A veteran of the street said to the writer a few days ago, while discussing Mr. Keene's wonderful work in United States Steel: "My views on Keene are not shared by the Street; generally, I have no liking for him as an operator, but I have the greatest admiration for him as a man. My liking dates from his dark days. It was after he failed. There was a man who was used to the best in the land, lavish by nature, fond of the good things of life, accustomed to the flattery of lesser speculators, loving above everything to back his views in the market with millions, to whom operating in stocks was as the breath of his nostrils; a man proud by instinct, a bundle of nerves, impatient of obstacles—now flat broke. Once so powerful and courted and feared, now unnoticed, unsought, regarded by the Street as an exploded bubble about to join the ranks of the vast army of Wall Street failures. What did he do? I used to see him going to and from his little cottage in the country, because he was too poor to live in the city, every day, like myself. I was poor, too, but I could still afford to have my wife's phaeton meet me at the station. Not so with Keene. He walked from the station to his house. How many men would have survived the sudden descent from millions to pennies. If the New Street saloons are full of men who once swung big lines of stock and now gaze on the saloon ticker with bleary eyes why should not Keene have sought consolation there? He bent his head when the storm raged and pushed onward and twenty years later he was the admired and envied and feared king of the stock market. That's why I like the man."

A HORRIBLE TRAGEDY.

Seattle Post-Intelligencer. The sudden death of W. L. Meredith yesterday afternoon at the hands of John W. Conzidine thrilled the whole city with excitement and horror. The enmity between these men was of old standing and had been intensified by recent events. Both were of passionate disposition, both were prompt to act in a personal quarrel, both went fully armed. When Meredith met Conzidine on the street he opened fire upon him, pursuing him into a drug store and taking a second shot with his gun before drawing one of his revolvers. This was taken away from him in a struggle with the two Conzidine brothers, and then, after having been beaten over the head with it by Tom Conzidine, he was shot three times by John W. Conzidine and instantly killed. These are the plain facts, in outline, as related by eye-witnesses, of one of the most horrible tragedies that ever stained the history of Seattle. It was the culmination of evil passions, of private revenge, of that petty contentment for law which is bred of long defiance of law. We have no will to say one word in reprobation of the dead, or add one burden to that of the man who lies in a prison cell with the blood of a fellow being on his hands. Sufficient for all are the simple facts in this case, backed by the long and miserable history behind them. We think that the moral of this awful event which will cause home most closely to our people is that we have had enough of contempt of law and defiance of the demands of a necessary moral order. Surely these fruits are bitter enough to tempt no return to the tree from which they were plucked, and which bears always after its kind. It is time for an end of the wild and reckless ways of the frontier, of savage disregard of law, of virtual anarchy in this community. Horrible in all of its consequences has it been, and now we see its real character. Does Seattle want more of this, or is it ready for the reign of law and order. In the pause, the reaction, the sober retrospect, let the people make up their minds. We have been through troubled times of late, and sounded all the depths to which as a municipality we ought to sink. It is time to live a new standard. It is time to have done with the acts and the policies that lead down the blackening slope to where we stand today. Shall not the life so suddenly extinguished and the other in danger of forfeit for its crime purchase for this city a day of new and better things?

WITH THE PARAGRAPHERS.

Indiana's next campaign song: "On the Fairbanks of the Wabash"—Chicago Tribune.

Washington's third term will now resume its prominence as an animated light summer topic.

The Fourth of July will be an extensive holiday this year, celebrated from Porto Rico to Manila—Mexican Herald.

Our old friend, Dr. Shenk, seems to have slipped a cog in the affairs at St. Petersburg and Rome—Chicago Journal.

Farmer Wilson of the agricultural department saves the United States (in beet the world on sugar)—Chicago Tribune.

Adelina Paul's day of glory is over. She is writing reports of beauty for the excitable journals—Baltimore American.

John Alex. Downie objects to being called a paragon. And yet that is a very gentle way of exposing it—Washington Star.

You can generally tell when a man is talking to a woman over the telephone by the tone of voice he assumes—Nashville Banner.

