has a very disagreeable effect on the corners of the mouth.

No matter how homely a man may be, some woman thinks him good-looking.

Mr. W. J. Baxter of North Brook, N. C., says he suffered with piles for fifteen years. He tried many remedies with no results until he used DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They cured him. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

We should be as charitable to other people's faults as we are to our own.

"Our little girl was unconscious from strangulation during a sudden and terrible attack of dyspepsia. I quickly secured a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure, giving her three doses. The cough was mastered and our little darling speedily recovered." So writes A. L. Spafford, Chester, Mich. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

The Constitution may follow the flag, but of course it's expected to lead everything when it comes to yachts.

"I have been suffering from dyspepsia for the past twenty years and have been unable after trying all preparations and physicians to get any relief. After taking one bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure I found relief and am now in better health than I have been for twenty years. I can not praise Kodol Dyspepsia Cure too highly." Thus writes Mrs. C. W. Roberts, North Creek, Ark. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

The plowmakers are to form a combine. If the trust idea is going to fatten on the land they'll have their share in it.

If people only knew what we know about Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, it would be used in nearly every household, as there are few people who do not suffer from a feeling of fullness after eating, belching, flatulence, sour stomach or waterbrash, caused by indigestion or dyspepsia. A preparation such as Kodol's Dyspepsia Cure, which with no aid from the stomach, will digest your food, certainly can't help but do you good. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

When a legislator calls his fellows asses it would seem to be in order for the speaker to tell him he was forgetting himself.

SAVES TWO FROM DEATH.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., "but when all other remedies failed, we resorted to Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and today she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery. It is a cough medicine on earth. Infallible for Coughs and Colds; 50 cents and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by Hart's drugstore. Trial bottles free.

The question with China is not whether the powers will raise the indemnity, but rather whether they can raise it themselves.

WHITE MAN TURNED YELLOW.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold by Frank Hart, Druggist.

Nothing contributes more toward alleviating domestic storms than a clear conscience.

Miss Mamie Smith, of Middleboro, Ky., writes: "My little sister had the croup very bad. I gave her several doses of Foley's Honey and Tar and she was instantly relieved. It saved her life." Hart's drug store.

Some people are so just and discerning that they never find an opportunity to be generous.

Thomas Maple, Birkbeck, Ill., writes: "I had a very bad case of kidney trouble and my back pained me so that I could not straighten up. The doctor's treatment did me no good. Saw Foley's Kidney Cure advertised and took one bottle which cured me and I have not been affected since. I gladly recommend this remedy." Hart's drug store.

As a rule, women are not so generous as their brothers when tipping a waiter.

George C. Hitchcock, Curtiss, Wis., writes: "Foley's Kidney Cure has been tested and found to be all you claim for it. I have given it to my father and it is the only thing that ever helped him." Hart's drug store.

To know a woman find out her occupations; to know a man note his pleasures.

Mr. F. D. Arnold, Arnold, Iowa, writes: "I was troubled with kidney disease about three years. Had to get up several times during the night but three bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure effected a complete cure, he feels better than he ever did and recommends it to his friends." Hart's drug store.

The frequency with which Senator Hanna denies that he is a candidate for the presidency is becoming suspicious.

"I had a running sore on my breast for over a year," says Henry R. Richards of Wilkesville, N. Y., "and tried a great many remedies but got no relief until I used Banner Salve. After using one-half box I was perfectly cured. I cannot recommend it too highly." Hart's drug store.
