THOUSANDS TAKE THE LAST LOOK

Estimated That Fifty-Five Thousand People Viewed the Remains Before the Casket Was Closed—One Thousand People Injured in a Frantic Rush of Those Assembled.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—All that is mortal of William McKinley is speeding towards his last earthly resting place at his home in Canton. The Nation had officially and with state ceremony paid its tribute of respect and love to the memory of the stricken chief magistrate. This was almost the closing act of the awful tragedy which had drenched the civilized world in tears.

Beneath the great white dome of the capitol, funeral services of state were held today over the remains of the dead president. As befitting the occasion and character of the man the services were simple. They were conducted in accordance with the rites of the Methodist church, of which the president was a life-long member, consisting only of two hymns, a song, a prayer, an address and solemn benediction. They were beautiful and solemnly impressive. Gathered around the bier were representatives of every phase of American life, including the president and only surviving ex-president of the United States, together with representatives of almost every nation of the earth.

As the sweet notes of "Lead, Kindly Light" floated through the great rotunda, the assemblage rose to its feet. Hushed heads were bowed and eyes streamed with tears. At the conclusion of the hymn Rev. Dr. Naylor, presiding elder of the Washington circuit, rose to offer prayer. When in conclusion he repeated the Lord's prayer, the great audience joined solemnly with him.

Scarcely had amen been breathed when the liquid tone of that sweetly pleading song, "Some Time We'll Understand," went straight to the heart of every auditor. The solo was sung by Mrs. Thomas C. Noyes, and the beautiful refrain was echoed and re-echoed by a church quartet choir.

The venerable Bishop Andrews, the oldest bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, then took a position at the head of the bier. A gentle breeze through the rotunda stirred the delicate blossoms which lay upon the coffin, and the "Peace That Passeth All Understanding" seemed to rest upon the venerable man's countenance, as he began the eulogy of the life and works of William McKinley. His words were simple, but his words were in every one of them. Upon conclusion of the sermon the audience joined the choir in singing "Nearer, My God, to Thee." Mrs. McKinley did not attend the services at the capitol.

At the conclusion of the funeral services in the rotunda the casket was removed in order that immediate friends of the dead president might be afforded a last glance at the features and that the people who he loved and who loved him might pass the bier for the same purpose. During the six hours in which the body was lying in state it is estimated that 55,000 people viewed the remains.

Just at 1 o'clock a frightful calamity was narrowly averted at the east front of the capitol. When the doors were opened the people rushed almost frantically to the main stair case. The police and military guards were swept aside and a tremendous crush at the foot of the great staircase. Strong men held children and even women high above the heads of the surging crowd to protect them from bodily injuries. Despite the efforts of the police and military and cool-ers heads in the throng approximately 1,000 people were injured.

When the remains of the dead president were finally closed from view of the Washington people, an escort was again formed and conveyed them to a special train which is now carrying the body to Canton.

REMAINS LEAVE WASHINGTON. WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The last chapter of the sad ceremonial, the removal of the remains of the late president to the grave at his old home at Canton, Ohio, began at 8:20 o'clock tonight when the funeral train left here. No less than twenty cars were required for the transportation of the funeral party to Canton.

READY FOR HOMECOMING. Canton's Preparations to Receive Body of Dead President.

CANTON, O., Sept. 17.—Canton is ready for the last homecoming of William McKinley. In other days she has welcomed him with cheers, with waving banners and triumphal marches. Tomorrow she will receive him in silence, with streets hung with solemn black and with wailing notes of dirges.

All day long hundreds of men and women have labored in the task of arranging decorations on public buildings, commercial houses and private residences. At sunset tonight Canton was shrouded in black, and so she will remain until the body of her beloved son has been committed to the vault in West Lawn cemetery.

AGUINALDO TENDERS SYMPATHY. Sends Regrets to Governor Taft on the Death of the President.

MANILA, Sept. 17.—General Funston is in this hospital suffering from appendicitis. Aguinaldo has written to Governor Taft, saying that he regrets, with the rest of the American nation, the great loss suffered by the people of the United States in the death of President McKinley.

General Chaffee will recommend that Lieutenant Hazzard, Third Cavalry, be awarded a medal of honor for capturing McKinley's death, in the Times. One of these Dr. Robert H. M. Dawson, thinks that Czolgosz shot the president with a .32-caliber revolver and that the bullet fired from such close quarters carried a considerable amount of filth into the wound, poisoning the missile's entire track. He further thinks that ordinary microbes were introduced into the wound and that practically a culture cabinet for such microbes was supplied by the injured tissues. The result he thinks was the poisoning of the president's flesh. He doubts that the assassin intentionally poisoned the bullet, as has been suggested in some quarters.