Alfred Henry Lewis' biography of that famous philanthropist and reformer, Richard Croker, thoroughly explodes the fallacy that the good die young—Kansas City Star.

Eczema, salmoun, ulcer, chafing, itchy pimples and all skin troubles are quickly cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The certain cure. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

There is a large demand in Kentucky for Missouri strawberries. Nothing contributes so much to the allurements of the mini-jubilee—outside of the essential elements of the supper—as three Missouri strawberries spunging down into the bush of mist where the glass is garbled.

A surgical operation is not necessary to cure piles. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures all that expense and ever fails. Beware of quackeries. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

This little life has been given me that is great—that an atom's weight of love has gone up to heaven and has been hid—Dartley.

WORKING HOURS A DAY.

There's no rest for these three little workers—Dr. King's New Life Pills. Millions are always busy, curing rapid liver, jaundice, sickness, fever and ague. They banish sick headaches, drive out malaria, New grippe or winter small, taste nice, work wonders. Try them. 25c at Hart's drug store.

Alfred Henry Lewis has written the life of Dick Croker. Well, Dick has had things his own way and he hasn't considered the feelings of others and perhaps he deserves what he is going to get. But it is a downright brutality to turn Alfred Henry Lewis at a man before he has become a villain.

Dyspepsia cannot be long lived because to live requires nourishment. Food is not nourishing until it is digested. A disordered stomach cannot digest food. It must have assistance. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests all kinds of food without aid from the stomach, allowing life to rest and regain its natural functions. Its elements are exactly the same as the natural digestive fluids and it simply can't help but do you good. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

Libraries are the shrines where all the relics of a race fall of their virtues, and without devotion and impatience are preserved and respected—Bacon.

A FIREMAN'S CLOSE CALL.

"I stuck to my agins although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellamy, a locomotive fireman of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Ebers' Kidney Pills, and after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Weak, sickly, run down people always gain new life, strength and vigor from their kidneys. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by Hart's Drug Store. Price 50c.

Without counting by degrees, a man cannot attain to high things, and the breaking of the ladder will casteth a warrior down, and maketh the thing warlike, which was once easy—Sir Philip Sidney.

The talk of a very low condition generally all over the body, is cured by FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE, which restores your strength and vigor by making the kidneys well. Take no substitute. Hart's Drug Store.

The satisfaction of our merit, is to know that my merit is not sufficient—St. Augustine.

Edward Husk, a well known business man of Salisbury, Mo., writes: "I wish to say for the benefit of others, that I was a sufferer from lumbago and kidney trouble, and all the remedies I took gave me no relief. I was induced to try FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE, and after the use of three bottles, I am cured. Hart's Drug Store."

"My wife and I used up last night to see whether she'd get a new spring bonnet or I'd get a new suit." "Who won?" "I did."

"What kind are you going to get?" "Well, she hasn't decided yet whether to have it trimmed with flowers or feathers."—Harper's Bazar.

Allen Halverson of West Prairie, Wis., says: "People come ten miles to buy FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE," while J. A. Sperto, of Helmer, Ind., says: "It is the medical wonder of the age." Hart's Drug Store.

"How do you like the refrain of my new song, 'Ask the doctor for a bottle of 'Great,' exclaimed the long-suffering friend. 'In fact, if you were to refrain entirely the public.' But the youthful composer had taken refuge in flight."

A. O. Blanchard, West Bangor, N. Y., says: "I have been troubled with kidney disease for the last five years. Have doctored with several physicians and I got no relief until I used two bottles of FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE." Hart's Drug Store.

Mrs. Woodbury is perhaps convinced now that it is best to get the best. She collected $150,000 from out of the "hazy infidelity of Kantian transcendentalism"—as the late Mr. Carlyle called it one day when his liver was turned completely over.

William Woodard, of Decatur, Ia., writes: "I was troubled with kidney disease for several years and four one dollar also bottle of FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE cured me. I would recommend it to anyone who has kidney trouble." Hart's Drug Store.

