

Crockery Sale Is Booming.

The crowds around our crockery and glassware bargain counters yesterday reminded us of the day before Christmas. We were all so busy selling these articles that we hardly had time to think, and the clerks were glad when the day was over so that they would have a chance to rest.

Are You Sure You Have Not Made a Mistake?

Is what so many of the ladies said when we told them what this or that article was worth.

Didn't See How We Could do it.

They didn't see how we could sell such good ware at such a low price. But we have said the stock must be cleared out before January 1st.

The members of St. John chapter, R. A. M., had a very enjoyable time last evening, the occasion being the confirming of degree on team. After the work in the degree was concluded those present partook of a very enjoyable banquet.

The British ship Cypromene arrived out at Queensdown Saturday, after a long passage of 161 days. Only one other ship of the 1901 grain fleet, the H. Hackfeld, is yet to report. She is making a long trip, but there is no concern for her.

The Royal Neighbors will hold a social on Friday evening, Nov. 15, at Page hall, to which all their friends are invited. Refreshments will be served and a good program arranged for the occasion. A fancy pillow and quilt will be given away.

The crew of the barkentine Echo was paid off yesterday by C. H. Callender, of the Columbia mill, who distributed $125.00 among the men. The Echo will load lumber at the Columbia mill for South Africa direct. She will take away a cargo of about 300,000 feet.

The "Hunting for Hawks" company closed its engagement in this city last evening. The house was a poor one, but the show was equally as good as on the previous evening. Miss Conway is a vocalist of rare ability and her solos were heartily applauded on both evenings.

Mayor Bergman yesterday signed the new pound ordinance and the measure is now law. The dogcatcher was very indignant when this measure was passed by the council, and said he would resign, but his resignation has not been handed in. Should he carry out his threat, the city machinery will be seriously crippled.

Three more grain carriers cleared yesterday for the United Kingdom, carrying 236,338 bushels of wheat, valued at $466,692. The vessels and their cargoes follow: Wappasus—67,518 bushels of wheat, worth $129,560; Leyland Bros., 128,299 bushels of wheat, worth $27,596. The Leyland Bros. was unable to come down the Portland channel fully laden and 487 bushels, valued at $2786, were lightered down the river and loaded here.

The condition of the weather made it impossible for any of the grain fleet to leave port yesterday, and the "in port" fleet is rapidly increasing, with expiration of the lay days of those vessels which have been loaded at Portland. There were but two movements yesterday, the Neola arrived down and the British ship Travancore having up. With moderation of the weather, there will be an exodus of grain ships from the river that will keep the bar tugs busy.

The cigar dealers of Portland have evidently determined to test the nickel-in-the-slot machine law. Rather unexpectedly Monday night the machines were placed back on the counters and developments are expected. Ever since the authorities ordered machines off counters the cigar men have complained bitterly and it is asserted that their business has fallen off fully 50 per cent. The impression prevails that machines will not be tolerated in Portland.

A peculiar street-car accident occurred in Portland Monday night. Car No. 11, of the Portland Railway Company, was proceeding along Thirteenth street when the motorman was struck in the head with a stone. The blow rendered him unconscious and he fell from the platform. The car ran along its own tracks for a short distance and then jumped onto the City & Barbours tracks. It finally left the rails and brought up in a bunch of trees. No one was killed.

It was erroneously stated in the Astorian yesterday that the Marshal Davout had dragged her anchor in the lower harbor and drifted out of the channel. The vessel was anchored off Smith Point, where the water is shallow. Monday night's tide went out and left her in the mud, but when the tide came up yesterday morning the vessel was removed a short distance further down the river and is now in deep water. Her anchors held securely during the blow. The report that the ship had dragged was brought up from the lower harbor, but investigation showed that it was erroneous.

First-class upright piano (Howard), in good condition, must be sold at once. Call at 223 13th. DAN BARBER.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Nathan Schlusser will occur in Portland this afternoon. The body will be taken from the family residence to the morning train and the burial will take place in the Jewish cemetery in the metropolis. A large number of friends of the family from this city will attend the funeral. The news of Mrs. Schlusser's death was a sad shock to her many friends. There was no warning of the sad, death being very sudden, the result of heart failure. Mr. Schlusser is heart-broken over the loss of his wife and has the sympathy of the entire community in his bereavement. Mrs. Schlusser was a native of Virginia City, Nev., and 36 years of age.

The Long Beach bath house, owned by Canaris & Ferrell, was destroyed by fire Monday morning about 1 o'clock, and also Mr. Canaris' residence, which adjoins the bath house. The origin of the fire is unknown. It is charged to incendiarism or spontaneous combustion. About 2:30 o'clock fire was discovered to be issuing from the northeast side of the building, and a general alarm was given. Neighbors came to the rescue, but they could do nothing. Both buildings were totally destroyed and also the furniture and household goods of Mr. Canaris. The buildings were unoccupied at the time, Mr. Canaris being in Southern California, and Mr. Ferrell is in Portland. It is said that the property has some insurance, but the amount cannot be ascertained. The bath house and residence together cost nearly $10,000. Nothing was saved.

An afternoon publication, which seems very much interested in the welfare of the citizens' ticket, printed a fake interview in which it is asserted that the secretary of the citizens' committee and three or four mysterious persons, comprising a junta, are making an effort to name candidates. The publication in this paper of the probable nominees is made the basis for half a column of the veriest rot, quite in keeping with previous efforts on the part of the overworked journalistic Samson. The Astorian has sought only to print news and there is little objection that the candidates with the exception of councilman from the First ward, will be about as published some days ago in these columns. There may be forty "juntas" in the citizens party, but none of them has had anything to do with political forecasts made in this paper. As far as the secretary of the citizens committee is concerned, he can announce positively that the journalistic Samson is not the press agent of the party, and that support from the paper on which he is employed is not expected by the citizens. Printing the news and naming candidates are two different things—a fact which seems utterly beyond the overworked local editor, who, not satisfied with performing the duties of three men, now seeks to conduct a political campaign.
