

JUST COFFEE

We have been wanting to tell you more about our coffee for a long time. We want your coffee trade, and, of course, we want your other trade, too, but now we want to talk just coffee.

The Word Coffee

Covers a multitude of sins, but we haven't any space to tell you about two coffee. We have had them but that was before we knew so much about coffee as we do now. We're spending our time on the best kinds, and because we say they are the best kinds that does not mean they are the highest priced. Not much! We have coffee at all prices and they are the best that can be had for the price asked.

Dependable Coffee

That's our kind, every time. You don't need to wonder whether it will be to your liking; you can be certain of it, we guarantee it.

Our CREAM Mocha and Java

A mixture of the finest Java and Mocha obtainable, is added, not only for its pleasant odor, but liked because it has the real coffee taste.

Arrangements for the funeral of the late Charles McDonald have not yet been made. Mrs. Slater of Seattle, sister of the deceased, arrived in the city last evening. It is expected the funeral will occur on Thursday afternoon or Friday.

Mrs. N. A. Merritt, recently recovered from a spell of sickness at her home in Astoria, came over to visit Mrs. H. A. Hawkins, of Ilwaco, last week hoping to recuperate, but she took a slight relapse last Sunday and returned home Monday.—Ilwaco Journal.

The remains of James McElbreen, who died at Clatsop, Astoria, last Saturday night, were shipped through Ilwaco Monday for Sundown where they will be taken in charge of by his son at that place for interment. The deceased was 57 years old and an old pioneer of the Pacific coast. He was also a member of the G. A. R. post at McMinville, Oregon.—Ilwaco Journal.

The steamer Bailey Gatzert, which left last night at 7 o'clock for Portland, was compelled to return to Astoria on account of the severity of the gale. While attempting to round Tongue Point, the steamer's windows were destroyed by the wind and all the lights in one of the cabins blown out. Rather than take a chance of serious damage to the steamer, Captain Craig decided to return to Astoria.

Remember the fair and supper which the ladies of Grace church are to hold today and tomorrow. Decorations at the fair will be elaborate and a quantity of pretty and useful articles for sale. Supper begins at 5 o'clock and will be served for the sum of 25c in the building next to Danziger's store. Sale of articles begins at 7 o'clock. In the building adjoining Wells, Fargo office, on Bond street. The public are cordially invited.

About twenty persons, registered yesterday and the total number is now close to the 100 mark. Voters are warned that the books will be closed on next Monday evening. The office of Auditor Nelson will be open this evening, tomorrow and Friday night for the convenience of voters who are unable to register during the day. All persons entitled to vote are urged to register, as a good showing is desirable. Yesterday the auditor commenced the work of preparing election supplies.

News was received last evening that the British ship Nelson, which departed a few days ago for the United Kingdom, had shifted her lumber cargo off the river. She was reported to have a very bad list. The bar tug Tatosoh picked her up last evening and at 4 o'clock started off shore with her. The Wallula was also outside, but returned to port. The Tatosoh will doubtless keep going to the west with her tow until the weather moderates. It is expected she will be able to care for the vessel.

J. B. Yeon has bought J. H. Peterson's interest in the Star Logging Co. The purchase includes the plant, logging road, engines, donkeys and all the machinery in Columbia county, together with all timber and lands owned by the Star Logging Company. The price was $60,000. Mr. Yeon has also filed timber deeds to the following tracts: Joseph Hackenberger, timber, price $500; Joseph Hendrickson, timber, price $1500; Mrs. Leonora Lehman, timber, price $1500. Mr. Yeon is making his headquarters at Rainier.

Owing to the gale yesterday, the tug Yostberg was unable to leave out in search of the lumber barge Wheeler. The southwester came up at an early hour and there were no departures. If, as the government officials believe, the Wheeler is off the Columbia river, she is experiencing the full force of the gale. Opinion is general, however, that she did not survive the gale of last Wednesday night. Yesterday afternoon Collector of Customs Fox received the following dispatch from H. A. Taylor, assistant secretary of the treasury: "The steamer Manning, now at Tacoma, has been ordered to go in search of the schooner barge Wheeler." It is expected the Manning will leave out at once.

A special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was called for last night to consider the matter of rebuilding the Clatsop mill, and listening to the proposal which would be submitted by Mr. C. A. Andrews, one of the promoters. The storm kept many of the members at home, and while there was a quorum present, it was deemed advisable to adjourn until 2 o'clock this afternoon, when another meeting will be held. The matter is one of the utmost importance to the city and county, and it is urged that representative citizens be in attendance. Mr. Andrews has arrived in the city and is quartered at the Occident. He thinks Astoria has a great future and that the lumber business will form an important feature if the people make proper effort.

Yesterday's gale made street navigation extremely difficult, especially for women who with feminine carelessness, persisted in pointing umbrellas the wrong way and afforded much amusement for storm-equipped men. The tide had the effect of cleaning up the custom house yard, stripping the shade trees of their fading foliage and carrying it from the lawn. The river was churned up throughout the day and presented the appearance of a broad sea. Signboards and windows suffered greatly and scarcely a business house escaped damage. Last evening the big glass sign in front of an Eleventh street rooming house was carried away and came near being blown through the big plate glass window at the office. During the evening the postal telegraph line went down, though the Western Union managed to maintain connection with the outside world. The average velocity of the wind was only 25 miles an hour though the gusts often reached a velocity of 20 miles or more. It was a severe storm, and the streets were almost deserted last night.

