We are now receiving strawberries daily direct from the growers at Mt. Tabor. Leave us your standing order and we will send you any amount you wish each morning.—Johnson Bros. Officers were not elected at the meeting of the bartenders' union Thursday night. Nominations only were made and the election will not be held until the next meeting, a fortnight hence. It has been reported in Coroner Pohl that seven children of Andrew Dooney, a rancher living three miles above Seaside, are all down with diphtheria. A 6-year-old boy died recently and was buried on the place. The coroner received word that another child had died from the disease.

Certain residents of the county who have occasion to use the toll road between Seaside and Elk creek have petitioned the county court for the abolition of toll fares on the ground that the constructors of the road did not proceed under the law regulating the establishment of toll roads. The court has asked the district attorney for an opinion in the case, which will be rendered at the present session. Children's day will be observed at the Methodist church Sunday. The morning service will be in charge of the children. The program will consist of songs and recitations, etc., by the children, special music by the choir and an address by the pastor. The offering will be for the children's fund for education. The theme for the pastor's address at the evening service will be "The Leadership of Educated Men."

In the county court yesterday a report was received that two bridges, one near the Medley place, and the other near the Denver creek school house, in district 15, are in need of repairs and the matter was referred to Roadmaster Frey. Steps will be taken to prevent E. Lubke from using the county road in district No. 6 for logging purposes. A large amount of routine business was transacted and a number of accounts audited and ordered paid. The McMinnville News thinks that it is necessary to stock the Yamhill river above the locks with fish as the difference in the supply above is already noticeable to those who enjoy the sport of catching the finny tribe. Trout are very scarce which shows that they cannot come up to spawn and as that is the choice fish, the needs of the upper river should be seen to by the commission. The writer would suggest that bass, perch, perch, grayling, etc., and some such fish be planted there. Our Oregon rivers carry a very poor assortment naturally, and independent of the salmon carries interests the need of the local sportsmen should be studied.

BARKEEPERS' ATTENTION! A meeting of the Barkeepers' Union will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock sharp. Business of importance and all members are expected to attend. By order of the president. HARRY W. KRETZER. DEATH OF THOMAS O'CONNOR. Thomas O'Connor, an old and respected resident of Nehalem, died at St. Mary's hospital last night of pneumonia, aged 67 years. Hereafter on Friday of each week the steamer Vanguard will leave Cathlamet and Skamania two hours later on other days in order to give dairymen time to ship their products to this city. The ladies of the Swedish Lutheran church of Upper Astoria, will be giving a strawberry social in the basement of the church, Saturday evening, May 8th, at 8 o'clock p. m. All are cordially invited. The Ford & Stokes Company expect to begin operation on the land held by them at Knappa this week. The necessary machinery has arrived and boring for coal or oil indications will be rapidly pushed. At the meeting of the Women's Club this afternoon will take place the annual election of officers, and a full attendance of members is desired. The present officers will file reports of their work accomplished during the past year. Levi Mortenson, the chinook trapper who was so shockingly injured at the depot several days ago, is gaining strength and progressing steadily towards recovery under the skillful attention of the Sisters at St. Mary's hospital. George Flavel yesterday bought the property situated at the corner of Fifth and Franklin avenues. It is rumored that the price paid was $6000. The property is 100x100 feet, and Mr. Flavel is understood to will at once erect a handsome residence thereon. At the Presbyterian church Sunday morning Children's day will be observed by the Sunday school, the pastor preaching a sermon especially for the children. The topic of the evening sermon will be "Christianity and Art" and a cordial invitation is extended to all. As yet there is no sign of a settlement of the machinists' strike at the Astoria Iron Works. President Fox has been obliged to refuse a number of orders because of the strike, and has announced his determination to continue in his refusal to grant the demands of the strikers. Street cars will be operated over the new route past the railroad depot within the next ten days. The track has already been laid and there remains only the erection of the poles and the stringing of wires. The poles will arrive next Tuesday and will be immediately put in place. The regatta committee appointed by President P. Kendall of the Push club, met last night and discussed plans for the coming carnival. There is a determination on the part of the committee and the merchants generally to make this summer's regatta equal to any ever held. Owing to the fact that the existing ordinance for a monthly tax on telephone instruments is defective another measure will be prepared by City Attorney Smith and presented at the next meeting of the council. The telephone company, however, will resist in the courts any effort to tax their instruments. The O. R. & N. Co. has made a rate of 15¢ from Astoria to Portland for the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo. Tickets will be on sale first and third Tuesdays, June 10 and 12, inclusive. These tickets must be used for continuous passage going west, and stopovers will be allowed within final limit returning. At a conference held between a committee from the council and a committee from the Women's Club regarding the establishment of a public pumping ground, the conclusion was reached that nothing could be done in the matter unless the householders were willing to pay a round sum for having garbage transported to a private pumping ground offered by one of the members of the council. SITES FOR HATCHERIES

EXPERT E. C. GREENMAN REPORTS INVESTIGATIONS.

