THE SULTAN PAYS UP.

So long as the Sultan of Turkey deal of attention paid to the subject and public interest in it was keen. In fact, at one time when an American warship sailed for the Mediterranean it was rumored that the object was to compel force. Lately there has been very little said about the subject, and now that the announcement comes that the sultan has paid $95,000, which our governmen asked, is treated as a matter of course It is natural that men should pay more attention to matters of %rife than of peace, and have more to say about a man who talks of war than of one who goes quietly to work and accomplishes his ands by peaceful means; but

When Secretary Hay undertook to reto injured Americans he had a difficult task upon his hands. SNAKE AND CHICKEN.

They Fight a Draw Battle in Which Both Show Skill.

One of the most amusing contests I ever saw in my life happened at my place the other day," said a White Salmon rancher to The Dalles Chronleat man. 'It was between a blue racer stake, about sleven inches long, and half-grown Plymouth Rock cockerel. My attention was called to the content by the unnatural noise and antics of the cockerel. In a moment he fay stretched out on the ground as if dead, and the next moment I coud see the racer unwind about a third of its thin body from the seek of the chicken, while It's peculiar that when people get in.