A brilliant wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jacobson, at Long Beach, Wednesday, November 27, 1901. It was the event of the marriage of their daughter Miss Mary Hilda, and Mr. Antonio Lundquist, of Astoria. The ceremony was performed by Rev. McKenzie of Ilwaco, and Miss Emma Jacobson acted as bride's maid, while Mr. Norberg acted as best man. Mr. English, of Long Beach, played the wedding march. The bride was beautifully dressed in white chiffon trimmed with dainty lace and the groom was elegantly attired for the occasion.

After the ceremony was over, which took place at noon, a splendid dinner was served. Following were among the invited guests: Rev. and Mrs. McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. Woodgate, Mr. and Mrs. Allenblad, Dr. and Mrs. Connell, Mr. and Mrs. English, Miss L. English, Will English, Chas. English, Miss Hilda Nelson, Eva Murphy, Marie Dye and Mrs. Plunkett.

The newly wedded couple will live at Astoria and their residence will be at 211 Exchange street.—Ilwaco Journal.

A well-dressed man, aged about 45 years, had a narrow escape from drowning at an early hour yesterday morning, and but for the bravery of Thomas E. Parker, clerk at the Parker House, would have perished. The man was a stranger in the city, and about 5 o'clock walked off the dock at the foot of Ninth street. The steamer Alliance is lying at the pier and one of her passengers notified Mr. Parker of the predicament of the stranger. The man had been in the water nearly half an hour and was so chilled that he was unable to grasp a life preserver which was thrown to him. Then Mr. Parker plunged into the river and swam under the dock, where the man was clinging to a pile. He was almost exhausted when Mr. Parker reached him. A line was fastened around his body and he was hauled onto the wharf, more dead than alive. It was some time before he could walk. He gave his name as "John Smith," presumably being anxious to conceal his identity. The life preserver thrown to the man was not recovered from the water, and the finder will confer a favor by leaving it at the Parker House.

At last night's meeting of the water commissioners a 25-cent reduction was made in the family and store water rates. This reduction will take effect January 1. All other rates will stand. The report of the superintendent showed that the complaint of hillside residents that the water was impure resulted from defective pipes, which had become rusted. The pipes were those leading from the mains to residences and the fault rested with the consumers and not the commission. The report concluded: "Owing to the heavy rains, there has been a big freshet in Bear creek and it has been necessary to shut off the water several times to keep the screens clear; but there has been no damage reported at the headworks, nor to the conduit or at the powerhouse grounds." The amount collected for rates during the past month was $237.41, and the balance now in the treasury is now $15,492.22. Last night an appropriation of $5000 was made to meet the interest account. Claims were allowed as follows: Astorian, H. News, $1; Budget, $1; Fisher Bros., 25 cents; Pacific Iron Works, $1; Sherman Transfer Company, $2; Crane & Co., $28.64; Vancouver Transportation Company, 75 cents; O. R. & N. Co., 50 cents. The payroll for November amounted to $549.

WHAT WE ARE COMING TO. (By Edward Vance Cooke.) I came to a mill by the riverside A half mile long and nearly as wide, With a forest of stacks and an army of men Tolling at furnace and shovel and pen. "What a most magnificent plant," I cried, And a man with a smudge on his face replied: "It's Morgan's."

I entered a train and rode all day On a regal couch and a right of way Which reached its arms all over the land In a system too large to understand. "A splendid property this," I cried, And a man with a plate on his hat replied, "It's Morgan's."

I sailed on a great ship, trim and true, From Penion to keel and cabin to crew. And the ship was one of a monster fleet; A first-class navy could scarce complete. "What a beautiful craft she is," I cried, And a man with akimbo legs replied, "It's Morgan's."

I dwelt in a nation filled with pride; Her people were many, — lands are wide; Her record in war and science and art Proved greatness of music, mind and heart. "What a grand old country it is!" I cried, And a man with his chest in the air replied, "It's Morgan's."

I went to heaven. The Jasper walls Towered high and wide and the golden halls Shone bright beyond; but a strange new mark Was over the gate, viz: "Private Park." "Why, what is the meaning of this," I cried, And a Saint with a dervish on replied, "It's Morgan's."

I went to the only place left. I'll take A chance in the boat on the brimstone lake, Or perhaps I may be allowed to sit On the arid floor of the bottomless pit. But a leering lout with horns on his face Cried out, as he forked me off the place, "It's Morgan's."

A POOR MILLIONAIRE. Lately starved in London because he could not digest his food. Early use of Dr. King's New Life Pills would have saved him. They strengthen the stomach, aid digestion, promote assimilation, improve appetite. Price 25c. Money back if not satisfied. Sold by Frank Hart, Druggist.

IN 1859 the area of the unincorporated domain occupied by the Indians aggregated 115,000,000 acres; today it aggregates 85,000,000 acres, which is about as much land as we have in the states of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

STEEPED INTO LIVE COALS. "When a child I burned my foot frightfully," writes W. H. Eads, of Jonesville, Va., "which caused horrible leg sores for 30 years, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured me after everything else failed." Infallible for Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Sores, Bruises and Piles. Sold by Hart's Druggist; 25c.

SEVEN YEARS IN BED. "Will wonders ever cease?" inquired the friends of Mrs. L. Pease, of Lawrence, Kan. They knew she had been unable to leave her bed in seven years on account of kidney and liver trouble, nervous prostration and general debility; but "Three bottles of Electric Bitters enabled me to walk," she writes, "and in three months I felt like a new person." Women suffering from Headache, Backache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Melancholy, Painful and Dirty Spots will find it a priceless blessing. Try it. Satisfaction is guaranteed. Only 25c. Hart's Druggist.

Two rather embarrassing gifts have just been brought from Abyssinia for King Edward VII by British officers. From Emperor Menelik comes a tame zebra and from the commander of the Abyssinian army a pet lion cub.
