GREAT SADNESS REIGNS IN CANTON

Train Bearing Body of Martyred President Arrives in His Native City.

GRIEF STRICKEN POPULACE FORGET ALL ELSE

President Roosevelt, Cabinet Members and Others Scarcely Noticed in Their Deep Grief.

FLORAL TRIBUTES ARRIVE BY THE TON

Thousands of Broken-Hearted People Walking the Streets Without Food or Shelter—Body Taken Home to the Sorrowing Widow—Funeral Services at M. E. Church Will Be Brief.

CANTON, O., Sept. 18.—Tenderly and reverently those who had known William McKinley best, today received his martyred body into their arms. They had forgotten the illustrious career of the statesman in the loss of a great personal friend who had grown dearer to them with the passing of years. They hardly noticed the president of the United States or his cabinet or generals and admirals in their resplendent uniforms. The flag-draped casket which contained the body of their friend and fellow townsman held all their thoughts. The entire population of the little city and thousands from all over Ohio, with the full strength of the national guard of the state, the governor, lieutenant-governor and justice of the supreme court, representing three branches of the state government, were at the station to receive the remains. The whole town was in deep black.

Sad as was the procession which bore the body to the court house, where it lay in state, it could not compare with the infinite sadness of that endless double line of broken-hearted people who streamed steadily through the dimly-lighted corridors of the building from the time the coffin was opened until it was taken home to the sorrowing widow at nightfall. When the body was taken away thousands were still in line. The funeral services will take place tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. at the First M. E. church, of which the martyred president was a member and trustee. They will be brief by the expressed wish of the family. The remains will be placed in the revolving vault at the West Lawn cemetery, awaiting the time when they will be laid in the grave beside the two children who were buried years ago.

The abundance and beauty of the floral tributes which are arriving surpass belief. Flowers are coming literally by the ton. The facilities of the little city of Canton are totally inadequate to care for the thousands who are on the way. The local committee is doing everything in its power to provide food and shelter, but tonight thousands are walking the streets.

President Roosevelt, Commander Corley, Secretary Root and Assistant Secretary Hill are at the residence of Mrs. George D. Hart.

During the afternoon the president walked over to the McKinley residence to inquire for Mrs. McKinley. He was informed she had stood the trip from Washington bravely but in the opinion of the physicians it would not be advisable for her to attempt to attend the services at the church tomorrow.

President Roosevelt and the official party will start on the return journey to Washington at 7 o'clock tomorrow night. Secretary Corley will return to Washington with the president; to gather up the late president's personal effects and will return later to Canton.

CLEVELAND MUCH IMPRESSED. Speaks on Observances Over President's Remains at Washington.

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 18.—Ex-President Grover Cleveland, speaking of the McKinley observances at Washington, said:

"I was very much impressed with the solemnity of the occasion and the deep feeling of all the people who were present and their manifestation of sincere grief."

THEIR RECEPTION ABANDONED. MONTREAL, Sept. 18.—The Duke Drouhot of Cornwall and York journeyed from Quebec to Montreal today and were greeted with another affectionate demonstration from the people of Canada.

The municipal reception planned for tonight, was abandoned on account of the death of President McKinley.

PROCLAMATION ISSUED. OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 18.—A proclamation was issued today by the commandant of Lord Minto, governor-general, appointing tomorrow as a day of fast and general mourning throughout the Dominion on account of the death of President McKinley.

MEXICANS INTERESTED. Mr. Roosevelt Looked Upon as Worthy Successor to Martyred President.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 18.—The Associated Press account of the program of President Roosevelt excited interest here, where there is much speculation in governmental and business circles regarding the policies of the new American president.

The president's declaration in favor of better steamship communication with Mexican Pacific ports and the building of an isthmian canal was well received, for it is believed that the construction of a canal will tend to promote the prosperity and growth of the west coast of this republic. It is believed generally that the relations between the American and Mexican governments will continue to be as friendly under President Roosevelt as under President McKinley, whose death is sincerely lamented by the Mexican people. A remarkable tribute of respect to his memory by the Mexican government marks a new epoch in the relations of the two countries. The celebration of the Mexican independence day was short of some of its leading features out of respect to the American president lying dead.