RECOMMENDS SEVERAL GOOD LOCATIONS AND GATHERS VALUABLE DATA OF SALMON HABITS.

Master Fish Warden H. G. Van Dusen is meeting with the approval of citizens of the state interested in the fishing industry in his efforts to secure suitable hatchery sites in the state. Field Superintendent E. C. Greenman, who has been investigating desirable hatchery locations, recently submitted the following report to the master warden: Pendleton, May 21.—Mr. H. G. Van Dusen, Master Fish Warden—Dear Sir:—Complying with your instructions, I beg to report my findings for the month of May to have been as follows: May 14, I arrived at Pendleton and met Mr. J. E. Krause, Dr. Garfield and other members of the Pendleton Sportsmen's club, at the city council chambers. They informed me that salmon run up the Umatilla river in great numbers, from the 15th of July to the 15th of September; also a few partly in the spring. I explored the river from the mouth, some 70 miles up, finding only one suitable hatchery site, at the mouth of the McKay creek, about three miles below Pendleton, where there is a fine spring of pure, clear water, which can be conveyed by flume a distance of about one-quarter of a mile to the hatchery site; also a favorable location for capturing salmon. I would advise that a rack be placed across the Umatilla river at this point, before July 15. Two miles above the mouth of the McKay creek, at the mouth of the McKay creek, at extreme low water, might stop fish, but, if such is the case, could easily be overcome by a few charges of powder, as the falls are not over six feet in height. May 20, I left for Wallawa lake, arriving there May 21. The lake is 10 miles by pure, cold water, surrounded by high mountains. The lake is fed by the Wallawa river, which rises in the Powder river mountains, some ten miles distant. The water is clear, pure and cold mountain stream. The outlet of the lake is the McKay creek, by one-half mile in width, and very deep, extending north and south, the south end being shallow, the spawning ground of the little red fish, or blueback. the spring to amount to anything. These gentlemen advised me to talk with J. Krause, a man who spent most of his time fishing in the Tucannon. I saw him and he verified their statement, and told me we could secure salmon by the thousand after the first of September. I believe them to be chinook salmon, as they are reported to be large fish with black spots on the back, above the lateral line, and the flesh of a pinkish tinge. There is a saw mill on the Tucannon near Marengo, where lumber can be secured. Would advise that a rack be placed across the river, near Marengo, about August 20, but not before, as the river will not be low enough to determine the best place before that time. Water for a hatchery plant will have to be taken from the main river, as all small streams flowing into the Tucannon go dry in the fall, but the Tucannon has so much fall that it will be but a small matter to get a young salmon about two inches in length, water supply for a hatchery. I believe this to be a good stream for our purpose, and deserves our careful consideration. I shall out a rack across this stream in August, and am inclined to think that the results obtained will more than surprise us. May 28, I left Marengo for Pomeroy, to investigate Patalla river, which I found to be a small, polluted stream that salmon never go up. I feel very much encouraged, since exploring the Tucannon river and with the kind aid and assistance that is being given us by all of these people up here. I see nothing but success ahead of us for if these people tell the truth—and I have no reason to doubt them—there are lots of salmon to be found up here; and we will surely get hold of some of them. Mr. Krause, of Pendleton, informed me today that the river was full of young salmon about two inches in length, going down tail first; but the young bluebacks that were leaving Wallawa lake for the sea (samples of which I sent you) I found going down stream head first. Tonight I will leave for Touchet, Clatsop, and will make a thorough examination of the Touchet river. Very respectfully submitted. E. C. GREENMAN.

WITHIN REACH. BECAUSE of its low price Ivory Soap is within the reach of all. Besides its low cost it has the advantage that it is entirely satisfactory for so many varied uses; it will do the work of a half dozen kinds of soap each intended for a special purpose. IVORY SOAP IS 99 3/4 PER CENT. PURE.

SALTED SALMON. Eastern Stock Is Running Low and Prices Are High. There is a splendid activity in barreled Alaska salmon in the New York market at this time where it is said a greater portion of the Eastern stock in hand is stored, says the Tacoma Ledger. Sales in the past two weeks have been unusually heavy. Among the visitors in the city yesterday was O. S. Meredith, of New York, agent of the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Pa. See display and mail a card. Yours for success. LOUIS G. SPIES, Sol. Col. To earn more, learn more.

FOR SALE OR RENT. Two new cottages at Seaside. Fine location, well furnished. Good water. Apply to C. M. Cuthbert, 127 Seventh street, Astoria, or to S. J. Hubbard, Seaside, Ore. The country is becoming agitated over religion. Periodically some one arises and declares that it is decaying. This results in countless discussions until the agitation runs its course and still religion flourishes. It always will, for it is something the world needs. One of the best recommendations of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the great American stomach strengthener, lies in the fact that it has lived for fifty years in spite of hundreds of imitations, and is renowned for its cure of constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, malaria, fever and ague, and sees to it that the life-giving elements of the food are assimilated with the blood. There is nothing "just as good." See that a Private Stamp covers the neck of the bottle. STATE TREASURER'S FOURTH NOTICE.
