The Astoria council, Federation of Labor, has requested the regatta committee not to employ the Third Regiment band owing to it not being a union organization. An effort will also be made to prevent the employment of non-union teamsters. The clerks' union reported that all the merchants in the city with one exception had agreed to close their stores at a uniform hour. A committee was appointed to prosecute the merchant holding aloof for violating the Sunday closing law in case he opened for business on the Sabbath.

The July salmon have appeared in the river and cannerymen and others familiar with the habits of salmon believe that from now on the run will be good but not above normal and the pack can be handled without the congestion that has hampered operations for the past ten days. The canneries are all running to their full capacity and boys and girls are employed in the light work. The Columbia River Packers Association continues to take 400 pounds of fish daily from the gill netters working for them and five cents is still the ruling price. Yesterday the docks in front of the Kinney cannery were lined with fishing boats from early morning until night and to facilitate the handling of the fish a receiving station was opened on the launch Comet.

Preparations on a mammoth scale are under way for the great gathering of Woodmen at Mount Tabor next Saturday. Five great beavers and 5000 loaves of bread will be needed to feed the multitudes in addition to other items on the menu. A number of wholesale firms are agitating a general closing for the day so that employees can witness the initiation of 1000 new members and the attendant festivities.

Secretary A. E. Gebhardt, of the Oregon fish and game commission, passed through the city yesterday en route to Seattle where 50,000 young trout will be released in the Necanicum. Of the fry 60,000 are eastern brook trout and 50,000 rainbow trout. It is expected that they will be large enough for the sportsman in a couple of years. The commission has been actively engaged in stocking Oregon streams and followers of Frank Walton will be assured of excellent sport for years to come.

Four of the crack river steamers, the Bailey Gatzert, Dalles City, Regulator and Kellogg, started from Portland yesterday morning for a race. The Gatzert's engineer discovered a defective connecting rod and returned to the city. The Regulator reached Vancouver first with sufficient time to enable her to tie up to the wharf before the latter came in. The Kellogg was not far behind and altogether it was an eventful and exciting race.

The weekly crop bulletin issued by the climate and crop service bureau of the department of agriculture sends out the following general summary for the week just ended: The past week has been rainless and seasonable in the matter of warmth and sunshine. The maximum temperatures during the week in Western Oregon ranged between 70 degrees and 86 degrees, and the minimum temperatures between 48 degrees and 62 degrees. In Eastern Oregon the maximum temperatures ranged between 76 degrees and 92 degrees, and the minimum temperatures between 46 degrees and 66 degrees. All crops have made rapid advancement, but rain is now needed to revive pastures and for late crops, such as corn, gardens and potatoes. Hay baling is in active progress and a good crop of hay has been secured. The second crop of alfalfa is growing nicely and will soon be ready to cut. Pastures are falling and range stock is beginning to lose flesh. Grain is ripening rapidly and its harvest is well under way. The wheat crop promises good yields in all sections and the quality is above the average. In Umatilla county the damage by the late frost is not as great as previously reported, and it is now expected that an average crop will be secured in that section. Barley is reported to be of excellent quality. Corn and potatoes are being seriously injured by dry weather, and unless rain comes soon their yields will be materially reduced. Hops continue doing nicely, although many correspondents report loss in the yards and much spraying being done. Sugar beets in Union county and onions in Washington county are making splendid advancement. Italian or Pellenburg prunes promise to make a fair crop. Early apples and peaches are ripe.

DIVORCE SUIT FEES.

Judge McBride Holds They Cannot Be Recovered—Plaintiff Will Appeal.

In the Circuit Court yesterday Judge McBride sustained the demurrer submitted by District Attorney Harrison Allen in the case of Sam Howard vs. Clatsop county. This is a case involving the fee of $10, payable to the district attorney in divorce actions. The plaintiff, through his attorney Cland Strahan of Portland, contends that the action of 1900 giving the district attorney a fixed salary instead of fees repeals by implication the act stipulating that the $10 fee shall be paid in divorce actions.

