THE PROFITS OF THE EARTH.

Tacoma Ledger.

Moreover the profit of the earth is for all; the king himself is served by the field.

There is a sore evil which I have seen under the sun; namely, riches kept for the owners thereof to their hurt.

There seems to be no novelty in human conditions; no change in human nature. The truth that was observed by Solomon in ages past impresses itself upon the senses today.

The profit of the earth is for all. God did not construct this atom of the universe for the animated speck who was to sit upon a throne.

The profit of the earth is for all. God did not construct this atom of the universe for the animated speck who was to sit upon a throne.

by all with whom the rich of this stamp deal, but the chief hurt is to the rich themselves. To them is the narrow life, the deadened conscience and the pang of a tardy remorse.

If the rich would but remember that the profits of the earth are for all, they would do much to banish sorrow and erect among men a fraternity as comprehensive as the world.

WITH THE PARAGRAPHERS

Chill is getting real snappy—Chilly, saucy, as it were.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Mr Morgan is clever. He wants the steel strike settled before the railroad war begins.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

It is probable that the Baptist convention in Chicago is responsible for the coming of rain.—St. Paul Dispatch.

The census show there are two men to one woman in Kansas. That is enough to make any state a little freakish.—Buffalo Express.

Women, according to Rev. Mr. Leach, are messengers of the kingdom of heaven. We find that rather hard to believe about our cook.—Chicago Journal.

In Tacoma recently $700 was found scowled away in an old hat. Everybody knows that money talks, but it isn't safe to let it talk through a hat.—San Francisco Bulletin.

The swell set at Newport has a new sport. It is a kind of party where each guest represents a catch of fish. One would think there would be much rivalry as to who should be the pick of the fish.—Minneapolis Journal.

Hon. J. Hamilton Lewis is now at the head of a match factory, which is about the only way he can enlighten the people.—Denver Republican.

SAVED TWO FROM DEATH. "Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., "but when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had Consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and today she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Indefatigable for Coughs and Colds, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, and all other ailments of the throat and lungs. Only 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by Harris Drug Store, Treat bottles free.

At the same time it isn't safe to rely heavily on Professor Tripp's judgment of poetry. He said, "The Prairie Dog" was doggerel.—Chicago Tribune.

Professor Tripp of Black-Elder's book pile says hymns are doggerel. He also said that Shakespeare was a lobster. Tripp has missed his vocation. He ought to invent "Tripp's glue" and get his advertising bunch in working order.

It is stated that liberal appropriations for the rivers and harbors will be asked at the next session of congress; that there may arise a successor to Tom Carter.—Mail and Express.

WHAT'S YOUR PACE WORTH? Sometimes a fortune, but never, if you have a sailor's complexion, a fish-bone look, moth patches and blotches on the skin—all signs of Liver Trouble. But Dr. King's New Life-Giver (Purifier for Skin, Blood, Bowels, Stomach and Liver) remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold by Frank Hart, Druggist.

WHITE MAN TURNED YELLOW. Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hugar of Leaning Rock, when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold by Frank Hart, Druggist.

A burglar caught in Seattle was on his hands and knees, carrying thirty-six boxes later. Justice acts as times as though it had received a shock from a salvable battery.

Don't be satisfied with temporary relief from indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure permanently and completely removes this complaint. It relieves permanently because it allows the tired stomach perfect rest. Dying won't beat the stomach. Nature refuses supplies from the food we eat. The best way to hold up the stomach is to use Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which digests what you eat and can't help but do you good. CHAS. ROGERS, Druggist.

It is said that Captain Schley did not believe the case of his father, but in all likelihood he did. The captain was a long time before he was a soldier.

FOR WHOOPING COUGH. "Both my children were taken with whooping cough," writes Mrs. O. E. Dancy, of Danville, Ill. "A small bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar cured the cough and saved a doctor's bill." Hart's drug store.

Honorable criminals find that conviction under the old laws fail to convict. It is said they are liable to be turned loose in default of a stomach. It is a good thing that lynchings will bear a honorable date.

Mr. David Baker, Otterville, Ia., says: "I have had asthma and a very bad cough for years, but could get no relief from the doctors and medicines I tried, until I took Foley's Honey and Tar. It gave me immediate relief and does me more good than all the other remedies combined. Hart's drug store."

The Boston Police who found there was another Paine and resented the fact, went to get into a corner and organize an individual Paine club. He'll make some money out of it.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Wm. Finn, of Lima, O., obtained excellent results from the use of Foley's Kidney Cure. "It relieved my backache, secured pain over the hips, regulated my system and gave me new vim and energy. It is an honest and reliable remedy, a sure cure for all kidney troubles." Hart's drug store.

The London Mail has proved itself more potent than the war department. It will continue to print the news and the war department could peruse the same with profit.

