The American Can Company has bought out the Laybald Tinware Company, Seattle, Wash. This makes 140 plants now owned by the American Can Company in this country. It has factories on the Pacific Coast at Seattle, Fairhaven, Astoria, Los Angeles, and San Francisco—The Trade.

The Columbia River Packers' Association yesterday shipped 1800 cases of Alaska salmon to the East. The consignment was worth nearly $10,000. The railroad company is handling lots of salmon at present, daily shipments over that line, running from 1500 to 2000 cases. All the salmon is for the Eastern markets.

H. M. Bradford yesterday received telegraphic news of the death, at Stockton, of his father, Judge J. C. Swinnerton, one of the most prominent Republicans in California. Deceased was a brilliant man and had held several offices. Among the children who survive him is Artist Swinnerton, whose reputation is national.

Little Pauline Houslow, aged 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Houslow, died at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Some time ago the child was attacked with typhoid fever, spinal meningitis following. The little one suffered greatly during her illness and gradually sank, the end coming yesterday. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed, but it will doubtless be held on Saturday.

There was no excitement at the Republican primaries yesterday and the election of delegates to the city convention was a formality that was never before so quietly observed. The convention will be held on November 21, at the courthouse. As yet candidates for office are still remaining in the background, so far as Republican aspirants are concerned, and the probable nominees have not been made public.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Severis will be held this afternoon, from the family residence at 518 Exchange street, commencing at 1 o'clock. Services will be held at the house by the Rev. W. Seymour Short, of Grace church, and at 1:30 the cortege will move for Fishers' dock. The steamer Mayflower will convey the remains to Greenwood, leaving at 2 o'clock. Friends of the family are invited to attend the funeral.

The British ship Estimer, Captain Johnson, arrived yesterday from Rio de Janeiro, in ballast. The Estimer neglected to bring a bill of health and was ordered to quarantine by Dr. Earl. The department at Washington has been wired for instructions as to whether or not the ballast shall be fumigated. It is understood there is no disease aboard the vessel, which will be lined, no doubt, for violating the regulations of the marine hospital service.

The Jeffries-Bullfinch fight occurs tonight at San Francisco. Bulletin of the mill will be received at Will Madison's Commercial street cigar store. Lately there is much interest in the event, though little money has been wagered on the result. The sympathy of sporting men is with Bullfinch, who is going against a hard proposition. However, he is said to be far more proficient than the Jeffries contingent thinks, and victory for the Akron giant has been frequently predicted. A fast and furious contest is looked for.

Rudolph Waldherr, an Alderbrook lot, has been charged with the malicious destruction of property, and will be prosecuted by the Western Union. The lot is about 17 years of age, and with other boys has been amusing himself by shooting away the insulations on telegraph poles. The company has been constantly annoyed by this practice and it has determined to put a stop to it. Other boys in different parts of the city have been similarly misbehaving themselves, but their depredations have continued as long as the police propose to permit it. Hereafter any boy found violating the law will be severely punished, regardless of consideration for his family.

The police picked up a queer "mob" Wednesday evening. When the night train arrived Officer Thompson found a man on top of a freight car and took him into custody. He was brought to the station to be booked as a lodger for the night, but declined with thanks the proffered assistance, saying he was able to care for himself. As evidence of this he displayed a pocket book containing three 100 gold pieces and other money. He told the officer that he had boarded the train at Seaside and that he was going through to San Francisco on the Elder. He failed to make connections yesterday morning and remained in the city. He is one of a great many travelers who decline to pay railroad fare.

The stockholders of the Alaska Fishermen's Packing Company will hold a special meeting at 2 this afternoon, when the matter of sale to the Onffroy combine will be again taken up. Whether or not the committee in charge of the matter has received any further offers from the Onffroy people was not learned yesterday, though a report was current to the effect that the original proposal had been modified. Sentiment among the stockholders has undergone some change of late, and there is now a strong feeling that the company should not be sold. Those sharing this view are anxious that Frank Lindstrom shall be sent North as general superintendent of the cannery, in which event, they say, it will be better to hold the plant than to sell. The entire matter will be thoroughly discussed this afternoon and decided one way or the other.

In discussing the probability of an adjustment of rates by the Astoria-Portland transportation companies yesterday, the Astorian expressed doubt on account of the combination at the time of the settlement of the rate war. There is nothing binding in the agreement, however, it having been specified that any company could withdraw from the combination by giving 30 days' notice of its intention. There was some talk of a combination of businessmen that would give all its freight to the White Collar line on condition of a reduction, but now that settlement of the difference with the Can company is assured, this action is not likely. Of the river routes, the White Collar line has always been Astoria's best friend. It purchases all its supplies in this city and its president, L. B. Seely, is notoriously pro-Astoria. It is said that the White Collar line has lost money ever since the old Telephone was on the run, and that the loss sustained by it during the rate war was fully $15,000. Whether or not this is true could not be determined, as the officers would not discuss the business affairs of the company. As a matter of sentiment, the White Collar line is certainly entitled to the lion's share of Astoria business, though, be it said to the everlasting shame of this city, almost as much business goes to the Kamm line as to the White Collar company. Not only has the last-named line helped the city in the matter of rates, but it has aided and aided thousands of people in the old days when Astoria was trying to interest railroad promoters, placing its steamers at the convenience of capitalists and others. It has rendered the best service ever given on the lower river, but its efforts seem to be only partially appreciated.

The undersigned hereby places his name before the public as a candidate for the office of street superintendent, to be filled at the election December 11, 1901, and respectfully asks the support of the public.