Universal publishes a leading article by Senor Dublin Montesino in which he alleges that during the Spanish war he had an interview with President Roosevelt, then assistant secretary of the navy, and that Roosevelt said that Mexico must either absorb Central America, or in turn be absorbed by the United States. This article has caused some gossip, but no one here in authority believes that the new American president will do anything to alter the present exceedingly harmonious relations between the two governments.

There is intense interest to know leading traits and habits of the new president, toward whom there is general good will. American residents will hold a memorial service in honor of President McKinley on Thursday which will be attended by the official world here.

One remarkable feature of the comment on Mr. McKinley's assassination is the sympathy shown by the Spanish who had come to respect McKinley as a sincere friend of Spain and magnanimous in the hour of victory.

During the celebration of independence day three Spaniards wearing tall hats went about distributing hand bills with the legend: "Down With the Trusts."

ALLIED THIRD PARTY MEET IN CONFERENCE

Purpose of the Organization Set Forth Before the Convention Adjourns.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 18.—Delegates representing seven political parties of reform, who came here to the "allied third party conference," held their session tonight. It was directed that the new party is to be called the Allied party.

THE PURPOSE OF THE JOINT SESSION WAS TO decide upon the time and place to hold the convention, which will meet to ratify the actions of this conference and perfect permanent organization of the new party. The platform was accepted by the different elements and the demands of the inflexible and referendum and public ownership of public utilities; declares against land speculation and alien ownership; favors "Scientific money," based upon the entire wealth of the nation and not redeemable in any specific commodity, but to be full legal tender for all debts, to be issued by the government; only without the intervention of banks, in sufficient quantities to meet the requirements of commerce; demands just and natural taxation and election of the president, vice-president, federal judges and senators by a direct vote of the people; favors the creation of the department of labor and equitable arbitration; favors the establishment of postal savings banks and favors such constitutional amendments as may be necessary to make the above laws.

The conference this morning selected Jay A. Parker, of Louisville, J. H. Cook, of Carthage, Mo., and Dr. J. E. Chambers, of St. Louis, as a national executive committee. The national convention will be held in Louisville, Ky., April 2, 1902. The conference adjourned until 1:15 a. m.

ARMY OF POTOMAC.

Resolutions on President's Assassination Adopted at Special Meeting.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—The Western Society of the Army of the Potomac at a special meeting adopted resolutions on the death of President McKinley.

After receiving the facts of the assassination, the resolutions declare: "We, the members of the Western Society of the Army of the Potomac, by the hardships we endured, by the sacrifices we made and by the memory of our fallen comrades, demand as citizens that adequate legislation be enacted wherein liberty of speech and right of assembly shall be clearly defined and regulated, and the alien doctrine of anarchy suppressed and all supporters of this political heresy banished from the United States and its territories forever."

EXPRESSED DEEP SYMPATHY.

Representative Fruit Buyers Send Telegram of Condolence to Mrs. McKinley.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Prior to the latest fruit sale on the Erie dock a meeting of the buyers was held for the purpose of taking appropriate action on the death of President McKinley. There were about 300 present, among them being representatives of almost every nationality. E. L. Goodsell presided. He explained the object of the meeting and then read a telegram which it was proposed to send to Mrs. McKinley expressing the trades deep sympathy in her great bereavement. In a very impressive manner the telegram was approved by a rising vote. In part it says:

"As the Savior was killed, betrayed and died, as may our martyred president have been slain by another Judas for some betterment of the present or future race. May you find some solace in this thought. This message is sent by and voices the sentiment of 400 men of almost every creed, religion and race."

A subscription was taken for the purpose of sending a suitable memorial to Mrs. McKinley.

MET BY CROWDS.

Train Bearing Remains of the President Passes Through Altoona.

ALTOONA, Pa., Sept. 18.—The train bearing the remains of President McKinley reached Altoona at 5:40 o'clock this morning. A crowd of 3000 persons were assembled at the station to see the train go through. The Altoona City band rendered: "Nearer My God to Thee," and "Onward Christian Soldier," while the train was in the station yard. Police and railroad officials kept the station clear of people. The train left here at 5:50 after a change of engines and crews.

The two engines which are to haul the heavy train over the Allegheny mountains were draped in black.