PRESIDENT WAS INSURED.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The amount of insurance carried by President McKinley is placed by the World at $67,000. This includes a policy for $50,000 in the New York Life Insurance Company. He was insured for $7000 in the Mutual Michigan Life Insurance Company and for $10,000 in the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company.

ROYALTY ENTERTAINED.

Ceremonies of the Law Day of Duke and Duchess of Cornwall.

COLLAPSE GREATLY FEARED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Friends of Mrs. McKinley are seriously alarmed about her. It is believed she will be able to go through the services at Canton without too great difficulty, but ultimately a collapse is greatly feared.

CZOLGOSZ ARRAIGNED.

Plea of Not Guilty Entered by His Attorney.

BUFFALO, Sept. 17.—Leon F. Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley, was arraigned before Judge Edward K. Emery in the county court this afternoon under an indictment for murder in the first degree.

Again the stubborn prisoner refused to plead or even to utter a word or sound and Loran L. Lewis, ex-supreme court justice, entered a plea of not guilty. The accused will be tried in the supreme court next Monday morning.

WILL HOLD SERVICES.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 17.—At a meeting of United States citizens this afternoon it was decided to hold memorial services Thursday afternoon, which will be attended by the lieutenant-governor, members of the provincial and city governments, Admiral Bickford and officers of the navy and officers of his majesty's forces stationed here.

WAS IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Czolgosz There During Recent Visit of McKinley.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—The Call, which yesterday printed a story to the effect that Czolgosz, the assassin, had called at the Pacific Grove postoffice for letters addressed to Fred Newman during the president's visit to that town, today asserts that Czolgosz was in the city while McKinley was here. Post-office delivery clerks W. E. Reed and S. J. Beebe stated that a man answering the description of Czolgosz asked for and received letters addressed to Fred Newman at the time of the president's visit. On refreshing his memory, however, Clerk Reed came to the conclusion that the mysterious Newman did not begin to call for letters until after June 12. At this time President McKinley had been gone from San Francisco nearly three weeks. Secret Service Detective Hazen is understood to be trying to secure further evidence of the movements of Newman or Czolgosz.

RUSSIANS ARE SYMPATHETIC.

Genuinely Deplore the Terrible Crime of the Anarchist Czolgosz.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—A dispatch to the Times from Odessa says a feeling of deepest sympathy with Mrs. McKinley and the people of the United States is everywhere manifested. The Listak declares that President McKinley fell like a hero at his post. He was the victim of a coward who, Judas-like, murdered the twice-chosen leader of the people with hand outstretched in friendship.

TO SUPPRESS ANARCHY.

Set of Resolutions Adopted by N. Y. Sons of American Revolution.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—At a meeting of the Board of Management of the State Society of the Sons of American Revolution, resolutions on the death of President McKinley were adopted. In part they read as follows:

"We therefore adjure the civil authorities to take every step consistent with law firmly to repress disloyal and treasonable expressions against the lawful government; and to exterminate those beasts in human form who, abusing the liberty of a free country, not only threaten our security, but hatch here their unnatural seed of wicked plots against the constituted authorities of other nations."

DOCTORS MUCH INTERESTED.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Physicians in this city are still much interested in the report of the post mortem examination made by the doctors who attended President McKinley. Several experts upon gunshot wounds are quoted as to President McKinley's death, in the Times.

One of these Dr. Robert H. M. Dawson, thinks that Czolgosz shot the president with a .32-caliber revolver and that the bullet fired from such close quarters carried a considerable amount of filth into the wound, poisoning the missile's entire track. GERMAN PRESS COMMENT.

Papers Regard Our New President as a Promising Ruler.

BERLIN, Sept. 17.—All the German papers publish the words spoken by Mr. Roosevelt when taking the oath of office as president. Most of them agree that definite opinions regarding his political course are premature.

"Since the battle of San Juan Hill," says the Berliner Neueste Nachrichten, "Mr. Roosevelt has been the most popular man in the United States. So far as Germany is concerned there is no reason to assume that he is any less friendly than was his predecessor. His utterances show that he fully esteems the good relations existing between the United States and Germany. He tried for a time in this country, which his posters incognita to him."

The National Zeitung says: "Firmness and energy are prominent features of the character of President Roosevelt; but a strong sense of duty has always quenched his fervid activity, and it guarantees, with his new responsibilities, the peaceful development of the country."

"He will not abuse the Monroe doctrine. As a politician and historian he has frequently expressed a clear understanding of the American policy."

The Hong Kong press publishes a report that recently Li Hung Chang wrote an insulting letter to Sir Ernest Satow, and as a reproof the British reoccupied the summer palace. The correspondent says Li Hung Chang, who is falling, is surrounded by spies who report his every move to outsiders of the court who are using efforts to displace him.