MINING ON MOUNT SINAI

Historic Biblical Spot to Be Scene of Busy Workmen.

Take heed to yourselves that ye do not go up into the mountain, or touch the border of it: whosoever toucheth the mountain shall be surely put to death. There shall not an hand touch it, but through whether it be beast or man it shall not live.—Exodus xix, 12-13.

Thus says the Good Book concerning Mount Sinai.

Nevertheless, Charles Morning, an English mining prospector, intends digging deep into sacred Sinai. He has little fear of Biblical injunctions.

Convinced that Mount Sinai contains precious stones of great value, he has bought the mountain outright and intends working it for all it is worth.

Mr. Morning is a successful mine operator of South Africa. He spent last winter in Cairo, Egypt, and while in that neighborhood made several journeys into Arabia.

On one of these occasions he visited Mount Sinai, on the little peninsula between the Red Sea and the Gulf of Suez.

His mining experience showed him that there were indications of valuable minerals on Mount Sinai. With little reverence for tradition, he began prospecting at the very spot on Mount Sinai where Moses is said to have received from the hand of God the tablets on which were written the Ten Commandments.

The first prospecting made by Mr. Morning resulted in the finding of some excellent turquoise specimens. Encouraged by the "find," the prospector continued his work, and was so well pleased with the result that he immediately perfected arrangements for purchasing the Mountain of the Law.

When he first went about making his purchase he was taken to be a religious enthusiast or an antiquarian. It was not long, however, before the order for mining implements had been given, and the whir of machinery will be heard where once it is said to have sounded the thunder of Jehovah.

The rocks of which Mount Sinai is composed are granite, porphyry, diorite and gneiss. The sandstones of this district are rich in minerals.

According to the Encyclopedia Britannica, inscriptions made by Amenophis III and Thothmes III recount that the Egyptians found on Mount Sinai emeralds, malachite and kufpergang.

Perhaps the new owner of Mount Sinai came across this passage in the encyclopedia and it gave him the hint to prospect. However this may be, he is undoubtedly in earnest.

There has always existed considerable doubt as to which mountain—Jebel Musa (the mountain of Moses) or Jebel Serbal—was the eminence on which the Tablets of the Law were given. Jebel Musa is 7,359 feet high, while Jebel Serbal is but 6,750 feet high.

It seems, however, that the main difficulty with regard to these mountains consists in the fact that neither of them has a plain in front of it the area of which is sufficiently great to accommodate an army of 600,000 men.

In the Biblical account of Mount Sinai it is stated that the Israelites camped in the Plain of Assembly before Mount Sinai. The army consisted of some 900,000 fighting men. The El Kabah, or Place of Assembly, commonly pointed out by Biblical students does not seem sufficiently large to make room for all these people.

Thus is the exact location of the mountain on which Moses is said to have communed with the Almighty a matter of mere conjecture. Jebel Musa has been pronounced to be the correct location by such learned students as Tschenderf, Laborde, Ritter, Strauss, Farrar and others.

There are still others, however, almost equally distinguished, who make similar claims for Jebel Serbal.

There is still another mountain near Mount Sinai which is also believed to be the real law-giving spot. This is Mount Catherine, which has an altitude of 8,528 feet—being higher than either Mount Musa or Mount Serbal. There is a plain in front of it which would seem to lend credence to the assertions of those who think Mount Catherine the scene of the Moses revelations.

From the very earliest times—hundreds of years before the beginning of the Christian era—Mount Sinai, Catherine and Serbal have been separately and simultaneously venerated as the birthplace of the Ten Commandments. In early Christian times these mountains were favorite resorts for religious fanatics, who held in awe the very stones which composed the Sinai group.

Thirteen hundred years ago there was founded on Mount Catherine the monastery of that name. This institution is supposed to rest in the very Valley of Assembly in which the Israelites gathered before Mount Sinai. Stairs were built leading up Mount Catherine, and there were gates and passageways carefully guarded so that none but the religiously pure should go up into the mountain.

At one of these gates—Shirree Gate—pilgrims had to partake of the sacrament before they could continue their journey.

On Mount Serbal and Mount Sinai there were similar passageways, guarded by monkish institutions. Travelers were shown various places of interest. For instance, there was the spot where occurred the incident of the burning of the golden calf, and the place where the Israelites were punished for their disobedience. There was also the spot where the Israelites were punished for their disobedience.

blaze, so well known to Biblical students. Each mountain, of course, had the exact spot where Moses received from the hand of God the Tablets of the Law.

On Mount Sinai there is pointed out today the grove in which Elijah hid after he had slain the priests of Baal. Devout Mahomedans can see, if they have the faith, the depression on Mount Sinai where Mahomed's camel rested its