Since the enactment of the law the district attorney has collected the fee as before and has turned it into the county treasury. It is thought that attorneys throughout the state, whose clients in divorce cases have been obliged to put up the fee, have united to make a test case and the question involved will be carried to the supreme court. Judge McBride, in sustaining the demurrer, says that the payment of the fee was not repealed by the act fixing a salary for the district attorney. The case will be appealed.

The following orders were handed down at yesterday's session: Schofield & Hauke vs. W. C. Jensen, et al.—Order for confirmation of sale.

Ross, Higgins & Co. vs. C. E. Mitchell—Settled and dismissed.

Ross, Higgins & Co. vs. Joe Craig—Judgment for want of answer and order of sale for attached property.

E. A. Betts vs. William B. Adair, administrator, et al.—Order for publication of summons.

Ross, Higgins & Co. vs. J. W. Douglas—Judgment and order of sale for attached property.

F. Hovett, et al. vs. J. M. Fritlen, et al.—Ordered that attached money be turned over to plaintiffs. In this case the Quaker doctors were served with attachment proceedings for drugs furnished by a New York firm. The amount involved was $25.70.

J. E. Higgins vs. Silas B. Smith—Settled and dismissed.

Frank Spittle vs. the Columbia River Packers Association—Motion to strike out answer sustained.

Ross, Higgins & Co. vs. J. C. Lidwell, et al.—Settled and dismissed.

S. Hamilton vs. City of Astoria—Judgment by default on stipulation.

M. C. George et al. vs. M. Nolan et al.—Ordered that mandate from the supreme court be entered.

Fannie Rowan vs. John A. Rowan—Demurrer overruled.

PERMANENTLY ORGANIZED.

First Annual Convention of Clatsop County Sunday School Association.

The first annual convention of the Clatsop County Sunday School Association, which was held in this city yesterday, fully came up to the expectations of those interested in its organization both in regard to attendance and interest manifested. Seven delegates from Sunday schools of the county were present and in the audience were several visitors from Portland.

The morning session proved both helpful and inspiring. The "Round Table Conference," led by the Rev. J. V. Milligan, of Portland, was full of practical suggestions. "Use and Abuse of Sunday School Lesson Hopes," by the Rev. L. J. Trumbull, called forth a lively discussion, which was summed up with the illustration that bringing the "helps" into the Sunday school was like bringing the skilful into the parlor. They are good for home study but the Bible should reign in the school.

"The Normal Work," by the Rev. C. A. Dotson, of Portland, was landed in a masterly way. Mr. C. Hansen, of the Presbyterian church, in his address on "The Boys' Class," gave the benefit of observations gained in his long and successful experience in that line of work. During the intermission a delightful luncheon was served in the parlors of the Presbyterian church. At the afternoon session a permanent organization was effected by the election of the following officers:

President—R. C. Turner.

Vice-president—Rev. William Hawkins.

Corresponding secretary—Mrs. J. E. Ferguson.

Recording secretary—Miss Anna S. Olsen.

Treasurer—Mrs. Radcliffe.

Executive committee—C. Hansen, Dr. Bishop, Walter Sharp.

Home department superintendent—Mrs. Bishop.

Primary department superintendent—Mrs. J. C. Curtis.

The evening session was opened with a praise service led by the Rev. B. F. Rowland. The report of the committee on resolutions was adopted.

A report was also received from the executive committee that the association take up at its annual convention a collection, and that each Sunday school be asked to contribute yearly five cents for each member enrolled. The first address of the evening was by Mrs. C. M. Higgins on "Primary Work." With impressive earnestness she set forth the importance of the primary work in the Sunday school, and the interest manifested in the department of the "Cradle Roll" led the members of the convention to expect effective work along the lines dwelt on by Mrs. Higgins. After an anthem by the choir came the address of the evening—"Organized Sunday School Work. What? Why? How?" The speaker, the Rev. C. A. Dotson, one of the best known Sunday school workers in the state and is thoroughly conversant with the best methods that will give the best results. He said in part:

"Henry Clay, on one occasion, was standing on a projecting rock in the Alleghany mountains, looking over the valley seemingly in deep study when a companion approaching him said: 'Mr. Clay, what are you thinking about?' He replied, 'I am listening to the oncoming tramp of the future generations of America.' Do you, Sunday school workers, not hear the tramp of the large army of boys and girls now marching up the highway of life? And shall we not hold the command of the great teacher 'Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel in every creature' and do faithfully our part in leading them to accept His Gospel?"

