meaning is an open book. No cause is and corrupt, as not to find ready and impassioned championship in the senate of the United States. It is a truth that needs occassional demonstration, and for this cause, in connection with the unspeakable Noyes, has Mr. Mc-Cumber been raised up.

The senate of the United States is the most dignified deliberative body in world-at its own valuation, and at that only. In fact, it is the cess-American politics. It's as much as his reputation is worth. Such is its character that the worst is at once believed of the man tion with it. In many states the extremity has been reached of choosing unworthy aspirants. Old ideals have to be abandoned and new ones set up. It has tied the nation's hands with Cuba, gon. fomented insurrection in the Philippines, prostituted the army with its traffic in appointments, and made its list of employes an instrument of support of male and female stipendiaries of its members.

If the senate of the United States could be wiped out of existence tomorrow, the public conscience would be quickened and the millennium brought immeasurably nearer. Of greater gain than the relief of national legislation would be the redemption of politics in every state from the devastating moral and material influences of senatorial

Since the inception of the American epublic its senate has been its safetymive. Other legislative bodies have been carried away on the crest of ome ses of popular sentiment, but at all times the senate has dignifiedly curbed the fingoist and the enthusiast. It is pre-eminently a body of gentlemen, compared to which the lower house of congress is a gathering of cowboys.