These persons who are engaged in speculating upon the age of poker bore us as much as the man who delays the game ten minutes while he is trying to make up his mind that he ought to call a 36 bet on tens and deuces.

Cycling has its ups and downs. After the downs, use BANNER SALVE if you are cut or bruised. It heals the hurt quickly. Take no substitutes. Hart's Drug Store.

It is estimated that there will be 2500 marriages in Chicago during the present month. No estimate is made on the number of divorces. That branch of the matrimonial business is regarded with too much concern to permit any sort of speculation.

Mr. James Brown of Portsmouth, Va., over a year ago was afflicted with a severe sore on his face. Physicians could not help him. Dr. Witt's Witch Hazel Salve cured him permanently. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

DEVOID OF POETIC FEELING. Rural Swain (poetically)—Been 'tup-n' over 'n' medder, Miss Bell? Miss Bell city victor—No; I tripped over the pump handle.

Danger, disease and death follow neglect of the bowels. Use DeWitt's Little Early Risers to regulate them and you will add years to your life and life to your years. Easy to take, never gripe. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

Herron has been fired out of the church for conduct unbecoming a gentleman. It is very clear that there is nothing lady-like in his actions and he will have to be put in a class by himself.

The bilious, tired, nervous man cannot successfully compete with his healthy rival. DeWitt's Little Early Risers the famous pills for constipation will remove the cause of your troubles. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

Pierpont Morgan let Edward VII. have a look at the Gainsborough picture. A look-in is about all an impressionist monarch can stand when he mixes with the kings of France.

"The doctors told me my cough was incurable. One Minute Cough Cure made me a well man."—Norris Silver, North Stamford, N. H.—"Because you've not coughed, relief from my stubborn cough, don't despair. One Minute Cough Cure has cured thousands and I will cure you. Safe and sure." CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

TURNING THE TABLES. "Mrs. Newbrite isn't at all satisfied with her husband's salary." "No; she says it isn't nearly so good as her father used to make."

"A few months ago, food which I ate for breakfast would not remain on my stomach for half an hour. I used one bottle of your Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and can now eat my breakfast and other meals with a relish and my food is thoroughly digested. Nothing equals Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for stomach troubles." H. S. Pitts, Arlington, Tex. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

Miss Connie Mates of Alabama has committed suicide by poison. Any news of things and a name like that would have to lead up to a rough-on-rails highball for the finish.

Ira D. Reckard, Duncombe, Ia., writes: "My little boy scalded his leg from the knee to the ankle. I used BANNER SALVE immediately and in three weeks' time it was almost entirely healed. I want to recommend it to every family and advise them to keep BANNER SALVE on hand, as it is a sure cure for scalds or any sores." Hart's Drug Store.

Real widows in Chicago now have the death certificate of the deceased framed and hung up to show that they are not the imitation article.

"I suffered such pains from corns I could hardly walk," writes H. Robinson, Hillsborough, Ill., "but Bucklen's Arnica Salve completely cured them." Acts like magic on sprains, bruises, corns, sores, scalds, burns, boils, etc. Perfect healer of skin diseases and piles. Cure guaranteed by Hart's drug store, 25c.

The emperor of China's declaration that he intends to visit Europe was probably inspired by a desire to see some of the furniture he used to own before he went on a trip into the country.

BLOWN TO ATOMS. The old idea that the body sometimes needs a powerful, drastic, purgative pill has been exploded for Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are perfectly harmless, gently stimulate liver and bowels to expel poisonous matter, cleanse the system and absolutely cure constipation, indigestion, headache, only 25c at Hart's Drug Store.

THE RESULT. "I was so tired last night to see whether she'd get a new spring bonnet or I'd get a new suit." "Who won?" "I did."

"What kind are you going to get?" "Well, she hasn't decided yet whether to have it trimmed with flowers or feathers."—Harper's Bazar.

NIGHT WAS HER TERROR. "I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frantically and spit blood, but when all other remedies failed, three H.00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 35 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Hart's Drug Store.

The King of England will bar divorcees from his drawing room. If the women should combine and taboo respondents, Eddie would be rather lonesome.