"Mr. McClure, once when traveling through America, exclaimed: 'The most potent thing I see in America is your Sunday school.' Every wide, deep, high and successful life is based upon the principles of Christ. The basic principle of the Sunday school is 'Formation is better than reformation.' It is a good work to go as a Salvation Army captain into a slum district and pull a man out of the gutter but it is a far better thing to save him from being marred by the forces of evil. The Sunday school comes in to do this very work by saving childhood. We hear the old saying 'An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure'; verily an ounce of Sunday school prevention is worth a hundred pounds of cure."

"In order to show you that the Sunday school is the important work that I claim it to be I wish to bring before you some witnesses. The executive secretary of state, J. W. Foster, on one occasion, in speaking of the International Sunday school work, said: 'I challenge the gentlemen to mention any work of equal importance to this nation.' The testimony of the Honorable John Bright, of England, is: 'The Sunday schools of England have done more for England's posterity than any other one thing.' Mr. Wm. Reynolds, that prince of Sunday school workers of his day, said: 'We have reached a bible-moving, bible-studying age and I believe we owe it more to the International Sunday school work than to any thing else.'

"It means much to this nation that 14,000,000 boys and girls, men and women meet from Sunday to Sunday to study the same Sunday school lesson. Did you know 10,000 conventions were annually held in the International Sunday school field, attended by 1,000,000 delegates? The twentieth century Sunday school must be these three things: '1st—It must be for the whole church; 2nd—It must be the way to solve the big problem is to get the father to the Sunday school; 3rd—It must be a Bible school. A RECOMMENDATION.

Well Known Astoria Engineer Cured of Rheumatism.

Joseph V. Watson, formerly a member of the Astoria Fire department, and now engineer in charge of the launch Hattie was cured of a severe case of rheumatism about two years ago by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. He says:

"In 1896 while in the fire department, frequent exposure brought on a case of rheumatism. It grew worse and finally got so bad that I couldn't do any work. I partially lost the use of my right arm and side and suffered the horrible pain that only those who have rheumatism can feel. Part of the time I was confined to my bed. For a while I was under care of a doctor in Seattle but he did not do me any good. He gave me powders to soothe the pain so that I could get some sleep. I also tried massage but without any relief. Then I went to our regular doctor here but he could do nothing for me. He said he thought I was slightly touched with palsy."

Since doctors seemed unable to help me I felt discouraged. But my wife noticed Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People advertised in some paper so we gave them a trial. This was in 1899 and two months after I began their use I was a well man. I do not need to take any medicine now and I feel like another being. I can candidly say if any person will follow the directions they will be relieved."

(Signed,) JOSEPH V. WATSON. Subscribed and sworn to before me this 18th day of July, 1901.

PICNIC TO FORT CLATSOP.

The Lewis and Clark expedition of nearly 100 years ago, spent their winter on the coast a few miles from here and built a fort in which they wintered. The remains of this fort can be seen at Fort Clatsop up the river named after its explorers, Lewis and Clark.

A grand opportunity of visiting this historical spot will be given on Wednesday, August 7, when the steamer Astorian will carry the annual picnic of Grace Church and Holy Innocents' Sunday schools down the bay and up the Lewis and Clark river to the very spot where the fort once stood.

The very name of these schools insures a good time, games and prizes and songs, etc., and the fact of the great interest which is directed towards the old fort by the exposition which is to be held in 1905, adds another item of interest. Come and bring your lunch basket, your fishhooks and lines, and have a good time. Adults 50 cents, children 25 cents. The steamer leaves the Parker House at 8:30 a. m. If stormy, the next fair day.
